Where Are the Passengers?
If Old, Please Read.
The Lion Learned Little.
Suggestion for Mr. Boeing.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 28.

AT NOON today officials of the Santa Fe road, gathered in convention, were told by their president, Mr. Storey, who invited prominent citizens to luncheon at El Cortez Hotel, that something is happening to railroad passenger business in the United States.

In 1922 the Santa Fe carried fifteen million passengers. In 1928, the number had dropped to four million, two hundred thousand.

THAT means a good deal to railroads, to owners of railroad stocks, and to the automobile industry.

Automobiles, privately owned, and public automobile bus lines, have made the change.

And Mr. Storey's figures will change again, soon, when fully developed air travel takes 90 per cent of long distance travel from railroad and motor bus lines.

DO NOT hurry to sell your Santa Fe or other sound railroad stock, however. Railroading now is really railroading, not stock jobbing. And better methods, bigger locomotives, longer trains, better yards and a thousand improvements, including especially loyal co-operation by railroad union workers, have more than made up for the drop in passenger travel. Freight is the thing now, and that depends on prosperity.

YEARS ago, when the late Mr. Ripley was president of the Santa Fe, Mr. Storey, then the road's chief engineer, built the Santa Fe line through the Texas Panhandle, and told Mr. Ripley that it was a good line. Some thought it would not pay. Now it is the chief freight route, and the most profitable part of the Santa Fe's long trackage.

MEN and women past 60, read this, please.

Dr. Pritchett, head of the Carnegie Foundation and a Santa Fe director, was at the railroad luncheon and told this:

Some years ago, he lunched at the New Willard in Washington with John Cadwallader, a rich man, and Dr. Weir Mitchell, famous physician. The weather was cold, and Dr. Mitchell said to Cadwallader, in his gruff way:

"Cadwallader, how can you be such a fool as to stay in this climate? You are rich, can do what you like. Go to Florida, or Cuba, or California. You are 75 years old and have a cold. Some day, about January, one of your colds will develop into grip, the grip will change into pneumonia and you will change to a better world."

CADWALLADER replied:

"I am only 75. You are 85. Why do you stay here?"

Weir Mitchell replied:

"I am so old, the microbes can no longer affect me."

NOW comes the moral: In the following January, Cadwallader and Mitchell both developed bad colds and grip and in February both died of pneumonia, in the same week.

THOSE that can should come out here, or go to Florida, or the Gulf Coast, or down across the water to Free Cuba, and let sunshine lengthen life.

It is only fair to add that it would be hard to find any place better than this California county of San Diego, although Dr. Pritchett, who lives at Santa Barbara, says that is the best place. More than a million not only say, but yell, that Los Angeles is the best place.

And your San Franciscan, thoroughly disdainful, says there is no place but Northern California.

THE best plan is to see all of the country. Go by boat through the Panama Canal, come back by rail. Or overhaul your little engine, put the family in the car, and start. Good roads, good hotels, good automobile camps everywhere, from ocean to ocean, from Canada to Mexico. See Georgia, Florida, Texas, with all of the world's climates which is a whole nation in itself.

See Louisiana, Mississippi, and when you get to New Orleans, ask Col. Ewing to show you around.

Everywhere there is opportunity, to learn and to gain, especially for him who takes something with him. Take money with you, to get more money. Take information, that you may bring back more information.

THE Mayor of Los Angeles, born booster, will help any Los Angeles enterprise. He arranged to welcome home a famous performing lion, belonging to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture organization.

The lion had been everywhere, on a tour of the world lasting seven years.

But the mayor noticed that, on his return, the lion seemed to know no more than when he started. He had taken no information with him, only a taste for meat, as some Americans, on their travels abroad, take only a taste for alcohol.

Read, study your country, its history and its products. Then see it, East, West, North, South and in the middle.

You will be surprised.

IN half an hour Mr. Bowlus, who has just finished building Lindbergh's new glider, will start three gliders through the

WIFE, JURORS HEAR DAGUE DENIAL

Straightforward Story Told In Hope for Clemency; Irene as Shield Ignored

By AL GOUGH
Staff Correspondent.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 28.—While his deserted wife sat in the courtroom with head bowed, W. Glenn Dague, on the witness stand, today told of the slaying of Corp. Brady Paul and his subsequent flight with his sweetheart, Irene Schroeder.

Dague, who stands charged with the murder of Paul, made no attempt to hide behind the skirts of the blonde waitress who has been condemned to die in the electric chair for the same crime.

STRAIGHTFORWARD STORY

He told a straightforward story, apparently in the hope of obtaining clemency. He denied shooting Paul or knowing who did. The shot, he said, appeared to come from the back of the car in which he, Irene and Tom Crawford were fleeing from a Butler store holdup.

Dague admitted possessing a .38 caliber revolver. The commonwealth contends Paul was killed by a bullet of that caliber. Irene testified her gun was a .32.

ONLY DEFENSE WITNESS

Dague's story was his only defense.

"We are going to put our client on the stand and put his story before you as our case," Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, for the defense, told the jury. "I am sure you will understand our case when you have heard his story."

The commonwealth had closed its case at noon.

While Dague was testifying, Mrs. Theresa Dague sat with her handkerchief to her eyes, her two children at her side.

Special Prosecutor Charles J. Margiotti began his cross-examination.

Senate Recesses Until Next Week

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP.)—After a meeting of five minutes, the Senate recessed again today until Tuesday, when it will begin consideration of Muscle Shoals legislation.

Only routine business was transacted in the brief meeting today. Before beginning work Tuesday on Muscle Shoals, leaders will seek adoption of the conference report on the Dowell bill increasing the appropriations for federal roads from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 for each of the next three years.

New Search Starts For Lost Mail Flier

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 28.—(INS.)—A new search for Maurice Graham, lost Western Air Express mail pilot, was under way today in the mountains and canyons west of Pioche, Nev.

The search will be made in the vicinity of Hiko, Nev., in country that has hitherto been avoided in the search for the missing airman because of deep snow which has made the territory impassable. Graham vanished January 11.

SLAPS MAN, VANISHES

LORENE A. BRACKEN

Miss Bracken, 20, model and art student reported by her father, Horace S. Bracken, 1702 Manor street, McKeesport, to have disappeared in downtown Pittsburgh. Last week she slapped a man annoying her in the street and her father connects the incidents.

COLD TO LINGER SEVERAL DAYS

With the temperature dipping below the freezing mark during the night, the cold wave gripping the Pittsburgh district today gave indications of lingering for several days.

Meantime, the toll of automobile and street accidents continued to mount as a result of the treacherous condition of thoroughfares and sidewalks.

The Automobile Club of Pittsburgh announced that the Lincoln highway from Lima O., west, and the National highway from Indianapolis, Northern Ohio and Northwestern Pennsylvania roads are covered with ice.

Catherine Donovan, 55, of Shetland avenue, slipped while boarding a street car yesterday and was struck by an automobile. She was given treatment at a physician's office. Miss Edna Schade, of Biltmore avenue, Dormont, suffered bruises when she fell while boarding a street car at Dormont Junction. She was taken to the Allegheny General Hospital.

CLAIMS SUCCESS FOR MERGER

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 28.—(AP.)—Proxies in the hands of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company to be voted in favor of its proposed merger with Bethlehem Steel Corporation, April 8, are sufficient to assure success of the proposal, James A. Campbell, chairman of the Sheet and Tube board, announced today.

Mr. Campbell's statement followed claims made yesterday by Cyrus S. Eaton, chief of the opposition to the merger, that proponents had only 510,000 of the 790,000 shares they need to approve the deal, while opponents hold 412,000 shares, or more than enough to block it.

Campbell's statement said:

"Irresponsible character of many statements which have been made in opposition to the merger of Bethlehem and Sheet and Tube is again manifest in the statement of the specific number of shares the opposition claims to be able to vote.

"It is absolutely foolish for anyone to make claims as to the specific number of votes for the reason that proxies can be revoked up to the time of the meeting. All we care to say is, and we say it with full responsibility, that proxies already in our hands leave no doubt in my mind that the merger will be approved."

"Peaches" Browning Asks for Guardian

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS)—Edward W. "Daddy" Browning today refused to comment on the application filed yesterday by his wife, Frances "Peaches" Browning, for a guardianship order. She would have her mother, Mrs. Caroline Heenan, appointed, because Frances herself will not be 20 until next June, the application said.

GIRL MODEL VANISHES, SOUGHT

Art Student Disappears Downtown on Her Way To Movie, Father Reports

Lorene A. Bracken, 20, fashion model and art student, is mysteriously missing, her father, Horace S. Bracken, of 1702 Manor street, McKeesport, notified the Pittsburgh Missing Persons Bureau today.

Last week she slapped a man who followed her from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad station, McKeesport.

Her father told police he believes this incident may have had connection with her disappearance.

She left a male escort in a downtown drug store late Wednesday to attend a movie, and has not been seen since, her father said.

He described her as an attractive brunet, and graduate of the Johnstown (Pa.) High School, class of 1925.

The father informed police his daughter was employed as a model at Kaufmann's, and attended the Pittsburgh Art School, Sixth avenue.

Irish Horse Wins Grand National

AINTREE, March 28.—(AP.)—Shaun Goilin, the Irish-owned jumper, today won the Grand National Steeplechase over the Aintree course.

William Mason's Melleray's Belle ran second with John H. Whitney's American owned Sir Lindsay third. The winner carried the silks of W. H. Midwood. Forty-one ran.

MELLON HORSE SETS PACE

An American-owned horse held the spotlight in the early stages of the race when Glangesia, owned by Richard K. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, set the pace at the end of the first lap. Glangesia finished fourth.

Last year's field was 66 as compared with this year's 41 and there was less crowding than usual as the horses sailed over the fences.

Shaun Goilin, sire unknown, from Goldenway, went to the post as one of the lukewarm favorites. Shaun Goilin was quoted at 100 to 8 against in the betting, while

Duncan Girls Sued By Booking Agent

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 28.—(INS.)—Vivian and Rosetta Duncan, stage and screen comediennes, and Vivienne Segal, musical comedy star, today were defendants in two suits brought by William Morris, a booking agent.

The suit against the Duncan girls was for $9,275 commission which the plaintiff charges is due him. In the action against Miss Segal, Morris asks $2,625 as his share of a contract he obtained for her in the musical production, "Three Musketeers," presented by Florenz Ziegfeld in 1928.

COME HOME!

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS,
United States Secretary of the Navy and member of the American Delegation at the London Naval Conference:

Why should not the American delegation board an American battleship and come home, and stay home to attend to American business here in the United States?

We have had three naval conferences with foreign nations in the past eight years and all of them have been disastrous to our power and prestige and fraught with danger to our peace and safety.

At the Washington naval conference of 1922 we agreed to sink ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF SHIPS in return for the destruction of BRITISH AND JAPANESE BLUEPRINTS.

At a naval conference at Geneva, home of the League of Nations, in 1927, Great Britain graciously agreed to let us have parity in cruisers IF WE WOULD BUILD THEM OF THE SIZE AND TYPE WHICH WERE GOOD FOR HER AND NOT GOOD FOR US.

In this year of grace 1930 your delegation went to the London naval conference and found that the European powers would unite in an agreement to disarm down to our level only if the United States would consent to a security pact under which THEIR security would be guaranteed at the expense of OUR safety and OUR independence.

So far, the American public has been denied the history of the contest in your delegation that ended in its finally refusing to swallow the bait of "security pact."

We believe, though, that an honorable part in its rejection was played by you, Mr. Secretary.

You are the great-great-grandson of John Adams, Washington's Vice President and later the second President of this country.

You are, Sir, the great-grandson of John Quincy Adams, Monroe's secretary of state in the year of the Monroe Doctrine and later sixth President of the United States.

If ever there were two uncompromising enemies of European entanglements, it was those two Americans.

A hundred years ago an attempt entirely similar to today's attempt was made by European powers to embroil us in the "holy alliance," the League of Nations of 1815.

THE ATTEMPT WAS THWARTED BY JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

Czar Alexander and William Pitt headed this 1815 alliance, formed to retain the tottering Bourbons on the throne of France and protect the loot of the allies' conquests in the Napoleonic wars.

Exactly like the League of Nations formed in 1920.

Then, as now, America was to be SEDUCED into the alliance.

A secret memorandum of Russia and France to representatives of the allied powers meeting at Aix-La-Chapelle read:

"IT IS BELIEVED THAT THE PLENIPOTENTIARIES OF THE FIVE POWERS AT WASHINGTON SHOULD TAKE THE STEPS NECESSARY TO PERSUADE PUBLIC OPINION IN THE UNITED STATES, AS WELL AS THE EXECUTIVE.

"VERBAL COMMUNICATION WOULD BE PREFERABLE TO WRITTEN NOTES, IN ORDER TO AVOID GIVING AMMUNITION TO THE OPPONENTS, WHO WOULD SEIZE UPON THE IDEA OF FOREIGN INFLUENCE AS CONTRARY TO AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS.

"THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES COULD BE TOLD THAT THEY THEMSELVES ARE AN EUROPEAN PEOPLE, CHRISTIANS, AND THEREFORE, LIKE EUROPE, INTERESTED IN QUESTIONS OF A GENERAL NATURE."

How modern and like 1930 it sounds!

Then, as now, the foreign nations were aided by soft-hearted, soft-headed pacifists in America.

On April 9, 1816, the Massachusetts Peace Society wrote a fervid letter to the Czar Alexander, "Your Imperial Majesty," declaring its purpose was "TO DISSEMINATE THE VERY PRINCIPLES AVOWED IN THE WONDERFUL ALLIANCE."

How like the cable of March 3 from America, addressed to your delegation, framed by members of the League of Nations Association, and signed by 1,200 American pacifists, begging your delegation to join European powers in a "consultation pact."

Well, a hundred years ago John Quincy Adams BLOCKED THE PLOT OF THE HOLY ALLIANCE.

He instructed Mr. Middleton, American ambassador to Russia, to warn them to let us alone and say:

"THE POLITICAL SYSTEM OF THE UNITED STATES IS ESSENTIALLY EXTRA-EUROPEAN.

"TO STAND IN FIRM AND CAUTIOUS INDEPENDENCE OF ALL ENTANGLEMENTS IN THE EUROPEAN SYSTEM HAS BEEN A CARDINAL POINT OF THEIR POLICY FROM 1783 TO THIS DAY."

Yes, and a cardinal point of American policy in 1930. Is it not fitting that an Adams should help tell Europe these plain and pointed American facts?

The nation counts on you to resist the latest move of that long-time advocate of the League of Nations, Secretary Stimson, to involve the United States in the discussions and dissensions and disasters of Europe through a dangerous "consultation pact."

BRING THE DELEGATION HOME! Mr. Adams, the people of the United States will support you in building a Navy worthy of your ancestry and of your country.

COME HOME!

DEFI SILENT ON BALANCE OF TICKET

Senator Promises to Wage 'Energetic Campaign' in Formal Veto of Withdrawal

"I am a candidate and shall conduct an energetic campaign for the nomination," Senator Joseph R. Grundy announced in a formal statement today in Philadelphia.

Grundy, whose withdrawal from the campaign was anticipated after the withdrawal of his running mate, Samuel S. Lewis, for governor, after conferring with influential friends, announced his intention of remaining in the race. Whether he will run as an independent or team with some of those already announced was not indicated.

SENATOR'S STATEMENT

"When I acceted appointment to the United States Senate last December," said Mr. Grundy, according to an Associated Press dispatch, "I stated unqualifiedly that I would be a candidate in the May primary for the balance of the unexpired term. I am a candidate and shall conduct an energetic campaign for the nomination."

Questioned whether he would run by himself or with a full ticket, the senator said, "I have nothing else to say at this time."

Nominating petitions for Grundy to succeed himself will be filed in Harrisburg Monday.

VARE PLANS UNCHANGED

Rumors that Grundy withdrew from the race were inspired by Warren F. Doane, Grundy's associate in tariff activities, Grundy, it was indicated, was angry with state leaders for withholding support of his ticket, which was responsible for Lewis' withdrawal.

Despite Grundy's determination to remain in the race, Philadelphia leaders say there will be no change in the ticket to be supported by the Philadelphia orga-

1 DEAD, 9 HURT IN TUBE BLAST

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—A stick of dynamite which a previous blast had failed to explode caused the death of one man today and injuries to nine others of a crew of 15 who were working in a tunnel 600 feet underground in the Bronx.

With only 15 minutes more before their day's work was done, Frank Gilbert, 32, thrust his drill into a hole, pressed the trigger, and there was a blinding flash. The men were thrown 20 or 30 feet and showered with rock. Herbert Browning, 25, was knocked unconscious and died three hours later. Gilbert may lose the sight of both eyes.

PLANS HINGE ON 5-POWER TREATY

All Other Problems Must Be Settled First, Edict Of American Delegation

By HARRY R. FLORY,
International News Service.

LONDON, March 28.—Some of the "mystery" surrounding America's much-discussed willingness to participate in a European consultative pact was swept away today when it was learned from an authoritative source that two very definite conditions had been laid down governing America's entrance into such a treaty.

The principal condition is that a workable five-power naval disarmament treaty must be formulated before a consultative pact can be agreed to. The other is that France's security demands must be settled before the pact is even discussed.

U. S. NOT APPROACHED

To begin with, International News Service learns that no nation or statesman has yet approached the American delegation here requesting American participation in a consultative pact. It is known definitely that any such approach would not be in order until these two preliminary American conditions have been fulfilled.

Thus the entire pact question hinges upon reduction of the French tonnage demands, which, in its turn, is dependent upon mutual guarantees of security. The Americans insist there is no use discussing a consultative pact until it is certain a five-power treaty will materialize. If the French figures are reduced, the latter treaty will be possible.

If a consultative pact does materialize, it can be stated on the highest authority that such a pact will not follow the four-power Pacific treaty as its model.

AVOID OBLIGATIONS

The American view is that a five-power London consultative treaty would be broader and more entangling than any wise American would advise his country to enter.

Application of the Pacific principle to Europe would obligate the United States to discuss almost any controversy that might arise in Europe, whether we had any interest in it or not.

A London consultative pact, if it materializes, will be much more restricted than the Pacific treaty.

Senate Opens War On Security Pact

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Storm signals against American participation in any political pact at the London naval conference—whether it be merely consultative or otherwise—were plainly hoisted in the Senate today.

On both sides of the chamber, warnings were issued that if the delegation headed by Secretary of State Stimson brings home a political treaty of any sort it will be met with bitter opposition and probable defeat. To the most casual observer it was evident that a full-fledged revolt is in the making against any but a strictly naval limitation treaty.

Four members of the powerful Foreign Relations Committee, headed by the chairman, Senator Borah (Rep.), of Idaho, are already in the open with their opposition, and it is known that many other senators privately share their views.

"A consultative pact is a security pact in disguise," said Borah.

Senator George (Dem.), of Georgia, one of the most conservative of the committee Democrats, declared a consultative pact "unwarranted and certain to meet with stubborn opposition in the Senate."

To these statements was added that of Senator Shipstead (Farmer-Labor), of Minnesota, who declared that "if the conference can only be saved by a pact tying us into the next war, then the conference ought to die."

2 Arms Delegates' Wives Coming Home

LONDON, March 28.—(AP.)—Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, wife of Secretary Adams, will sail for New York April 3 because of ill-health. Mrs. Morrow also probably will return home soon, although her departure was said not to be a matter of health, since she is quite well.

DAGUE DENIAL HEARD BY WIFE

DAGUE'S STORY

Dague, a slight tremor in his voice, began his testimony under direct examination by Attorney Dickey by telling of his birth, his family and life in the West Virginia hills. He said he met Irene for the first time in August, 1927.

He denied being in New Castle the day before the shooting of Paul, as testified by commonwealth witnesses. He said he, Irene and Tom Crawford started out from Wheeling on December 26, driving through Steubenville to Butler, where they stayed at a small hotel. They spent the evening at a movie in Butler, Dague declared.

"I followed Irene into the store," Dague related of the Butler holdup. "As the proprietor, Wish Angert, stooped to get the apples Irene had asked for, I walked up to him. I took my gun from my left side (demonstrating to jury) and held it out to him like this.

"I took his arm and led him back to the rear room and tied him up. An old man came in and I did the same to him."

SHOOTING DESCRIBED

Describing the shooting of Paul, Dague testified as follows:

"When I first saw the officers on the road, I slowed down and stopped. I handed him my pocketbook and he handed it back, at the same time pulling out his gun. I got out and Irene followed. Then Irene started towards the officer, Mr. Paul I have since learned, and Paul backed up. When he got to the back of the car, he yelled, 'Pull your gun, Moore.' Then I heard a shot."

"Who fired that shot?"

"I don't know. It came from the back of the car. I saw Paul twitch and he kept moving back."

"Where was Irene?"

"Then what happened?"

"Well, Paul kept moving back to the telephone pole and I fired once at him as he went."

"Did you hit him—did anything happen?"

"No, he kept running to the pole."

"Were you hit, or any part of your clothing hit by bullets?"

STRUCK BY BULLET

"Yes—one of Paul's bullets went through my hip and another bullet from the front of the car went through my hat."

"What kind of a gun did you have?"

I had a .38 calibre special."

Dague was questioned about the Ray Horton car and denied he had handled Miss Elsie Nuickum, Horton's companion, roughly. He said he led her from the car. He denied stopping at Monaca at a restaurant where commonwealth witnesses testified that he and Irene, her brother and small son, Donnie, had eaten late the afternoon of the shooting.

Dague told of the flight to Wheeling, where Tom Crawford left. He said he and Irene continued on to Parkesburg the same night the Pontiac they were using was abandoned. They continued west the next day in a Chrysler, Dague said.

Dague then detailed the battle with Officer William Keissling in St. Louis, the continued flight through Texas and Arizona and his final capture with Irene and Joe Wells in the desert near the Gila River. He denied making any statement or confession to Arizona officers regarding the Butler holdup or the Paul shooting.

Burlesque Yields To Talkie Theater

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—The Great White Way is to lose the last of its burlesque shows.

The Columbia Theater, at Broadway and Forty-seventh street, will be torn down next week to make way for a motion picture theater to be erected for Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation. The new house will seat 2,300.

Sharon Has Plan For New Hotel

SHARON, Pa., March 28.—(AP.)—H. M. Wilson has been named chairman of a Chamber of Commerce committee to act on the erection of a new hotel in Sharon. Several prospective sites will be discussed at a meeting April 2.

Hero of Malarial Test in War to Get Medal

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP.)—A story of heroism behind the American lines in the Spanish-American War was recalled today by Representative Crail (Rep.), California, who said he believes the House would pass a bill to honor James C. Burke, of Los Angeles, who voluntarily contracted malarial fever so Army physicians could study the disease.

Burke was paralyzed in his right side, and the physicians attributed this to the disease. Years have gone by since then, and Crail's measure would award him a gold medal and a pension of $150 a month.

STRIKER FREED ON PEACE BOND

Chester H. Waddle, vice chairman of the striking taxicab drivers' committee, was warned "to keep the peace" by Judge Ambrose B. Reid in Criminal Court today.

Waddle was arraigned on a surety-of-the-peace charge preferred by Maurice Fromme, head of the "back-to-work" movement of the taxicab strike. After hearing Fromme and Waddle, Judge Reid declared: "If you cannot strike in harmony, stay apart."

FREED ON BOND

He set Waddle's bond at $500, but released him on his own recognizance after a promise by Waddle not to molest Fromme or anybody else.

Judge Reid quashed the case of two other strikers, in which Frank Leon was charged by Frank Chille with surety of the peace, because the alderman's record did not show an effort to compromise it before holding it for court.

INJUNCTION BRIEFS

Attorneys for the striking taxi drivers and the company filed briefs today in the arguments on a preliminary injunction restraining the strikers from operating their own taxi service without a fixed fare, but accepting "donations" as fares.

Judge Joseph M. Swearingen, who heard arguments yesterday, indicated that a decision would be handed down sometime after the briefs were filed.

The preliminary injunction granted last week by Judge Josiah Cohen remains in effect until Judge Swearingen's decision is handed down.

Chicago Odds 7-3 Against Bandits

CHICAGO, March 28.—(INS.)—Shooting odds against bandits here are 7 to 3, according to figures reported by Coroner Herman N. Bundesen today.

In other words, seven bandits die for every three policemen or citizens killed. In 40 fatal gun battles in the last two months of 1929 and the first two months of this year, 28 of the victims were bandits, eight were citizens, and four were policemen.

ARTIST QUIZZED ON INDIANS' SORCERY

Marchand Admits Model, on Trial in Wife's Slaying, Wanted Lock of Her Hair

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 28.—(AP.)—A lock of hair from his wife's head, which he was told was a witchcraft practice, was asked of Henri Marchand by Lila Jimerson, the Indian woman accused as an accomplice in the murder of his wife, the artist testified today.

The request was made two years before the death of Clothilde Marchand, defense counsel sought to emphasize.

Marchand, under pressure of questioning, said he had been told the procuring of a lock of hair was part of sorcery practiced by Seneca Indians. The information came from an authority on Indian life who worked with Marchand at the Buffalo museum of natural science, the artist explained.

QUIZZED ON DANCE

The friendship of the Indian woman who acted as model for Marchand, and the French artist was reviewed under cross-examination conducted by John V. Maloney.

Marchand told of automobile tours, visits to hotels and other trips with the Indian woman.

"Now all the time you were taking Lila out," Maloney asked quietly, "Did it ever occur to you that this girl was the one who two years ago asked for a lock of your wife's hair to 'make medicine'."

The witness answered with a characteristic abrupt "no."

A pagan dance in a Seneca "long house,"—"a pagan ritual," defense counsel called it — came into the courtroom scene.

Lila, previous testimony indicated, had asked Marchand to take her to the dance, held on New Year's day.

"You knew this Indian Pagan dance," said Maloney, "was participated in by people who believed in medicine doctors and that they were dressed as spirits and such like. You didn't suspect, when she invited you to this Pagan dance, that she had any idea of witchcraft? You didn't remember that lock of hair?"

The witness shook his head and snapped "No."

WOULDN'T LIE

The defense attorney then pinned the witness down for an expression of his attitude toward the Indian woman.

"Do you hate Lila?"

"No," roared Marchand.

"Do you despise her?"

"No," still louder.

"Don't you hate her because she killed your wife?" Maloney flung at him.

Without hesitation and in a voice full of emotion, Marchand asserted: "I have only pity for her ignorance."

Maloney asked a few more questions, and then: "Would you lie to save yourself from the electric chair?"

Girl Admits Setting Fires to Get Thrill

LANCASTER, Pa., March 28.—(INS.)—"Yes, sir, I just love to see smoke and fire," is in effect the confession of Alice Deckert, 14, an orphan, under close supervision today at the Shelter Home for Girls after admitting starting numerous incendiary fires during the past few years.

Her confession came after she was found building a fire in the bedroom of Mrs. Frank Witmer's home in Edisonville. Mrs. Witmer had befriended the youngster, giving her a home.

Raymond Belmont, Injured, Recovering

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP.)—Raymond Belmont, New York financier and sportsman, is recovering in a hospital here from injuries that resulted when his horse fell on him during a fox hunt on his estate near Middleburg, Va.

Belmont sustained two broken ribs and lacerations and bruises, but physicians said that his condition was not serious.

Man Killed As Car Wrecks in Storm

BARNESVILLE, O., March 28.—As the result of a car skidding over a fifteen-foot embankment on the Barnesville-Woodfield highway during Wednesday night's blizzard, George J. Egger, 77, of Lewisville, O., was killed and his son, A. C. Egger, 38, the driver, was injured. Snow on the windshield prevented the driver from seeing the roadway.

CARUSO HEIRS COMPROMISE

TRENTON, N. J., March 28.—(AP.)—Protracted litigation over the distribution of more than $1,000,000 in royalties from the sale of phonograph records made by the late Enrico Caruso, famous opera singer, today approached an end.

An agreement by counsel on the form of a remittor which would allow the Court of Chancery to distribute the monies, was reached and sumbitted to the Court of Errors and Appeals for approval.

Under the decision of the Court of Errors, Gloria Caruso, minor daughter of the late tenor, will receive one-half share of the royalties and one-eighth interests will be given Dorothy Park Benjamin Caruso, widow; Giovanni, brother; Rudolfo and Enrico, natural sons. This division originally was agreed upon at a conference of the heirs at the probating of the Caruso will in the civil and penal tribunal of the court of Naples, Italy.

Chancellor Edwin R. Walker, however, previously held that Gloria Caruso was a ward of the Court of Chancery and as such was entitled to a two-thirds interest. This allotment would have allowed the remaining heirs but one-twelfth share, and the higher court sustained the Italian tribunal.

Tilson, White House Guest, Convalescing

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP.)—Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, the Republican floor leader in the House, expects to remain as President Hoover's guest at the White House until Sunday while convalescing from his recent attack of grip.

President Hoover had Mr. Tilson transferred from the Naval Hospital early this week so he could have the advantage of keeping in contact with the progress of the tariff bill in the House. Mr. Tilson's condition was reported improving rapidly.

Japan Royalty Sees U. S. Hospital Begun

TOKIO, March 28.—(AP.)—Prince and Princess Chichibu and Baron Shidehara, the foreign minister, today attended the laying of the cornerstone for the first unit of the new St. Luke's International Medical Center here, a $6,000,000 American-Japanese cooperative enterprise. Prince Chichibu is the eldest brother of Emperor Hirchito and heir apparent to the imperial throne. The new medical center will rise on the site of the old St. Luke's Hospital, which was destroyed in the earthquake and fire of 1923.

Walks 11 Blocks Barefoot to Get Shoes

FREEDOM, Pa., March 28.—When Nicolai Suzic, 50, returned home intoxicated, and his boarding house keeper removed his shoes to keep him indoors, he walked 11 blocks in his stocking feet through the snow to the police station to request aid in obtaining the shoes.

He was put to bed in the borough jail.

ERLANGER OUT AS REFEREE

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS.)—Former Supreme Court Justice Mitchell L. Erlanger, central figure in the fight of Mrs. Charlotte Fiscal from a share in the $75,000,000 estate of his brother, A. L. Erlanger, late theatrical magnate, has resigned as official Supreme Court referee, it became known today.

Erlanger's resignation, dated March 20, was filed in Supreme Court today, together with a certificate of acceptance signed by Presiding Justice Victor J. Dowling, of the appellate division.

Named one of the principal beneficiaries in the will of his brother, which is now being disputed before surrogate Foley, Erlanger has vigorously denied Mrs. Fiscal's claim to be considered the common-law wife of the dead theatrical magnate.

Surrogate Foley was expected to decide today whether a jury shall pass on Mrs. Fiscal's claim.

Ex-Congressman Near Death in W. Va.

WELCH, W. Va., March 28.—(AP.)—Physicians here today said they held little hope for the recovery of James French Strothers, 60, former congressman from the Fifth West Virginia District, who has been ill at his home for several weeks. He was unconscious today and physicians said he was sinking slowly. Strothers also served as judge of the McDowell County Criminal Court for a number of years.

GUARDS CLUB MUTINOUS CONVICTS

3,000 Put on Short Rations In Missouri Outbreak; 62 Sent to Hospital

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 28.—(AP.)—Inaugurating an iron hand rule at the Missouri penitentiary today, scene of mutinous disorders for two days, guards clubbed 15 unruly convicts this morning when they attempted to "get tough" as they were called from their cells.

The convicts were injured sufficiently to require treatment in the prison hospital. Some of them, the guards said, were accused of having beaten other prisoners for failing to join in yesterday's strike and other acts of disorder.

62 INJURED

A checkup today showed that a total of 62 convicts had been treated at the hospital for injuries inflicted by guards or, in some cases, by their own companions.

Warden Leslie Rudolph, who announced last night that from now on the penitentiary would be run on a "hard boiled" basis with force, caused two convicts, cellmates, to be taken before him today and accused them of having a pistol in their cell.

They denied they had a weapon and the warden ordered them put in stripes, which are uniforms worn by incorrigible convicts, and placed in "the hole," which is solitary confinement. A further search for the gun was ordered.

CUT FOOD RATIONS

Of the men who remained in the hospital today, Tony Mong, of St. Louis, serving two years for bigamy, was the most seriously hurt. He was believed to have a fractured skull.

More than 3,000 of the 4,000 prisoners went breakfastless today. The "strikers" hereafter will be fed in their cells, not the mess hall, and their first meal will be the same kind of stew which caused the outbreak of the mutiny Wednesday.

5 CO-EDS HURT IN 'DORM' FIRE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 28.—(AP.)—Five girls were injured early today in a fire that destroyed a dormitory of David Lipscomb College. Damage was estimated by H. Leo Boles, president of the college, at $125,000.

Eighty girls sleeping in the building fled, many with only blankets about them. Most lost all their personal effects. Many jumped safely from the second floor and others clambered down sheet ropes from the third.

Canada Rum Exports To U. S. Decreases

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP.)—A sharp decrease in liquor exports from Canada to the United States in February, 1930, as compared with February, 1928, was shown in figures made public today by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman.

Statistics received from Ottawa, Lowman said, showed that in February, 1930, exports of intoxicating beverages amounts to 150,997 gallons, as compared to 282,285 gallons in February, 1929.

Wounded Messenger Foils Mail Bandits

SCRANTON, Pa., March 28.—(AP.)—Two armed bandits made an unsuccessful attempt today to steal a mail bag containing cash, checks and registered parcels being sent by the International Correspondence Schools to a Central City bank by one of its messengers in an automobile truck. Thomas Williams, 30, the messenger, was shot through the arm by one of the bandits.

Wash-Jeff Refuses To Take Dry Poll

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 28.—Washington and Jefferson College students will not participate in a poll on the prohibition question, it was decided after a conference of the faculty and representatives of the student body.

The request that W. & J. enter the poll on prohibition came from the Harvard Lampoon.

Hindenburg Ex-Aide Calls Him Kaiser's Betrayer

MUNICH, Bavaria, March 28.—(AP.)—Gen. Erich Ludendorf, once an idol in Germany as the right-hand man of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, now president, but long since estranged, today violently attacked his former chief [illegible]an, Volkswarte.

[illegible]orff declared he felt he [illegible] to posterity to say that [illegible]e who raised President [illegible]enburg to a position of [illegible]nero.

[illegible] four years Hindenburg [illegible]e all I told him to do."

Ludendorff, adding, "Hin[illegible]burg has no right to appeal to that great school of devotion, the old army. It was Hindenburg who betrayed the Kaiser and delivered Germany into the enemy's hands.... Hindenburg no longer has the right to wear the field gray uniform or take it with him into the grave."

Ludendorff has long been one of the most extreme Monarchists in Germany, and has frequently made bitter attacks on the new republic and its leaders.

Capone Invited to Live Down Past in S. Dakota

RAPID CITY, S. D., March 28.—(AP.)—"Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago outcast gang lord, has been invited to make his home in the Black Hills of South Dakota, where the stranger is not judged by reports of his past record.

Signed by Dan Evans, secretary of the Rapid City chamber of commerce, a letter was in the mails today, offering Capone the hospitality of the west and quoting that portion of the Bible which admonishes against criticism of the crimes of others.

Capone, not wanted as a resident by Chicago or Miami, Fla., was assured the glad hand of welcome into a community practically free from crime.

"We extend this invitation," Evans wrote, "with the sincere belief that with the associates you would meet here you would soon outlive the intimated crimes that have been credited to you, without any proof whatsoever, and soon you would be recognized as a law abiding, upright citizen and a credit to the community."

The letter went into detail in describing the Black Hills and told of former President Coolidge's vacation here in 1927.

Standard Oil Merger Plan Abandoned, Says Davis

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS.)—Opposition of the Federal Department of Justice and an opinion that the move would violate the dissolution decree of 1911 blocked the contemplated merger of the giant Standard Oil company of New Jersey with Standard of California, according to a statement issued at "26 Broadway" today.

John W. Davis, by whom the official statement was issued, said all negotiations for the merging of the big corporations in the petroleum industry had been definitely abandoned because of this attitude of the Department of Justice and that there was no likelihood of their being resumed. Davis said:

"I was consulted about a year ago on legal matters which should be considered if a merger of the business and assets of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and Standard Oil of California were to be discussed.

"Later I addressed an inquiry to the Department of Justice at Washington as to the attitude of the department toward such a combination or merger. No contract or agreement had been entered into prior to this agreement. The department expressed the opinion that such a merger was forbidden by the dissolution decree of 1911.

"Since receipt of this intelligence no further action looking to such a combination has been taken. There is no foundation for any stories to the contrary."

Meanwhile the Department of Justice has filed suit to prevent the Standard of New York-Vacuum Oil merger, and the future of oil mergers may depend largely on the outcome.

Miss Bennett, of Shadeland avenue, answered a summons to Traffic Court today charging her with 14 parking violations, and found that there were 24 tags against her. She paid $25.

GIRL FINED $25 ON 24 TAGS

Fourteen tags multiplied into 24 parking violations for Miss Josephine Bennett, 21, of 3433 Shadeland avenue, North Side, in Traffic Court today for violations since February 1.

"Yes, I'm sorry, but I don't think I was entitled to all of them," Miss Bennett told Magistrate William J. Soost, when asked if the charges were true.

And Josephine paid a $25 fine. Miss Bennett was arrested Tuesfor parking in a safety zone in Highland avenue. Traffic Officer Louis Ebner recognized the license number and possessed 14 tags against the driver. Traffic records today revealed Miss Bennett had received 26 tags and paid for two of them.

Kaiser Spurns Offer Of Libel Retraction

BERLIN, March 28.—(INS.)—Trial of the libel action brought by former Kaiser Wilhelm against the Berliner Morgenpost opened here today. The newspaper had charged the ex-kaiser profited through orders for war supplies placed through the Krupp firm.

At the opening of the trial the newspaper offered to withdraw the charges. Attorneys for the deposed emperor refused, declaring they would fight the case to its finish.

Rumania Given Farming Credits

BUCHAREST, Rumania, March 28.—(AP.)—Credits amounting to 2,000,000,000 lei (about $10,000,000) for agricultural purposes were granted to the Rumanian government by a syndicate headed by the Banque De Paris et des Pays-Bas and including English and Dutch financial interests. The credits will be used to assist needy farmers. The syndicate also undertakes to dispose of agricultural bonds for Rumanian banking houses.

Bologna Historian's Theme Is Sausage

BOLOGNA, March 28.—(AP.)—The history of the sausage that made Bologna famous has been written by one Signor Colombini. He finds it was mentioned in Homer's "Odyssey," and was manufactured on a large scale in 1376 when the workmen formed a guild. In 1661 three lashes of the cat-o'nine-tails were ordered as punishment for anybody making mortadalla, as the sausage is known, out of any meat but pork.

Bishop Bars Dirge Of Saul at Funeral

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, March 28.—(AP.)—Says the will of Bishop Cleary, of Auckland: "My mind always having been in revolt against the pagan note of hopelessness in the Dead March in Saul, I direct that it shall not be played at or in connection with any of the ceremonies connected with my interment." The will also forbade flowers on the coffin or grave.

Driver to Pay $8 Week to Widow Of Victim

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 28.—(AP.)—Marinus Deraade, 22, must pay $8 every week for five years to the widow of the man he killed with his automobile.

These payments were made the condition of a parole granted to Deraade by Judge Leonard D. Verdier after the offending motorist had pleaded guilty to a charge of negligent homicide in the death of George Tinkey, 32, who was struck by Deraades' automobile last December.

DELAY GRANTED IN SUNDAY CASE

CHICAGO, March 27.—(AP.)—George M. Sunday, son of the Rev. W. A. (Billy) Sunday, was booked on a fugitive warrant and released on bond by Municipal Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen and hearing set for April 22. The delay was granted to permit arrival of Los Angeles officers, who seek his return on charges of infidelity.

With the arraignment and booking of Sunday, Judge Denis E. Normoyle in Criminal Court dismissed Sunday's petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Sunday had been in jail since Tuesday night when police found him in a snowdrift on the West Side.

COOLIDGE BANK CLOSES AFTER THEFT

Ex-President Declines to Withdraw His Account; Jazz Band Leader Held

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 28.—(AP.)—The Hampshire County Trust Company closed its doors this morning with a shortage of approximately $285,000.

Blame for the loss was placed directly upon Harold R. Newcomb, former manager of the savings department, by Arthur Guy, state bank examiner, in charge.

A statement by Ralph Hemenway, president, said savings depositors would suffer no loss.

COOLIDGES LEAVE CASH

Both Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge have accounts in the trust company. A statement issued this morning at the office of the former president, said that they had not withdrawn their money during a run preceding th closing, but felt that it was "perfectly safe."

Newcomb, banker by day and leader of a popular jazz orchestra by night, was arrested on March 17, charged with the specific theft of $15,000 on which charge he was held in default of $30,000 bail when arraigned in District Court.

The bank's loss was said by Guy to have been entirely in the savings department. Ever since Newcomb's arrest withdrawals have been heavy. Yesterday they developed into a run.

POLICE KEEP ORDER

This morning an excited group of nearly 100 depositors stood about the doors of the institution and necessitated the summoning of policemen to maintain order.

A brief notice, signed by Roy A. Hovey, state bank commissioner, and posted at the main entrance, was the first public confirmation of rumors that the bank was in difficulty.

SOUTH TO FIGHT COAL RATES

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(INS.)—Southern coal operators plan to stage a vigorous fight against the application of Pennsylvania and Ohio bituminous coal operators to reopen the famous lake cargo coal rate case, it was learned today after a secret meeting of more than 25 Southern operators here.

The meeting was presided over by J. D. Francis, of Huntington, W. Va.

Pennsylvania and Ohio operators contend their geographical proximity to lake ports should give them an advantage over the southern operators in the enormous lake cargo trade, but the present differential of 35 cents a ton is too low. They also claim their mines are operated by union labor, whereas the southern mines are largely non-union.

ASKS DRY QUIZ VISIT CANADA

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(INS.)—Investigation of the Canadian system of liquor control by a congressional committee or the Wickersham Law Enforcement Commission was proposed today by liberal forces in the wake of the refusal of Premier Ferguson, of Ontario, to appear before the House Judiciary Committee.

Ferguson had been invited to answer the testimony of ex-Premier Drury in the House prohibition hearings by Representative La Guardia (Rep.), New York, committee member, and Representative Linthicum (Dem.), Maryland.

Toronto dispatches quoted Ferguson as saying he could not enter the internal controversy of another country by offering to supply "the facts" to an investigating body.

British Would Ease Army Death Code

LONDON, March 28.—(AP.)—Elimination of the death penalty for cowardice is among modifications in British army regulations which the government will lay before Parliament in the army and air force annual bill, the text of which was published today. The death penalty will be abolished also for leaving a guard post without orders.

The death penalty will be retained for "shameful" abandonment of garrison and "shameful" casting away of arms in the enemy's presence.

Suspect in Brooklyn Gang Murder Held

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS.)—Charged with knowing something of the murder of Giuseppe Piriano, known as "The Clutching Hand," and a partner of the slain Frankie Uale, Brooklyn gangster, Joseph Florino was held by police today. It was in front of Florino's home yesterday that Piriano, wearing more than $3,000 worth of diamonds, was shot down. Police said the executioners hid in Florino's house.

Pennsylvania Strongly Anti-Prohibition in First Returns to Digest Poll

Returns from 20 states in the Literary Digest's nation-wide poll on prohibition show strong sentiment for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Of 1,244,483 votes tabulated so far, 527,388 are for repeal, 383,117 for modification to permit beer and wine, and 333,978 for strict enforcement.

Pennsylvania comes into the returns for the first time, with 64,505 for repeal, 34,534 for modification, and 31,585 for strict enforcement.

Kansas is the only state that is voting "bone dry," the number of ballots for strict enforcement greatly exceeding the combined total of those for repeal and those for modification.

Georgia, the only Southern state from which ballots have been tabulated, shows 4,061 votes for enforcement out of 10,885 counted.

"Although the wets undeniably have the best of it in this tabulation," the Literary Digest states, "let it be remembered that the poll is still in its infancy. Many states remain to be heard from, and immense dry areas have yet to be given a voice."

Here are the Literary Digest's third report figures:

| State— | For Enforcement. | For Modification. | For Repeal. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|

HAZELTON, Pa., March 28.—(AP.)—Thomas Kennedy, international secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, on his return to his home here from Indianapolis, denied rumors of dates and places being fixed for the meetings of the tri-district executive board and the tri-district convention of the United Mine Workers.

"No arrangements have been made on anything yet," he said.

Tears Win Pity, Old Offense Dispels It

Sam Brown, 32, of 1304 Wylie avenue, shed tears in Central Police Station today, pleading hunger from lack of work forced him to steal three pairs of socks from a Fifth avenue store.

Magistrate Leo Rothenberg was inclined to be lenient to Sam since the socks were going to be sold for bread. A checkup of the detective bureau revealed Sam had held up a taxicab in February.

He will spend 60 days in the workhouse in lieu of $100 for a fine.

RESIGNATION FOLLOWS DEFEAT

Dail Adjourns, Nominations For New Ministry Head Set for Vote Next Week

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 28.—(AP.)—President William T. Cosgrave and his ministry today resigned their posts, after defeat of the government in the Dail last night by a vote of 66 to 64 on an opposition measure involving an increase in old-age pensions.

The Dail, after announcement of the resignation, was adjourned until Wednesday, when nomination of a new president will fall to it. Mr. Cosgrave possibly may be re-elected.

Sean O'Kelley, who is leading the Fianna Fail, principal opposition element, in the absence of Eamonn De Valera in America, announced that his party would nominate Mr. De Valera as president.

NO GENERAL ELECTION

Under the Free State constitution, procedure in the Dail regarding the election of a government is that a change of ministries does not involve a general election. Men are nominated for the presidency and if those men are defeated others may be proposed until someone obtains a majority.

The prevailing opinion in Dublin seems to be that President Cosgrave's resignation leaves the situation unaltered as the distribution of the parties in the Dail has not changed.

It is pointed out that Cosgrave, though never having a majority of the whole Dail, leads the largest party and has been maintained in office for the past seven years by independent members who will probably continue to support him.

De Valera, in Receptive Mood, to Cut U. S. Tour

CHICAGO, March 28.—(AP.)—Eamonn De Valera, one time president of the Irish Republic, today said he would answer a call to the presidency of the Irish Free State if the Dail Eireann summoned him.

The leader of the Fianna Fail (Republican Party), principal opposition to the Cosgrave Free State Party whose government, headed by William T. Cosgrave, has resigned, was here for an address, keeping a weather eye meanwhile on events in his homeland. He said he would cut short his American trip and return to Ireland if necessary. De Valera had planned to continue his tour until after Easter.

If selected by the Dail, De Valera said he would form a Fianna Fail government to carry out that party's policies, which he outlined as: Irish unity and independence; rebuilding Irish industry so that Irish needs may be supplied, so far as possible, by Irish labor—thus ending unemployment and its consequence, emigration; restoration of the Irish language as the spoken tongue of the land, and generally fostering the culture which has distinguished Ireland among the nations.

De Valera was in Pittsburgh Tuesday, speaking in behalf of a movement to establish an Irish daily newspaper.

Senator Promises to Wage 'Energetic Campaign' in Formal Veto of Withdrawal

nization and which also has the backing of Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong and other Western Pennsylvania leaders. The Philadelphia organization it is said is solidly behind Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for Grundy's seat, and Francis Shunk Brown for governor.

FISHER BLAMED

The most frequently repeated explanation of the collapse of the Grundy-Lewis ticket was that Gov. Fisher "scuttled the ship" by his bitter fight against the acceptance by other state organization leaders of the Lewis' candidacy.

Some leaders throughout the state were said to be still hugging the hope of a compromise by having Secretary Davis withdraw his candidacy for senator on a ticket with Francis Shunk Brown for governor to permit a slate headed by Grundy and Brown.

Davis-Brown Campaign Vigorously Pushed

Meanwhile, plans for the Davis-Brown campaigning progressed with renewed vigor, judging from reports from Philadelphia. William R. Douglas, secretary to William S. Vare, who with his friends, is supporting Davis and Brown, warned followers "not to let down in their efforts because of recent developments."

"This is the time when greater efforts should be exerted on behalf of the ticket," he said. "Friends of Davis and Brown and their associated candidates should not relax. We want to give them the largest possible majority for the ticket," Douglas averred.

State Senator Samuel W. Salus, of the Philadelphia "War Board," called upon Gov. Fisher in Harrisburg yesterday "merely to pay his respects." He declared the visit had no political significance.

Salus said he could see no possibility of an agreement whereby his group would support Grundy.

"Once a candidate is indorsed by the Philadelphia organization, he is never dropped," he said. "That has been our practice always and will hold good with Secretary of Labor James J. Davis."

There is apparent conflict in the Davis-Brown camp over the candidate to be indorsed for justice of the Supreme Court. Judge George W. Maxey, of Scranton, and Lieut. Gov. Arthur H. James have filed petitions for the nomination and both have declared for the Davis-Brown ticket.

DAVIS TO TALK HERE

In a telegram to Brown, Judge Maxey said yesterday he had accepted the "designation for Supreme Court on the Davis-Brown ticket" and that he appreciated Brown's "loyalty and friendship in holding this open so long for me."

James was said to have filed with the consent of Vare, who was represented as being opposed to Maxey. No formal statements on the situation have issued from the Philadelphia organization.

Davis is to leave Washington today for Philadelphia to sign nominating petitions that must be filed Monday. He was expected to confer while here with Brown and Vare.

Davis is expected in Pittsburgh tomorrow for a speech in Odd Fellows Hall, Second and Flowers avenues, and an address Sunday night in the Church of the Ascension, Ellsworth avenue.

Pinchot in Philadelphia Addresses W. C. T. U.

Former Gov. Gifford Pinchot, who is running for another term, continued his campaign in Philadelphia by addressing members of the W. C. T. U. He said no matter what happens in this campaign "no Pinchot is going to withdraw."

"If elected, and I intend to be elected, I will stand on the same platform after the campaign as I did before. I intend to carry out every one of my pledges as definitely as I did in my other administration.

"I am in a happier situation than Mr. Brown. He has been on the side of public utilities and I have never had any connection with them. In fact I have been fighting public utilities in the state ever since I have had a chance."

Pinchot will be here Sunday and Monday.

Francis H. Bohlen, of Philadelphia, and Thomas W. Phillips, of Butler, anti-dry candidates for senator and governor, respectively, also were active yesterday.

MORE PETITIONS FILED

Phillips addressed a letter to the Anti-Saloon League, saying "For the sake of the stability of our government and the peace of its citizens, the Eighteenth Amendment must be repealed."

Bohlen, addressing the weekly luncheon of the American Legion, declared that the majority of the people were against prohibition.

Nomination petitions were filed yesterday in Harrisburg for the following Allegheny County candidates for the Legislature: Frank S. Hoffman, Eleventh District; E. C. Kroll, George H. Soffel and W. T. Bell, Sixth District.

State Senator W. D. Mansfield, of McKeesport, filed one of the largest petitions received this year in Harrisburg. His papers were signed by more than 6,000 voters distributed in every municipality in the district. Members of the Beacon Club, in the Fourteenth Ward, have given Senator Mansfield their first unanimous indorsement of a candidate.

At a meeting of the Fourteenth Ward Republican Committee last night, Max Spann was endorsed for legislature in the Fifth District. John Purucker is the incumbent. The committee also indorsed the candidacy of Senator Mansfield and indorsed Deputy Sheriff Patrick F. Casey for ward chairman after the Spring primaries.

air, simultaneously, at La Jolla, a few miles north of here. That must be seen, and this you will be glad to hear, must be bitten off, at about this point.

THIS writer can say, of his own knowledge, that for young people to see a glider, is to want to glide.

Two girls, sixteen, brought on this trip, had never before seen a glider, or thought about one. They are both taking their first gliding lesson, at this moment, with Captain Hawks, at Lindbergh Flying Field.

MR. BOEING, of United Aircraft, who hunts for talent, is advised to see Mr. Bowlus, and if possible make a glider production contract with him. Thousands of gliders will be sold, and will create unlimited market for power-planes, and Bowlus, an earnest mechanical genius, is the man to build them.

Already there is talk of putting small auxiliary engines, five or ten horse-power, in the glider.

THOUSANDS of high school boys, properly supervised, will build and fly the newest air machine.

How that would interest old Leonardo, who was designing airplanes, scientifically, hundreds of years ago, when Michelangelo, flat on his back, was painting the ceiling of the Sistine chapel. Francisco the First was losing "all but honor," and a little of that too, and Columbus was coming back from America, to be put in jail for his pains.

ROSELIA OPENS FUND DRIVE

Baby Charlie "Mays" is the latest star boarder at Roselia Foundling Home and Maternity Hospital, Cliff street, for which a $100,000 campaign opens Monday night to carry on work for 105 waifs dependent thereon for solace and good treatment.

Charlie is four months old, has called Roselia his home for two days and, according to Nurse Helen Wagner, is the hungriest of the bunch. He quickly devised means of getting an extra bottle of milk. Pretending to be asleep, Charlie would "wake up" and cry. A bottle was forthcoming. It wouldn't be long until Charlie would repeat the procedure. Now the nurses know the trick and Charlie feeds like the other babies.

The campaign will be opened with a dinner in the William Penn Hotel Monday night. The Rev. Dr. Robert MacGowan, pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church, will be the principal speaker. Taylor Allderdice, campaign chairman, who today said the fund was necessary to prevent a curtailment of the work among unfortunate mothers and foundlings, will preside.

The disturbance that produced the snow is still in the lower St. Lawrence Valley and is influencing the weather over the entire northeast section. As a result conditions and snow flurries still prevail. Another disturbance is centered over the Gulf of Mexico and is causing generous rains over all the Gulf states from Texas to the Atlantic coast. Elsewhere the skies are mostly clear under the influence of relatively high pressure centered this morning over Saskatchewan, with a ridge formation extending southward over the Plains to Texas. The temperature changes were slight, but lowering rising at most places east of the Mississippi.

BIG NEWSPAPER FINANCE PLAN ANNOUNCED

Five Million Debentures, Paying 6½%, Offered on Hearst Chicago Property

Universal Service.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The first important newspaper financing of the current year is announced in an offering by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc, of $5,000,000, 6½ per cent gold debentures of Illinois Publishing and Printing Company. The issuing company is the owner and publisher of the Chicago Herald and Examiner, which has for many years been one of Chicago's leading publications and has long occupied a position of primacy throughout the Middle West with respect to Sunday circulation.

The debentures will be dated March 1, 1930, and will mature $100,000-March 1, 1931; $200,000-March 1, 1932; $200,000-March 1, 1933, and $4,500,000-March 1, 1950, those due in 1950 being retired, however, at the rate of $250,000 a year through operation of the sinking fund.

REDEMPTION PRIVILEGE

The debentures may be redeemed on 30 days' notice at prices ranging from 100 to 105 according to series and time of redemption.

The debentures will be secured by a first mortgage on all land, buildings, leaseholds, and physical equipment of Illinois Publishing and Printing Company, valued in the aggregate at over $8,300,000. Included in these properties is the Hearst building and annex which has been leased to Evening American Publishing Company for a term of years extending beyond the maturity of the debentures at an annual rental in excess of the interest and sinking fund requirements thereof.

The lessee, Evening American Publishing Company, owns and publishes The Chicago Evening American, the most widely circulated evening newspaper in Chicago and one of the most profitable newspapers of the country-wide Hearst group.

PAYMENT GUARANTEE

Payment of rentals under the lease by Evening American Publishing Company and punctual discharge by Illinois Publishing and Printing Company of its obligations for interest and maturing principal of the new $5,000,000 debentures will be unconditionally guaranteed by William Randolph Hearst.

The Chicago Herald and Examiner is one of the first and most prominent of a group of 28 daily newspapers now owned by William Randolph Hearst, which serve 18 large cities extending from the Eastern seaboard to the Pacific coast and together with the Hearst magazines constitute the most extensive and valuable publishing enterprise in the world.

BUTLER TO SEE MUSSOLINI

ROME, March 28.—(INS.)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, had an appointment today with Premier Mussolini.

Yesterday Dr. and Mrs. Butler were received by Pope Pius XI in private audience. The pontiff and Dr. Butler discussed at length the work of the Carnegie Peace Endowment. Pope Pius praised the work highly and assured Dr. Butler that the church was always in full support of any effort to eliminate war.

Dr. Butler announced today he has accepted an invitation of the Hungarian government and will go to Budapest next week, prior to his visit to Berlin.

Gale Whips Flames, Child Dies of Burns

WAYNESBURG, Pa., March 28.—Eva Stonner, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stonner, of Castile, died in Greene County Memorial Hospital from burns suffered at her home late Wednesday.

As three younger brothers looked on, the child made a futile attempt to extinguish her blazing clothing, ignited by a spark from an open coal fire, running out of the house to roll in the snow. The March gale whipped her burning clothes into an uncontrollable blaze.

Museum Planned In Honor of Primo

BARCELONA, Spain, March 28.—(AP.)—A small museum will be opened here to commemorate the statesmanship and patriotism of Gen. Miguel Primo De Rivera, former Spanish dictator who died in Paris several weeks ago.

Juan Casal announced that he had bought for 20,000 francs the complete furnishings of the bedroom in the Paris hotel where the ex-dictator died and would give them to the museum.

More Than Million Sail From N. Y. Port

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—The port of New York authority today announced that a total of 1,119,399 passengers, bound for foreign ports, passed through the port of New York last year.

These figures represent a gain of 22,457 over 1928. All other Atlantic and gulf ports combined served 251,912, a loss of 9,589 from 1928. A decrease of 21,645 in emigrant and immigrant traffic was reported.

WARNS AGAINST REPARATIONS BOND BUYING

German Securities Termed Illegal by House Banking Head in Radio Address

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(A.P.) — Warning against the purchase by Americans of German reparation bonds and a charge that these securities are illegal, have been issued by Chairman McFadden of the House Banking Committee.

He asserted that the Bank for International Settlements was formed for the purpose of mobilizing American financial resources with those of Europe through the sale in this country of millions of dollars worth of German reparations bonds and a consequent flow of gold to Europe.

The purchase of these bonds he described as an entangling alliance that will "drag us into the World Court, the Bank for International Settlements and eventually into the League of Nations."

ASSAILS MORGAN

McFadden made these assertions in a radio address last night over a nation-wide hookup under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

He said he was calling upon the State Department to advise American investors as to whether these commercialized German reparations bonds are legal," adding that the agreement signed by Germany under the Dawes and Young committees " held by good authority to be void by law."

The House member went on to assail the firm of J. P. Morgan, declaring it to be the American fiscal agent of Great Britain, France, Belgium and Italy, and, in addition, the American representative under State Department edict" to the International bank.

HITS RESERVE BOARD

"The action of the State Department in forbidding any further participation by the Federal Reserve System in the Bank of International Settlements," he said, "turns over to the Morgan firm one of the most valuable franchises which any private banking house in the world ever possessed."

In addition, McFadden accused the Federal Reserve System of lending itself in 1927 to a "scheme of the foreign bankers to get a further grip on our banking resources" by lowering rediscount rates with the result, he said, that more than $500,000,000 worth of gold was exported to Europe.

ROADS BLOCKED IN 3 COUNTIES

DUBOIS, Pa., March 28.—Motor traffic over the highways in Clearfield, Elk and Jefferson counties was practically at a standstill last night for the first time in four years, as high winds whipped the heaviest snow fall of the season into deep drifts. Ten inches of snow had fallen in 36 hours and showed no signs of abating at midnight.

Coming after many miles of storm fences had been removed from the mountain sections, the storm swept improved roads without protecting barriers. Many cuts were drifted level, snow in some places being six feet deep.

German War Pilot Sued by Aged Wife

CHICAGO, March 28.—(AP.)—Mrs. Lottie Brenner von Buelow, 67, yesterday filed suit for divorce from Enrique Dechow von Buelow, former German World War aviator, who is 30 years her junior. Her bill charges unfaithfulness.

Mrs. von Buelow is the widow of Nathan T. Brenner, millionaire politician and former president of the American Insulated Wire and Cable Company. He died two years ago, after settling $750,000 on her.

Co-Ed Vote Favors Rooms for Smoking

EVANSTON, Ill., March 28.—That Northwestern University co-eds favor smoking rooms in their residence houses was indicated today from a poll taken among 333 girls, 282 of whom voted for the privileges. The canvass was made by the Daily Northwestern, student newspaper.

Hit By Mail Sack, Postmaster Dies

POSTBOY, March 28.—David M. Wilson, 75, former postmaster here, died from the effects of being struck by a parcel post sack thrown from a train June 14, 1926.

Choose Their Easter Bonnets

In Pittsburgh's Most Attractive Juvenile Millinery Shop

Now comes the important business of selecting girls' hats—for what young lady doesn't insist upon a charming new bonnet for Easter Sunday! The Girls' Millinery Shop, conveniently located on the Children's Floor—as modern in arrangement and equipment as an exclusive millinery salon—is a shop designed especially to cater to our youthful clientele. Mirrored tables, and low benches, are just low enough that small tots may sit and view their hats to the best advantage. Low, mirrored cases permit even the youngest shopper to look around and choose for herself.

And this beautifully appointed shop is no more attractive than the wide selections of the hats that young ladies from 2 to 14 years prefer.

There are youthful types with bows and furbelows for smaller girls . . . naive, close-fitting styles, and those just-a-bit-sophisticated styles that older schoolgirls like . . . dress-up hats and tailored hats . . . lacy straws, novelty braids, peanut straws, perle hemp and toyo straws.

$2.95, $3.95, $5.00, $5.95

Finer Hats of Bangkok, Fine Milans, French Felts. From $5.95 to $9.75

Wedded! Charles of London Comfort and Mohair's Wear

The Most Comfortable Furniture on Record—Now Very Durable, Too!

$185

Charles of London endeared himself to the men of all the world when he designed the marvelously comfortable furniture that bears his name. Its peculiar construction permits the use of springs of great depth—impossible in almost all other types of furniture. So much for Charles of London. Kaufmann's has covered this classic suite (modified) in MOHAIR, which (as every woman should know), is the most durable of all pile fabrics. The depth of the seat is 23 inches—two inches more than usual. The front feet are solid mahogany; the frame is of strong maple and oak. The filling is hair and cotton. You may have this suite in seven shades of mohair (tapestries if desired) delivered for just $185.

ANNOUNCEMENT ON PAGE 41

LAW TALK GIVEN BY WICKERSHAM

PHILADELPHIA, March 28 (AP.)—The most important work of the law is the solution of equations between human restraint and liberty, George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's Commission on Law Enforcement, declared last night in addressing the Alumni Society of the University of Pennsylvania law school with the class of 1880 was tendered a reception at the close of the society's annual meeting.

"There are two important conclusions in regard to reform in law," Wickersham said. "You must not put too much before the people at one time, and you must not attempt to reform the whole earth in one fell swoop.

"One of the greatest difficulties with the current crop of suggested remedies is that they come from persons who are misinformed. Until a man has learned the history and growth of great institutions he is in no position to suggest nostrums for something which at the moment commands public attention.

"But for the law there would be no liberty, and but for restraint there would be no freedom. So when people talk of the infringement of liberty, we are likely to think of liberty of thought, for liberty of action must always be increasingly restrained.

"Today the most important work of the law is the solution of equations between human restraint and human liberty."

WOMAN GIVEN FIRST DEGREE

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 28—A verdict of first degree murder with a penalty of life imprisonment was returned yesterday by the jury in the case of Bertha Blunt on trial before Judge James A. Chambers on the charge of murdering John Henry King. This is the sixth murder case in the present term of court in which first degree verdicts have been returned.

Irene Schroeder will get the death penalty, while Charles Llewellyn, William Ormon, Jr., Martin Jack, McDevitt and Bertha Blunt will undergo life imprisonment.

The seventh murder case of the present term is still in progress.

Real Estate

Four brick houses in King avenue, Highland district, have been sold for Hattie Laughlin to Kristina Stremple who deeded at a valuation of $21,500 a double brick house at 5348-50 Alderson street, Squirrel Hill. Ira Aricson closed the deal. The same broker sold for Charles Andrews of Los Angeles, Cal., to an investor a duplex at 5867-69 Beacon street, Squirrel Hill.

The La France Textile Industries has obtained under lease 2,000 square feet on the first floor of the Keystone Athletic Club facing Third avenue. The lease was for a term of years and the room will be used for office and sales purposes. The Samuel W. Black Company made the deal.

The Auto Service Battery and Electric Company has conveyed to A. M. Hauber 16x140 feet with a service building at the northeast corner of Penn and Braddock avenues, Homewood, for $16,000.

In Mt. Lebanon, Albert N. Young, builder, has sold to William G. Yost a 12-room stone residence and two-car garage on 100x150 feet at 1010 Martha avenue. The purchaser deeded in part payment a brick dwelling on 25x100 feet at 426 Edgemont street, Eighteenth Ward.

A three-story brick building with seven garages at the rear at the northeast corner of Penn and Trenton avenues, Wilkinsburg, has been conveyed by Samuel N. McKinney to Cornelia V. Harrison. The lot is 75x140 feet.

In Swissvale, the Braddock Trust Company has sold to Martin Moran a property of irregular shape on the north side of Braddock avenue near Farkas street for $11,000.

In Oakmont, Ebner Patrizio has sold to Emil F. Loeffler 70x150 feet with a house in Eighth street.

A property on the northeast side of Paulson avenue near Dunmore street, lot 50x120 feet, has been sold by Joseph B. O'Leary to Gaetano Castelli.

Frank Exler has sold to Elmer J. Harrison 100x...0 feet in Stanlea avenue and 80x116 feet at the southwest corner of Oswego and Belgium avenues, North Side.

A business building on the west side of Federal street near River avenue, North Side, has been conveyed from Katherine R. Calhoun, et al., to Joseph Trozzo. The lot is 62x122 feet.

On the North Side, W. B. Dawson & Co., sold for Albert Wittmer to Natale DeMare a building lot in Shadeland avenue.

FARM DIRECTOR MAY KEEP POST

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(INS.)—Although Alexander H Legge accepted the chairmanship of the federal farm board for only one year, it is probable he will agree to continue in the post when his year expires in June.

Having inaugurated a policy which has brought him into conflict with grain commission interests, through the federal purchase of commodities, the belief is prevalent here that the chairman will be forced to remain in his post to carry on the movement which he initiated.

President Hoover is desirous of having Legge remain. At the White House today it was said the President and Legge have not discussed the matter, but there is every indication that Legge will stay.

W. Va. Mayor Gets 7th Straight Term

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., March 28.—(AP.)—W. L. Sutton was named mayor of Sistersville for his seventh consecutive term here yesterday at a non-partisan municipal election at which ballots were cast by about 1,400 of the town's 1,800 registered voters. Sutton polled 823 votes to 604 for L. E. Gregg, his closest opponent.

Knows Groceries, Gets Five Days to Learn Law

CHICAGO, March 28.—(AP.)—Joseph Rashkow knows his groceries but not his law.

Joseph, finding some groceries had been stolen, caused the arrest of three friends.

Judge Alfred O. Erickson fined the trio $5 and costs each.

"I don't think they should be fined $5," pleaded Rashkow with sudden compassion for his friends.

"What do you know about being a judge?" the court replied.

"Nothing, but I know my groceries, and I don't think they should be so high. I think—"

Judge Erickson interrupted. "You go to jail for five days for contempt of court."

Question Sanity Of Bomb Suspect

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 28.—A commission will be appointed to inquire into the mental condition of Frank Giardana, 41, of Vandergrift, held in connection with the placing of a dynamite bomb upon the steps of the Vandergrift Savings and Trust Company.

The bomb fuse had been ignited when found and extinguished.

WILLYS BUYS RARE ALTAR

NEW YORK, March 28.—John N. Willys, of Toledo, O., American ambassador to Poland and former president of the Willys-Overland Company, has purchased through a New York dealer five rare tapestries and a Spanish altar frontal, an announcement here said. The price was reported in excess of $300,000.

Four of the tapestries will go to Willys' winter home in Palm Beach, Fla., and the other to the American embassy in Warsaw.

The altar frontal, which dates from the sixteenth century, comes from the Convent of Santo Domingo El Rael in Toledo, Spain. The collection was brought to this country and sold by Felix Goule, of New York.

Balfour Memorial Planned By Jews

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—The Zionist organization, in cooperation with the Jewish national fund, has decided to plant 5,000 trees in Palestine in memory of the late Lord Balfour. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise made the announcement at a memorial service for the British peer who pledged his country's aid in the establishment of the Jewish national home in Palestine.

Explosion Victim Third Of Family Killed In Mines

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., March 28.—The death of Linn Harvey, former Brownsville man, in a mine blast at Arnettsville, W. Va., Wednesday morning, was the third in the family to die in this manner.

His father was killed several years ago while firing shot in a mine, and a brother lost his life in another blast.

STUDENTS HURT IN PLANE FALL

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—Two aviation students at New York University were injured last night in a crash of an airplane which one of them had won in an intercollegiate essay contest. The accident occurred in a marsh in Queens Borough.

Percy G. Warner, 23, president of the New York University flying club and owner of the plane, suffered a possible fractured skull and a fracture of the leg. Matthew Mack, 21, a member of the flying club, received a fracture of the right arm.

RITCHIE FLAYED BY REPUBLICAN

BALTIMORE, March 28.—(AP.)—Galen L. Tait, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, in a statement here charged Gov. Ritchie was using the Institute of Law at Johns Hopkins University and appointing commissions to make political capital for himself. The Republican leader especially mentioned the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Commission and the Commission to Study Election Reforms.

The governor's campaign for nomination for a fourth term is now in full blast, Tait said, and every resource of his office will be used to force his re-nomination and re-election. The governor, he added, is engaged in flattering individuals and institutions "into buttering his political bread and pulling his political chestnuts out of the fire."

Child, 5, Injured In Path of Auto

WAYNESBURG, Pa., March 28.—Ralph Kennedy, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy, of Mt. Morris, was injured when he ran in front of an automobile said to have been driven by Edgar Haines, of near Mt. Morris.

Raiders Nab Four Near Canonsburg

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 28.—Four arrests were made in raids on South View, near Canonsburg, the defendants being charged with liquor law violations.

Those held were Joseph Walatka, Steve Saraka, Mike Sklanski and John Greene.

Contracts Awarded For W. Va. Capitol

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 28.—(AP.)—Formal awards of two sub-contracts were announced here by W. G. Distler, vice president of the George A. Fuller Company, New York, which will construct the final unit of the state capitol.

Has Things All His Own Way Now

You will find nothing of a dejected, hopeless look in Maurice Simon's face now; nor any trace of bad breath or rashy skin, since he learned how to keep down the excessive acids which come when his stomach can't digest the starchy and sweet food he eats. "I am taking Acidine," says Mr. Simon, whose address is 1032 North Dearborn St., Chicago, with a show of satisfaction his conquest gives him, "and don't even have the bad taste in my mouth, to say nothing of the indigestion."

Try ACIDINE yourself if you have a stomach which lets your food turn to acid and fill you with gas. ACIDINE will liquify the sour mass so it can pass out. It sweetens the stomach and you'll enjoy every bite of food you eat. Get ACIDINE at any drug store.

No Junior-Miss Can Be Without a "Dressy" Frock and Coat

$25.

For the gay parties, "rushing" teas, bridges, and dates when you want to look your best—McCreery's 'dressy' crepe frocks with organdie collars and cuffs, belts that flatter figures, and too many commendable points to mention.

For over them McCreery's sophisticated coats of covert or wool crepes with jaunty capes, some fur trimmed. All quality high fashions—at a price to meet junior-miss purses. Every new color included.

Frock Sizes, 11 to 17
Coat Sizes, 13 to 17

(McCreery's—Junior-Miss Shop—Third Floor)

Smart Silk Pajamas

That Make Sleeping and Lounging Hours Even More of a Pleasure

$3.95

At the slightest provocation into these pajamas you'll go — for they're the cutest styles ever. Tuck-ins that feel so good on—of the "100% pure spun silk" that's famous for being washable, durable, colorfast—with the popular wide trousers — well made, too!

When we offered these once before they fairly "walked out"—so get yours early. The price, remember, is most moderate for such McCreery pajamas.

Small, Medium, Large Sizes in Every Imaginable Color

(McCreery's—Second Floor)

A New Elastic Step-In

$5.

There's much to commend! McCreery's exclusive elastic step-in has a bit of lacing to make it easy to slip on and off—it comes an inch above the waistline, doing away with the "roll" — reinforced to give figures slim lines —and so inexpensive!

Sizes 26 to 32

(Second Floor)

THE ORIGINAL CUT PRICE DRUGGISTS OF PITTSBURGH FOR 37 YEARS

Kiwanis Club Hears Lecture on Cancer

When a victim waits for pain then cancer generally is too far gone, Dr. Heinz Langer, of the West Penn Hospital staff, told Kiwanis Club of Pittsburgh members at the weekly luncheon yesterday in the Fort Pitt Hotel. Dr. Langer stressed that cancer always is due to a combination of weaknesses. Delegate.. to the national convention were named yesterday as follows: Ed Ludwig, president; A. H. Meyers, secretary; and Thomas S. Ashford III, district trustee.

Millvale Schools War on Cigarets

The Millvale school board is waging war against the use of cigarets among school children of the borough. The board has sounded a warning against the sale of cigarets to minors, citing a law which imposes a fine of from $100 to $300 on those who give or sell cigarets to minors and carries a penalty of five days' imprisonment to minors over 16 years who refuse to give information as to the whereabouts of the purchase.

Grotto Ceremonial At Davis Theater

Islam Grotto's annual Spring Ceremonial will be staged in the Davis theater, Smithfield street, Monday night. The affair will take on the form of a joint ceremonial, with classes from Morgantown, W. Va., and Steubenville, Ohio, being initiated. Prior to the ceremonial, the Grotto Patrol will meet the visiting delegations and will parade through the downtown, culminating at McCreery's dining room, where a banquet will be served.

CHINESE 'REDS' CAPTURE TOWN

CANTON, March 28.—(AP.)—Communist and bandit forces which have held sway in southern Kiangsi Province for several weeks were believed today to have taken Nananfu, Kiangsi, but 50 miles from Kanchow, where 16 American Catholic missionaries have been unable to escape through the lawless bands.

Efforts to communicate with cities in the southern part of Kiangsi continued fruitless and no word had been heard of the safety of the missionaries, for whom fears have been held for some days. Chinese officials continued to maintain that Red siege on Kanchow had been lifted but due principally to lack of telegraphic facilities, which are being controlled by the bandits, confirmation was impossible.

SHOTS ROUT 2 IN RUM PLANE

SEATTLE, Wash., March 28.—(AP.)—Fleeing from shots fired by United States customs agents, the two-man crew of an alleged liquor-smuggling seaplane escaped from an inlet near Meadowdale, 20 miles north of Seattle. The abandoned plane was found later on a beach close to the city, with its fuel tanks dry.

The officers opened fire when they saw one of the fliers reach down into the cockpit as if he intended to obtain a weapon. The fuselage was badly damaged by the shots before the plane took off.

The officers arrested Arthur E. Munday, of Seattle, whom they found on the beach, seized his car and a quantity of alleged liquor.

SUIT TO ANNUL TIE DELAYED

EASTON, Md., March 28.—(AP.)—Illness of Judge William H. Adkins, of the Talbot County Circuit court, forced a postponement of the case of W. Frank Leonard, 76, seeking annulment of his marriage to Jean Schilling, 23, of Baltimore, last January, in Chestertown. Judge Adkins has the grip, and the postponement of the case was indefinite.

Two days after their marriage, the bride returned to Baltimore, claiming Mr. Leonard did not supply her with the necessities of life. Later she entered a suit for $50 a week alimony. In the meantime Leonard filed his suit.

6 CHILDREN ILL OF RAT POISON

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(AP.)—Six children were in serious condition today from the effects of rat poison, which they ate from a can found in an alley near their homes.

The children are: Lorena, 9; James, 7, and John McCoy, 5; Irene, 6; Lorena, 3, and Theresa Gerardin, 11 months old. The McCoy and Gerardin homes are on opposite sides of the alley.

As soon as they had eaten the poison, the children began screaming. At the General Hospital the children were reported in serious condition.

Name of Man Killed On Tracks Mystery

FATE OF KILLER OF 7 WITH JURY

ELDORADO, Kan., March 28.—(AP.)—Owen Oberst, 19-year-old Burns, Kan., farmer boy, once sentenced to life imprisonment for thes laying of seven members of his family, today waited in his cell for the verdict of the second jury to since try him for the murder of his father, Will Oberst.

The youth, who apparently had enjoyed good health during his nearly two years' imprisonment, last night suffered a heart attack. A physician was called and after treatment the prisoner was said to now be in a serious condition.

Late yesterday the case was given to the jury, which shortly afterward was dismissed for the night.

The night of April 20, 1928, the Oberst farm house burned to the ground. Bodies of the youth's father and mother and five brothers and sisters, several with bullet wounds, were found in the ruins.

After an investigation the boy was arrested. He had attended a moving picture show the night of the fire. The state charged he slew the family in a quarrel over use of the Oberst automobile.

MAN, DIVORCEE DIE BY SHOOTING

WAUKEGAN, Ill., March 28.—(AP.)—Murder and suicide was the police theory here in the deaths of Mrs. Myrtle Brown, divorcee, and Albert B. Hooper, of Roanoke, Va., whose bodies were found in her home in Waukegan late Wednesday.

The two were discovered by Bertie Brown, 8 years old, one of Mrs. Brown's three children. An empty revolver lay near Hooper, and a bottle of poison near Mrs. Brown. Both had been shot. According to Waukegan police, Hooper, a boarder in the Brown home, had often made love to the divorcee and had threatened to kill himself unless she married him.

Mrs. Brown was divorced six months ago from Henry Brown, now of Chicago.

CAUSE PUZZLES IN MINE BLAST

ARNETTSVILLE, W. Va., March 28.—(AP.)—Investigation in the Yukon mine of the Crown Coal Company here, where 12 men were killed in an explosion Wednesday, failed to reveal the cause or point of origin of the blast, mine experts said last night.

A. B. Spencer, district mine inspector delegated by Robert M. Lambie, chief of the State Department of Mines, to head the board of inquiry, said the explosion presented one of the most perplexing problems ever to come to his notice.

Shaw Play Staged By Arnold School

Ambitious students of Arnold School rendered for their annual dramatic production last night George Bernard Shaw's melodrama, "The Devil's Disciple."

Dramatizing the conflict between puritanism and the free and easy cavalier life, the show produced to full extent, the Shavian satire.

"The Devil's Disciple" was enacted by dramatic enthusiasts of the school last evening in the gymnasium of the Pittsburgh Athletic Club.

Former Bedford Prosecutor Dies

BEDFORD, Pa., March 28.—Emory H. Claar, formerly district attorney of Bedford County, died in the Clearfield Hospital, Clearfield, Pa. His body was brought here for interment, following services at the Claar home.

ABOUT SCREEN PLAYS AND PLAYERS ALONG WITH LOCAL STAGE NOTES

The Barrymores, Dolores And John, May Play In "Trilby"

By DOROTHY HERZOG.

(Copyrighted, 1930, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, March 28.

A STORY of considerable interest that may or may not be a "report" reaches this department. To wit: That Dolores Costello's return to the silver sheet will be in the name part of "Trilby." And that John Barrymore will portray the dastardly role of Svengali. This talky will also celebrate the reunion of John and Dolores on the screen.

At the present scribbling, Mrs. Barrymore is awaiting the arrival of the new family boss. John is busy emoting in "The Sea Beast" with Joan Bennett in the role originally created on the screen by Dolores Costello.

Dolores Costello.

I believe "Trilby" has been filmed several times, but the films were of little or no consequence. With Barrymore as Svengali though—ah, there's anticipation.

NOW IT IS PEARL

ROMANCE is cycling in the Eaton family. Mary Eaton is so happily married to Millard (Director) Webb that she doesn't appear at all interested in the flicks.

Now along comes Pearl Eaton. Pearl is the terpsichore chieftain of the RKO lot, imported for this job from the Manhattan stage months ago. I hear tell that t'was at a Hollywood wedding that Pearl met the man who has knocked her for the W. K. loop. He isn't in pictures. Which may be more of an attribute than anything else.

Mary Eaton.

Miss Eaton is expected to announce her engagement officially in June, with the wedding postponed a year. I tried to get details from Pearl, but she's a cagey one—that wench.

PHONE WAKES NED

NED SPARKS has been working his shaye of late and then some. T'other eve., he hit the hay early. He was snoring (?) peacefully when, at 1:30 a. m., he was awakened by the long, whine-y ring of the telephone. Ned answered it, plenty grouchy. The voice on the other end was located in New York. It asked Ned to come on and go into a show. Maybe it was because he was so darn sleepy, but at all events Ned burned and informed the voice in precise words exactly what he thought of a stage proposition at that hour of the morn. Which ends this.

BENNY RUBIN is up and about after his battle with flu. He is eager to start work on his next—and last under the present contract—funster for Tiffany, "Hot Curves." His plans after finishing this 'un are that-way, now, but I wouldn't be s'prised if Benny and R K O got together. This kumpny has two crack comedians in Bob Woolsey and Bert Wheeler, but there must always be plenty of room for others.

Benny was recounting a ducky story about himself and saying that either a guy was dumb or else lavishly complimentary. He was riding along in his coupe when someone hailed. Benny stopped his car. A chap dashed over and remarked:

"Hello."

"Hello," surprised as he didn't recognize the hellocr.

"How's everything?"

"All right.'

"How's the baby?"

"Fine."

"And the wife?"

"Yeah."

"Nice to have seen you, Johnny."

Benny rubbed his chin. "Say, who do you think I am?"

"Johnny Mack Brown," nodded the stranger.

And Benny drove on, wondering who was kidding who . . .

See Him Twice

Eddie Dowling may be seen twice down in the Stanley — and you don't have to be seeing "double" either. He makes a personal appearance on the stage and is starred in the film, "Blaze O' Glory."

NEW THEATER BILLS OFFER POPULAR ATTRACTIONS

"The Merry Widow," operetta by Franz Lehar, with Beppie de Vries and Donald Brian playing the leading roles, comes to the Alvin next week. Seats are now on sale at the box office.

"Strange Interlude," which comes to the Nixon Monday, will be presented by the same Theater Guild cast that played it in the Blackstone Theater in Chicago for 18 weeks. Elisabeth Risdon is the leading woman.

John Golden first produced the comedy-drama, "Two Girls Wanted," which the George Sharp Players have selected for next week's presentation in the Pitt.

Chicago Orchestra Here Next Monday

Frederick Stock will lead his Chicago Orchestra of 100 players in the closing concert in the Pittsburgh Orchestra Association series next Monday night in Syria Mosque. Mr. Stock announces the following major works; Brahms' Symphony No. 3, in F Major; the Bach Concerto No. 3, G Major; a choreographic poem by Ravel; and selections from Act III, "Siegfried," by Wagner, including Siegfried Ascending Brunnhilde's Rock; Brunnhilde's Awakening, and the Finale.

With His Girl

Ben Lyon is back on the screen and this time with his real life girl friend, Bebe Daniels. They are featured in "Alias French Gertie," which comes later to the Sheridan Square.

Pitt Debaters Meet Cleveland Orators

Whether or not nations should disarm, with the exception of small forces for police purposes, was to be debated today by Western Reserve and University of Pittsburgh debating teams in North Braddock High School. Western Reserve, on an eastern tour, will take the affirmative side of the question.

On its trip, the Reservists, besides meeting Pitt, will debate with Penn State, Temple, George Washington, Princeton, Rutgers, and New York Universities.

Spanish War Vets To See Gayety Film

Spanish American War veterans will be guests of Camp Alfred Hunt, United Spanish War Veterans and the Cine-Music Company tonight, at the presentation in the Gayety theater of the stirring European war film, "The Soul of France." Membership buttons or badges of the veterans' organizations, will admit the veteran to the theater. A fifty-piece orchestra under direction of Umberto Ugizi, will play a number of tunes of the 1898 period. The party was announced by Miss Jeanne O. Hayes, secretary of Camp Alfred Hunt.

First-Year Drama Students in Play

Freshmen students of the department of drama, Carnegie Institute of Technology, will present "The Virgin and the Clerk" beginning Wednesday, April 2, in the Little Theater of the College of Fine Arts. There will be six performances, the last on Tuesday evening, April 8. Each begins at 8:15 p. m.

Vet Convention Unit Headed by Coolidge

BOSTON, March 28.—(AP.)—Former President Calvin Coolidge has accepted the honorary presidency of the 1930 National Convention Corporation of the American Legion, convention headquarters announced. The convention will be held here in October.

HOOVER NAMES LANG, RIFFLE

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Two Pittsburgh men have been honored by President Hoover in being appointed as delegates to the fifth International Congress of Building and Public Works, to be held in London May 26 to 30. They are Director Edward G. Lang, of the Pittsburgh Department of Public Works, and David T. Riffle, president of the National Association of Building Trades Employes.

The delegation will be composed of 14 members, headed by L. K. Comstock, of the New York firm of that name.

Following the sessions the delegates will make an eight-day tour to inspect the important industrial and public works at Birkenhead, Liverpool, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Newcastle, Leeds and other cities.

15th U. S. Engineers Arrange Reunion

The annual reunion and banquet of the Fifteenth regiment, United States Engineers, will be held April 26 in the English Room of the Fort Pitt Hotel, the committee has announced. General Edgar Jadwin, former commander of the regiment, will be guest of honor. A record attendance is anticipated.

Dr. J. A. Sharp, 64, College Head, Dies

ATLANTA, March 28.—(AP.)—Dr. J. A. Sharp, 64, president of Young Harris College for the last 30 years with the exception of the period 1916 to 1922, died yesterday.

NEW YORK, March 28.

THINGS I NEVER KNEW TILL NOW

THAT in Spain women do not go to funerals, unless, of course, they are in the hearse.

That the Spokane, Washington, Chronicle is published on lavender paper.

That a solid tire can have a blowout. Such blowouts are caused by the collecting of air at a spot where the tire has separated from the steel rim. The air bubble, expanding from heat, causes the damage.

That Richard Shikat, world's champ wrestler, appears at each match with perfume on his body and his nails manicured.

That to make your tongue feel as though it fits your mouth the morn after, try canned grapefruit segments sprinkled with salt.

ITS AN EDIBLE

THAT you can win bets by arguing that "tabloid" is something to eat and not to read. See the dictionary.

That all Cohens are descendants of the caste of priests in the ancient Jewish state.

That Time, the magazine, keeps a scrapbook of "This Town of Ours" columns, which appear here.

That Italians are considered the most talkative people in the world, followed by the French and Spanish.

That punctuation was not introduced until the sixteenth century.

That wrinkles are caused as often by laughing as by scowling.

That baseball is derived from the old English game of rounders.

That the heart beats 81 times per minute when you are standing, 71 times when sitting and 66 times when you are lying down.

LOOK AT IT NOW

THAT beer once was dark and sweet. About 60 years ago, the tax on hops was removed and they were used freely in beer-making. The new light beer was pleasantly bitter in taste and although at first christened "tonic ale"—"bitter" soon became its accepted name.

That quick-growing fingernails is a sign of good health. Yet they grow after you kick off.

That the ace of the tongue-twisters goes this way: If you remember how much easier it is to remember what you would rather forget than remember, than to remember what you would rather remember than forget—then you can't forget how much easier it is to forget what you would rather remember than forget, than to forget what you would rather forget than remember. Whew!

TRY IT IF YOU LIKE

THAT some idea of the immensity of a billion can be gauged from the fact that if you could count up to 200 in a minute, 9,512 years, 342 days, 5 hours and 20 minutes would pass before you accomplished your task.

That the North Pole is not the coldest thing in the universe. Liquid hydrogen has a temperature of 422 degrees below zero.

That opals are considered unlucky because they first became fashionable at the time of the first Great Plague of London.

That the average American knows more words of the national anthem than he does of "The St. Louis Blues," which is more popular.

That bread in Moscow is only one-third the price of oats and is therefore used for feeding horses.

That the fire policy you carry on the furnishing in your home may cover you for ciggie burns in the sofa or carpet.

ANOTHER THING

THAT for the first six months of her "Abie's Irish Rose" show, Anne Nichols got the cast to accept cuts in salary and when the show began making money she paid them back in a lump sum.

That Argentinita, the dancer who flopped in a revue, lost her job and was cat-called by the press, gave a Sunday performance at a local theater and triumped before a crowded house of swells.

That you can get a "drink" on the Bowery for a dime.

That the term "matinee" signifies something "in the morning" but ultimately was applied at a show given before evening.

JUST HIMSELF

THAT Jonathan Daniels, whose "Clash of Angels" novel was published by Brewer & Warren, Inc., on March 17, is a son of Josephus Daniels, former Wilson cabinet member, and he won't permit that fact exploited on the jacket or other advertising.

And that the war to be the last name in the Manhattan 'phone tome is getting stupid. Zebediah Z. Zzyz thought he had discovered how to win the distinction of telling people: "Look me up, I'm last in the 'phone book," but he is third from last. The last name is Margot Wilson Zzzyn, who avers it is her real tag. And that the publication of it in the directory has caused her no end of annoyance from morons who call her up. She is thinking, she says, of dropping it for classification under the Wilsons. Miss Zzzyn is from Poland and her voice via the wire makes you so zorry zat zey are so zlow mit television.

HUGE ALCOHOL PLANT RAIDED

NEWARK, N. J., March 28.—(AP.)—An alcohol distilling plant said by dry agents to have cost $100,000 and to have a capacity of 10,000 gallons of alcohol a day, was seized by Federal prohibition officers in a factory building here.

According to the government agents, no expense had been spared to insure not only speed in manufacture, but the utilization of the most modern equipment in the plant as well.

The agents said the plant had been in operation for about a month and has provided almost 500,000 gallons of 190 proof alcohol.

NIPPON GIRLS REACH HAWAII

HONOLULU, March 28.—(AP.)—Five Japanese girls en route to the United States to express Japan's gratitude for aid given after the destructive earthquake in Japan in 1923, were guests at a civic luncheon arranged in their honor here yesterday. Later a reception was tendered to them at the Japanese consulate.

They are due in San Francisco April 2. Representing Tokio are the Misses Yoshiko Matsudaira, Yoshiko Sato, Sumiko Tokuta and Kimiko Ashino. Yokohama's representative is Miss Keiko Nakamura. Their tour, besides being one of gratitude to America, signalizes the reconstruction of Tokio, just completed.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Pains or Bladder Is Irritated.

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

A day that might have meant so much—and she has to be excused. What a pity there's a woman left who does not know of Midol! One or two tablets in time, and not a twinge of pain throughout the periodic process. Or an end to such suffering at any time, five to seven minutes after Midol is taken. Yet this merciful medicine is non-narcotic. Its wonderful results are due to the fact it acts directly on the organs affected; so it's utterly harmless, and it is only common sense to use it. Midol comes in a clever little case of metal you can slip in the smallest purse. And the cost of this comfort is fifty cents.*

* Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

Is Your Daughter Well and Strong?

There are three trying periods in a woman's life, when the girl matures to womanhood; when a woman gives birth to her first child; when a woman reaches middle age. At these times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps to restore normal health and vigor. Thousands testify to its worth.

Daughter of Mrs. F. Butcher, R. No. 2, Gridley, Kansas

"My thirteen year old daughter Maxine was troubled with backache and pain when she came into womanhood. I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would help her because I used to take it myself at her age. Now she does not have to stay home from school, and her color is good, she eats well and does not complain of being tired."—Mrs. Floyd Butcher.

Daughter of Mrs. J. Bartholdi, Thompson's Addition, The Dalles, Oregon

"My daughter Magdalen did not seem to develop as she should. At times she had no pep at all and couldn't get her school work very easily. For four years we doctored her, off and on. Then a friend told us about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I got a bottle for Magdalen. Her nerves are quieting, her general health is better and she is now as normal as other girls. I really think the Compound helped her more than all the other medicine I gave her."—Mrs. J. Bartholdi.

Daughter of Mrs. M. Milano, 1408 Park Ave., New York, New York

"My seventeen year old daughter Fannie was rundown, weak and nervous. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she has gained in weight and strength. She eats and sleeps well. She is a packer and she is able to go to work every day. We recommend the medicine to other mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. Milano.

Greensburg After Glider Meeting

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 28.—Gliding will be introduced at the Pittsburgh-Greensburg airport of the Main Aeronautics Company, following the purchase of a new glider. Efforts are being made, on account of the advantages of the field, to have the National Glider Association use the airport for its annual competition this year.

Campus Shot Kills College Professor

MADISON, Wis., March 28.—(AP.)—Prof. Griffith Richards, 41, associate professor of soils at the University of Wisconsin since 1919, today was found shot to death in his office on the campus. Authorities said they believed he killed himself with a shotgun. The body was found by a stenographer.

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

SCORES ENTER STATE RACE

Wife Kills Self Over Husband's One Drink

ATLANTA, March 28.—(AP.)—A. G. Scott, railroad baggagemaster, took a drink of whisky for his chronic appendicitis, then came home and kissed his wife, he told police.

She detected the whisky odor, asked him about it and declared she was going to "end it all." Before he could stop her, he said, she snatched a revolver from a mantel and fired a fatal bullet through her head.

Scott told police he was not a drinking man, but had taken only one drink because of illness.

SOLDIER HANGS FOR KILLING

WILMINGTON, Del., March 28.—(INS.)—Louis Galvano, 20-year-old former United States soldier, died on the gallows at the New Castle County Workhouse today for the slaying of his fellow-comrade, Private Arthur C. Cline, last Christmas Eve.

The hangman's trap was sprung shortly after 10:30 o'clock this morning. Just before he walked up the scaffold steps Galvano handed a sealed letter to the Rev. J. Francis Tucker and asked him to "hold this until midnight—then open it."

Authorities believe the missive contains information in connection with other crimes possibly committed by the youth.

Pyramids Will Be Pulpits for Aimee

CHICAGO, March 28.—(INS.)—Aimee Semple McPherson, her daughter, Roberta, and 23 followers, today were en route to New York, whence they will leave for the Holy Land.

The evangelist stopped here long enough last night to announce she is going to preach on Mount Olivet, Good Friday and Easter Sunday. From there the pilgrimage will journey to Cairo, she said.

"I expect to preach all over the Pyramids," Mrs. McPherson explained.

QUIZ PRISONERS ON DONOHOE

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 28.—Two Fayette county inmates of the Allegheny County Workhouse, Mike Roberts and R. C. Bledsoe, the latter former county detective and for years head of the Baltimore and Ohio detectives of Connellsville division, came here today to appear as star witnesses in the concluding session of the coroner's inquest into the murder of John Donohoe, last July 31.

Evidence regarding circumstances leading up to the murder of Donohoe are expected to come from the lips of the two men who last September were sentenced to long terms in the Workhouse for liquor offenses.

Gets Jail Sentence For Stealing Fish

A street fight would not have cost Frank Serra, 32, no address, a $5 fine or 5 days to jail today if he had not done combat with a smoked fish. When James Morris, 28, Negro, of 1403 Colwell street, and Serra, alleged armed with a penknife, did combat in Wylie avenue yesterday, Serra took possession of a fish hanging in front of a grocery store. Morris was discharged, but Magistrate Leo Rothenberg figured Serra stole the fish.

O. M. Barber Dead; Ex-Customs Judge

BENNINGTON, Vt., March 28.—(AP.)—Orion Metcalf Barber, retired judge of the United States Court of Customs Appeals, died here today at the age of 72. Death was due to heart disease, with which he had been afflicted for several years.

Guard Officers Face Fund Shortage Quiz

CHICAGO, March 28.—(INS.)—Several officers of the Illinois National Guard, including one of high rank, face investigation in connection with an alleged shortage of $100,000 in the funds of the Broadway Armory and Two-hundred and Second Coast Artillery Regiment, it was reported here today.

Investigators said they found discrepancies extending over a period of seven years.

Europa to Sail With 1,375 Passengers

NEW YORK, March 28.—(INS.)—When the North German Lloyd liner Europa sails for the other side tonight on the return trip of her first Atlantic crossing, the "Queen of the Seas" will carry 1,375 passengers.

Ira Nelson Morris, of Chicago, former ambassador to Sweden; Lady Louise Mountbatten, J. M. Beck, film executive, of Los Angeles, and Ivan Bede, author, will be among the passengers.

Eat With Healthy Appetite Sleep Without Drugs

Says Pittsburgh Physician

Dr. Claude Anderson Doak of Pittsburgh

"Flaxolyn Whips Vital Organs to Normal Action, Constipation Condition Relieved Naturally," Says Dr. Claude Anderson Doak

Thousands of men and women here who formerly suffered nights of sleeplessness and days of agonizing stomach distress, now feel fit and get a keen pleasure out of life, since receiving the benefits of Dr. Lunta's Herbal Flaxolyn.

"I have used Flaxolyn for some time and am recommending it all the time to my patients and friends," writes Dr. Claude Anderson Doak, physician of Pittsburgh. "When taking Flaxolyn, after the first few spoonfuls, the user begins to feel better at once.

"You note a condition of physical content as the formula whips the vital organs to more normal action. Flaxolyn acts upon the liver and intestines in such a way that the body is immediately benefited. The new vitaminized Flaxolyn is certainly a wonderful tonic."

Stomach Sufferers Acclaim Herbal Flaxolyn Discovery

L. A. Minister Tells How Flaxolyn Saved His Stomach and Health.

Flaxolyn is today being widely acclaimed by stomach sufferers, but no case is as striking as that of Dr. Middlekauff, of Los Angeles, who writes as follows:

"Some years ago when I was in personal need of gastro-intestinal help, I used Flaxolyn with excellent results. I am a retired minister. I broke down in health completely 15 years ago. But with the help of Flaxolyn I am slowly getting back my health. I am enclosing $10 for a quantity of Flaxolyn to help my patients, as I am now a Naturopathic Physician. I am sure of helping many people with Flaxolyn because it pays proper attention to stomach needs which ordinary laxatives do not."

Dr. Middlekauff, of Los Angeles

Pittsburgh Man Tells How Flaxolyn Brings New Strength and Energy

Mr. Merle Snyder, of 22 Isabella St

Over at 22 Isabella Street there is a man who can testify to the remarkable benefits of Flaxolyn. His name is Merle Snyder, and he can tell you that for months he was suffering miserably from constipation, gas and weak stomach. He was always tired out and lacking in real pep. Shortly after trying Flaxolyn, Mr. Snyder says:

"I certainly do feel wonderful now. My stomach is STRONG, and at last can eat without fear of after-effects. I feel greatly invigorated since taking Flaxolyn."

Why delay? Why not make every day of your life more worth while living? Why not clear up internal irregularities such as constipation, poisons, liver sluggishness, kidney irritation? Why not give yourself that natural color that comes from a healthier body? Flaxolyn is pleasant, economical, and quick to bring results. Try it at once, don't wait—improve your health now—before the season of sickness sets in.

CLIP THIS VALUABLE REMINDER

Every reader who would like to feel better, eat better, sleep better and look better, can obtain a bottle of the wonderful new vitaminized Herbal Flaxolyn on this liberal offer: If Flaxolyn does not bring satisfactory results by the sixth spoonful, you may bring back the partly used bottle and have the full purchase price refunded!

Don't wait. Thousands of druggists all over Pennsylvania are selling Flaxolyn and are telling their customers how much real good it is doing. Start taking Flaxolyn. You will feel the tonic change at once. You will enjoy renewed vigor, and so gain a new and better grip on life.

MEXICANS SEEK LINDY RECORDS

MEXICO CITY, March 28.—(AP.) — Determined efforts to break Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's two principal flight records will be made by crack Mexican pilots on about the third anniversary of Lindbergh's flight to Paris.

Col. Gustavo Leon and Col. Roberto Fierro, both well-known international fliers, will figure as the principals in the daring speed attempts designed to lower Lindbergh's New York-to-Paris and Washington-to-Mexico City time, as a means of demonstrating the ability of Mexican aviators.

Col. Leon expects to be ready in late April or early May for an attempted one-stop flight from Mexico City to Paris. The first leg of this flight, Mexico City to New York, never has been made in non-stop flight.

Col. Fierro, already has established his name as a good-will flier, and was a hero in the last Mexican revolution, believes he can cut eight to ten hours off Lindbergh's Washington-to-Mexico City flight made in December, 1927.

DINTY MOORE'S PLACE RAIDED

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—The secret panel in Dinty Moore's was no secret today after a squad of federal prohibition agents went behind it and emerged with a taxicab load of assorted beverages.

Dinty Moore's restaurant in West Forty-sixth street, a favorite with theatrical folks, was crowded last night when Agent James Healy and 14 other prohibition agents rose from tables in various parts of the dining room and converged on the kitchen.

One pulled a chain hanging from a wall, and the "secret" panel opened. Through the opening the agents descended into the sub-basement from which they took burlap bags and cartons and bottles.

They said the haul included ale, beer, whisky and cordials.

OFFICER HELD IN BEATING

Policeman E. K. Coberly was being held without bail in Woods Run Police Station today pending developments in the condition of William J. Buch, of 516 Chautauqua street, reported in critical condition in Allegheny General Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull.

Police were told Coberly beat Buch outside the Coberly home at 8 Drum street last night. Buch, former tenant of an adjoining house owned by Coberly, and the policeman argued over possession of a key to the house, Coberly said.

Coberly, a wagonman attached to Oakland Police Station, denied beating Buch and said Buch invited him to fight.

"I arrested him," Coberly said. "He fell on the sidewalk and hit his head against the pavement. The wagon came and took me."

Farrell Man Held On Murder Charge

MERCER, Pa., March 28.—(AP.)—John Skubich, 20, of Farrell, was held for court here as an accessory to the slaying of Frank De Silvio, Farrell merchant, who was fatally shot the night of February 12 while on the way home from business.

Frank Yavorsky, 18, and Joseph Mihalcin, 19, now in the Mercer County jail, have been quoted by authorities as confessing the shooting during an attempted holdup.

Two Men Killed Resisting Deputy

ATTICA, Ind., March 28.—(AP.)—One man was shot and killed and another fatally wounded yesterday by Fred Ottinger, deputy sheriff of Warren County who said the two resisted arrest and sought to attack him. The dead men were identified as Joe Sharp, thought to be from Joplin, Mo., and Charles W. Frakes, known by police as a Bloomington, Ind., bootlegger.

Ottinger said the two men had broken into a restaurant he operates in West Lebanon, nine miles west of Attica and that he captured the pair in a brick yard here.

5 Reported Missing On 3 Boats Safe

MIAMI, Fla., March 28.—(AP.)—Five men and three boats that had been missing since they left Nassau for Miami Monday were back in Nassau last night, according to information received by Hugh Williams, custodian of the Coast Guard Patrol base here who had reported they were missing.

Williams said he was advised that the boats put into the Bahama port, but said he did not know where they had been since Monday.

HARRIS THEATER MECCA FOR CARRIERS

Sun-Telegraph Agents to Be Guests at Special Showing Sunday Afternoon.

Whoopee! What a whale of a party the management of the Harris Theater is going to give for the Sun-Telegraph carrier boys Sunday afternoon. Talking pictures, R. K. O. vaudeville, stage band, master of ceremonies, organist, an' everything!

It's going to be the big Sun-Telegraph party of the year and the entertainment will include the complete program of the Harris Theater on for the week beginning tomorrow.

Jack Holt.

And with a picture for the youngsters—thrills and romance. It's name is "Vengeance," a drama of the wilds of the Congo, a drama of love, hate and sacrifice. And who's the hero? None other than heroic Jack Holt, movie favorite of millions of youngsters, with pretty Dorothy Revier as his leading lady.

This alone will be a wonderful treat for the carrier boys, but to make it a bigger treat, the management of the Harris is not only adding comedies and news reels but is going to augment the program with Smith, Strong and Lee in "Hi Elmer," one of the hits of vaudeville; little Rose Marie, seven-year-old wonder on the piano accordion; "Two Hops and a Miss," a la carte dancing skit; the Harris Co-Eds in a new ensemble; the complete stage band; Johnny Mitchell, the organist who makes you sing—and first and last, the irrepressible, ubiquitious Dick Ware, the Master of Ceremonies.

Oh boy! What a show! And all for the Sun-Telegraph carrier boys. Three o'clock sharp—admission by ticket only. And that goes!

Congressman, 70, Rolls Himself To Health

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP.)—To a morning roll on a solid cement floor just before he eats breakfast, Representative Edgar Howard (Dem.), Nebraska, attributes his suppleness at 70 years of age.

"I don't need any slow old golf," he said.

"Thirty times over and over is my morning exercise," he said.

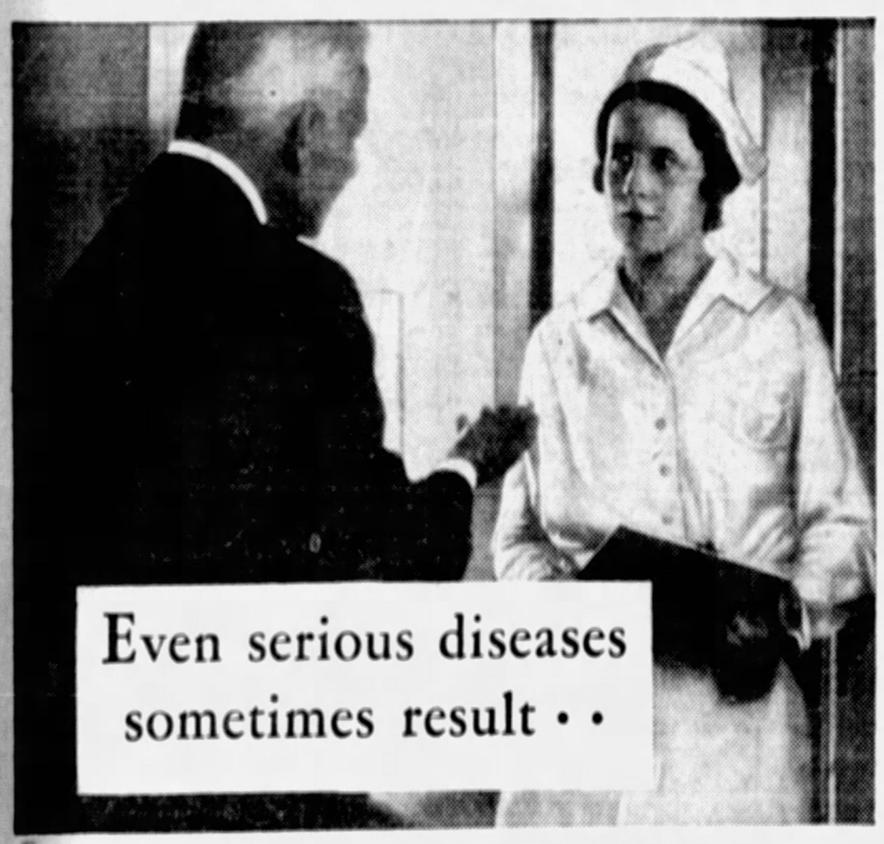
LEADING JEWELERS AND OPTICIANS



Even serious diseases sometimes result . .

from harsh, non-absorbent toilet tissue . . . doctors say

They fit the built-in fixtures

"DELICATE MEMBRANES can be severely injured or inflamed by the use of too coarse a toilet tissue." This is the warning of 580 doctors and 223 hospital superintendents recently questioned on the subject.

Unaware of these facts, many housewives are innocently exposing themselves and their families to danger by buying harsh, inferior toilet tissue.

Scot Tissue, Sani-Tissue and Waldorf are three famous tissues specially processed to satisfy the requirements doctors say toilet tissue must have to be safe: absorbency—softness—purity

These three health-protecting tissues are made from specially processed fibres—"thirsty fibres." Crumple a sheet in your hand. Feel its unusual softness—its cloth-like texture.

No dangerous cutting edges to cause serious inflammation.

Only the finest fresh materials go into Scott Tissues. They are absolutely safe to use—neither acid nor alkaline in reaction.

Why take chances—when it costs no more to buy these fine quality toilet tissues.

Scott Tissues

NOTE: ScotTissue and Waldorf are the two largest selling brands in the world . . . Sani-Tissue is the new popular priced white toilet tissue embodying the famous thirsty fibre qualities.

SMITH SEEKING LABOR PEACE

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith revealed that he had offered to arbitrate between the structural Steel Board of Trade and the Iron and Steel Workers' Union in difficulties in Chicago, Newark, N. J., and Cincinnati.

He said the Board of Trade already had accepted his offer and that he was awaiting an answer to a telegram which he sent to P. J. Moran, president of the union.

Smith denied rumors of a sympathetic strike of steel workers on the Empire State Building — the thousand-foot skyscraper which is going up on the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. An open shop has existed in iron and steel work in New York for many years, he explained.

Accountant School To Hear Couchman

Charles B. Couchman, C. P. A., will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Pittsburgh School of Accountancy, to be held tomorrow night in the Fort Pitt Hotel. His subject will be, "The Life of An Accountant." A dance will follow the banquet.

SOME WOMEN ALWAYS ATTRACT

You want to be beautiful. You want the tireless energy, fresh complexion and pep of youth. Then let Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help free your system of the poisons caused by clogged bowels and torpid liver.

For 20 years, men and women suffering from stomach troubles, pimples, listlessness and headaches have taken Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a successful substitute for calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients, known by their olive color. They act easily upon the bowels without griping. They help cleanse the system and tone up the liver.

If you value youth and its many gifts, take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly. How much better you will feel—and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

We Now Present

By DARRELL V. MARTIN,
Radio Editor.

A FAST-MOVING program in two acts and 16 scenes will acquaint "first nighters" with the premiere of the Raleigh Revue on WCAE at 10 p. m.

We have been told that this program will be exceptionally good. Ohman and Arden, the Raleigh Rovers, and the Raleigh Orchestra will furnish most of the numbers. Between each scene, Sir Walter will discourse humorously on what has gone before and what will follow.

"The Shot Heard 'Round the World" will bring Freedom to KDKA at 8 o'clock in another of the series of historical sketches being directed by Frederick G. Rodgers.

King Loses Crown.

The story of a king who lost his crown because of his love for a beautiful woman will be dramatized.

Lola Montez, who lived in the early nineteenth century, was known throughout the world for her extraordinary beauty and amazing impudence. The elder Dumas said of her, "She has the evil eye. She will bring bad luck to every man who links his destiny with hers."

After having been married and divorced by the time she was 25, Lola determined to captivate a king and control a kingdom. After careful consideration of all European rulers, she picked 60-year-old Ludwig the First of Bavaria as her victim, and her success was complete, during the year that it lasted.

Covered Wagon Days.

"Can Love Be Captured?" is the question around which the story of the evening revolves. Not far from Memphis, Tenn., Mary and Bob stop to enjoy a bit of southern hospitality, and to hear this story.

Years ago in the "covered wagon" days, adventure had ridden beside a young husband and wife as they headed their team toward the land of the setting sun. But years of struggle had taken their toll of the once lovely wife, while drab monotony had stretched its relentless fingers over her happiness. It is the story of a woman who suddenly saw revealed the specter of a vanishing love.

CORONER HOLDS STUDENT IN SLAYING

SIDE WALKS of PITTSBURGH

by WILLIAM DFARR

IT is now 48 hours since we demanded that the Pennsylvania Railroad wash the face of its clock so that we might tell the time. But has the railroad met our demand? No. The Pennsylvania Railroad, snug in its power, has refused to heed the voice of the people, as spoken by Sidewalks, and for all that we can tell by that clock, it might be 12 minutes after 2 or 13 minutes to 4. Does the powerful Pennsylvania Railroad believe that it can run roughshod over the will of the people (we took up the voice of the people in the preceding sentence)? Does the powerful Pennsylvania Railroad believe that it can defy Father Time? Is this Russia? Is this Norway? Or is this the good old-fashioned United States?

Let us boycott the Pennsylvania Railroad clock! Let none who says he is a red-blooded American refer to the powerful Pennsylvania Railroad clock (the railroad is powerful, not the clock) when he wants to determine the time! Let us band together against this invasion of our rights! Time will tell!

MR. EPPLEY, of the William Penn Hotel, distributes a Thought for Today to his bellhops, etc. Smile, Don't Frown! Make Each Guest Feel at Home! —these are our own examples, but they are fair indications of the advice Mr. Eppley gives his admirers. But what we started out to ask was why doesn't somebody give a Thought for Yesterday or a Thought for Tomorrow? Why not a Thought for Next Tuesday? Our idea of a great Thought for Next Tuesday would be, "Honesty is the best policy." For a cloudy, rainy day we recommend, "Honesty is not the best policy."

"Hey, you," Jones shook the entranced one.

"I'se in a trance, Mistah Law, I'se in a trance," the victim whispered.

"You'd better get right out of it and show me your permit," Jones suggested.

Disregarding the tradition that the show must go on, the Negro bolted his seat, forgot the audience and went away from there.

MAURICE COHILL, an insurance salesman, is authority for the report that the insurance man who doesn't sell one of every 10 prospects is regarded as a failure, and that the salesman who convinces one of five is none too good. Mr. Cohill is not the salesman who used to approach prospects with this salutation, "You don't wanna buy any insurance, do you?"

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., March 28.—

THIS comes under the heading of "Public Health and National Welfare." I just got some papers from Claremore. You remember those "Jamaica ginger" victims in Oklahoma City? Well, there was a dozen of them come to Claremore, paralyzed, on crutches and cots, and it cured everyone of them. Not only cured 'em of paralysis, but of drinking "jake." Now I am not kidding about this cure. Illness is too serious for that, so if you have any friends contemplating drinking "jake," Claremore radium water is that only known antidote.

Yours, WILL.

NEW JUVENILE COURT HOME PLANS AWRY

Specifications Don't Meet State Regulations on Population; To Be Revised

Plans for the two proposed buildings for the Allegheny County Juvenile Court home struck a snag today when it developed that they do not comply with regulations of the state building code.

As the County Commissioners were about to order sale of $100,000 bonds of the $300,000 issue for the construction of two units in the Juvenile Court home it was discovered that the state act governing such institutions specifies that only 25 inmates are permitted to occupy rooms in each building. The plans under consideration had made provision for 125 inmates in each structure.

The matter was held up, and the plans were referred back to the board of managers of the institution with the suggestion that they obtain authority from the court to make changes which would avoid conflict with the state code.

DORMONT FIRM INSOLVENT

Archibald Ross Snee and Archie Ross Snee, Jr., trading as A. R. Snee & Son, Dormont contractors, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in Federal Court, placing the firm's liabilities at $42,896.59 and assets at $3,860.50.

Each of the partners also filed individually bankruptcy petitions. Archie Snee, Jr., listed his liabilities at $19,270 and assets at $65,250. Of the latter amount $65,000 represented real estate holdings. The liabilities of Archibald Ross Snee were listed as $791.28 and assets at $135.

Belle Perkins Smith, trading as Smith Pharmacy, Pittsburgh, filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition, listing her liabilities at $7,045.26 and assets at $4,260. A petition was filed by Frank W. Smith, of Pittsburgh, a chiropractor, showing liabilities of $7,450.79 and assets at $255. A petition filed by John Franklin Dawson, of Uniontown, a laborer, showed liabilities of $15,558.43 and assets of $9,300.

Child Rallies After Oxygen Treatments

Oxygen administered by firemen was credited today by the father of Ruth Barney, 11, of 1225 Arkansas avenue, suffering from pneumonia, with having saved her life. Fireman John Seitz gave the oxygen Wednesday night when the child was near death. She rallied and was reported on the way to recovery today.

Girl Poison Victim In Serious Condition

Mary Slippy, 16, of Apartment 3, at 2351 Brownsville road, was in serious condition today, the South Side Hospital reported. She is suffering from poison, said to have been self-administered after she ran away from home Monday.

WHITE HOUSE GANG

Quentin's Daring Feats Win Him Gang Leadership

Theodore Roosevelt, when President of the United States, started the adventurous, rollicking, joyous career of the White House Gang by sending his youngest son, Quentin, to the Force Public School in Washington. Here the gang was recruited. The accredited members are Charles (Taffy) Taft, "Brom" Seeley, Dick (Sailor) Chew, Edward (Slats) Stead, also called "Bedstead," Walker White, "T. R.," the most active member of the gang; Quentin, the leader, and Earle Looker, the author of this story.

Each day, after school, the gang went into a huddle to confound all rules of deportment in high places, mingle in the lives of presidents and policemen, win victories, taste honor, suffer punishments and engage in escapades which were swept along the wires to national publicity. Many exploits of the gang, however, either remain unknown or were known only to the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. Some there were securely hidden even from them.

CHAPTER XXI.

Q FACED about. "I apologize!" he exploded, in a staccato of tumbled-out words, "I-didn't-mean-to-behave-so. But-you-see-I-had-to-do-it until-the-time-was-up. It-was-very-rude-and-I-know-it-was. Indeed-I-am-sorry, really. I'm-sure-I'm-very-very-glad-to-meet-you-and-mother-has-told-me she's-so-glad-you've-come. (Pure diplomacy!) I-hope-you-won't-tell-her-how-nasty-it-looked-as-though-I-were-to-you, because-I-didn't-mean-it-for-a-moment——"

Q looked beseechingly at the visitors, the Gang explained, and the Aide promised not to inform.

Despite the way Q acquitted himself on this occasion, and on several of a similar character, he was not, at once, accorded the leadership. One of our number was considerably older than the rest, and he felt that this fact should be considered, and said so. But the Gang's opinion of leadership by mere seniority was not high.

"It's all right in the Army and Navy," Q explained, "where everybody knows his job as well as anybody else, or will, by the time my father gets through with them. . . . But I don't see that you do. Now because I—" He stopped abruptly; evidently he was about to urge his own claims but thought better of it. Never, through the entire lifetime of the Gang did Q mention the fact that he was host—which would have clinched the argument as to temporary leadership, even though it had cost him our respect in the long run. At times, however, he did have to face the accusation that he had done this or that, just because he was host—a most unfair advantage for the Gang to take simply because our insinuations were, on the surface, practically unanswerable, but, in truth and essence, absolutely unfounded and untrue.

"Now," said Q in a cautious voice, though he fully realized the dangerous character of this feat, "the stunt is, to stay this way, like Mahomet, for exactly half a minute. Somebody count for me, and when the time's up, it's been done. Then somebody knock the needles away, so that I can flop down on the floor without getting stuck. But if I fall on 'em before the half minute's up—well, that's it, and my own lookout——"

The rest of the Gang, too fascinated, frightened and absorbed to see anything but Q and the needles, knew nothing of TR's presence.

Presently, the half minute being over, and the needles removed, Q collapsed from the chair. As he lay on the floor, and breathing hard, he asked, "Now, who wants to try that?"

No one moved no one spoke. Q laughed quietly. "I've got you all stopped on that one," he said, simply—expressing the fact without a trace of boasting.

TR Silent
Boys Left to Work Out Own Devices

We looked uneasily away from him, at each other, around the hall, out of the window. Yes, he had us stopped. He had invented a test that not one of us wished to try! Suddenly I remembered TR; but he was nowhere to be seen; he had simply disappeared!

In his capacity as a most loving father, deeply concerned over the happiness and safety of his children, it must have been a tremendous struggle for TR to keep himself from bursting out from behind that screen, to read Q and the rest of us a sharply-pointed lecture upon the folly of the escapade.

The usual father, one supposes, would have done just that very thing. But TR did not, because—as one understands now — his discernment overcame his concern. He thoroughly understood, and saw that interference would have dislocated all the degrees of initiation and test through which we had passed and were passing. Moreover had he not been in close personal touch with the inner concerns of the Gang, he would have known nothing of the import of these tests and trials through which its members were passing.

TR knew that no matter how much of the spoiling of Q's manners, clothes, temper, and

Dangerous Trick
Quentin Thinks of a Risky Stunt

So the hazing went on, until, failing of conclusion by trials of strength, it finally resolved itself into tests of fearlessness and its implicatory qualities of good judgment and quick thinking. Neither of these last named traits, however, could be detected in the complicated and dangerous trick Q conceived, and then proposed he be the first to attempt, all others who dared—if any—to follow.

The scene of this ordeal was at the far west end of the great hall on the second floor, where the fan-window looks out upon the roof of the Executive Offices, and across the way to the State-War-Navy Building, which had caused us to be engaged in all these considerations. Quentin placed a chair to face this window, but away from the window-seat, about the distance of his own height.

He then dashed away, returning presently with five of his own books and four steel knitting-needles. The books he placed flatwise upon the floor between the chair and the window, and the knitting needles upright between them. They stood up in a straight row, nine or ten inches from the floor.

Q then proceeded to stretch himself between the window-seat and the chair, the tips of his toes on the seat, his fingers holding the edge of the chair.

Feat Accomplished
Act Proves Fearlessness Of President's Son

"If you slip doing this," he said, "you'll fill yourself as full of knitting-needles as a porcupine!"

It was only then that the Gang fully understood the test of fearlessness and skill Q had devised. He kept pushing the chair—hitching and inching it—until he had straightened himself out to full length. The hair on the back of my neck rose at the whole proceeding and I held on to the corner of a screen which divided the main hall from the fan-window.

As I did so, I discovered TR standing behind the screen, watching Quentin with the utmost concentration.

CHILD THEATER URGED FOR DISTRICT

Actress Director Declares Stage Art Should Be Developed in Juveniles.

Pittsburgh should have a children's theater, where the stage art will be developed in the most responsive audience of all, Dorothy Scott, actress and director of the Junior League's children theater movement, urged today.

In Pittsburgh directing 20 comely society girls in the magic of play-presentation, Miss Scott, trained in the New York Art Guild, is coaching the Junior League women here for the "Wizard of Oz," to be given two Saturday mornings in the Pitt Theater—April 5 and 12.

CHILDREN RESPONSIVE

"Children make the most responsive audience. They should be cultivated, and the finest form of education to develop good taste is good drama. It seems a city as wealthy as this could have a Saturday theater where children could see the things that they enjoy, and derive benefit," said Miss Scott. "There must be men and women who think enough of the theater to preserve the best in it. There can be no question that the theater is dying in America. It perished on the road years ago, and it is in a state of pitiful collapse in New York today."

DRAMATIC ABILITY

About training society girls in nearly every big city where a Junior League has a unit she is enthusiastic.

"They have leisure to develop their artistic tendencies. While I've never taught other groups, there seems almost an overabundance of dramatic ability among Junior League women in Pittsburgh. They respond quickly," said Miss Scott.

"The Wizard of Oz" will be given for children exclusively. Wealthy women have bought blocks of tickets and will see that many children of hospitals throughout the district get to the performance. The public generally is invited.

DRIVER BLINDED KILLS WOMAN

En route to a bridge party, Mrs. Nettie Richman, 24, of 1243 Jancey street, was killed when struck by an automobile in Chislett street, last night. George J. Wise, 26, of 1175 Chislett street, driver of the car, carried Mrs. Richman to the home of M. J. Sweeney, of 844 Chislett street, where a physician from St. Francis Hospital pronounced her dead.

Wise told police after his arrest that the glaring headlights of an automobile driven the opposite direction blinded him.

Langley High Class Presents Minstrels

Members of the Langley High School class last night gave a minstrel performance in the Community Church Auditorium in Sheraden. The minstrels of the "Dixie" order will be repeated tonight. The interlocutor is A. A. Eisnour.

JUNIOR LEAGUE DIRECTOR

DOROTHY SCOTT

Miss Scott, who is directing "Wizard of Oz" for the Junior League, feels that Pittsburgh should have a children's theater. The league production will be given in the Pitt Theater April 5 and 12.

He Might Leave Stamps as Well As Address

William Rapport, of 828 North Sheridan avenue, East End, is willing to give a break to auto thieves who treat him right. He made this announcement last night following the recovery of his car, stolen for the third time in three weeks. Rapport said that hereafter thieves would find his name and address in the machine with a request to return it. If they do so, he will not prosecute them.

Duquesne Damage Claims Reviewed

Public Service Commissioner Charles H. Young has continued hearings until April 10, on the damage claims of 36 Duquesne residents whose properties were affected by the construction of a new bridge over Thompson run. When the Public Service Commission ordered the bridge reconstructed in 1926, it decreed that the damages should be assessed against the county.

The purpose of the hearings before Commissioner Young is to fix the sums to be awarded to the individual property owners.

REVIEWS BAN ON CITY BONDS

A decision of Common Pleas Court declaring void a councilmanic bond issue of $1,200,000, under an ordinance passed by Pittsburgh council in 1924, was reviewed by the State Supreme Court before it adjourned sessions here.

The lower court had upheld a taxpayer's equity suit charging that the bond issue would have increased the councilmanic debt to more than the 2 per cent of assessed valuation set as a limit.

Another case argued before the closing session of the court yesterday was the equity suit of Coulter E. Glenn against J. C. Trees, M. L. Benedum and H. S. Grayson, individually and as directors, and the J. C. Trees Oil Company in an appeal over a decision in a $6,000,000 oil land deal.

GIRLS TELL OF LIQUOR AT PARTY

Instructor Accidentally Shot, Jury Agrees, but Charges Manslaughter

A coroner's jury today recommended that Walter O. Krebs, a student at Bureau of Mines, be held for the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Newell Gibson, 24, chemistry instructor at Carnegie Tech.

Gibson was fatally shot in Kreb's home at 10 Dunmoyle place following a party March 8.

"I was intoxicated but in possession of my faculties," Krebs testified. "I knew the gun was dangerous. I had been considering giving it to Gibson. When I realized that Newell evidently didn't realize it was loaded I grabbed for it. In the struggle it went off."

Before he took the stand Rayne was reprimanded by Coroner W. J. McGregor for smiling in the courtroom.

Although the jury recommended holding Krebs, it agreed that the shooting was accidental.

Other witnesses included E. H. Bane, Pitt law student, and the three girls who attended the party which preceded the shooting.

One of the girls, Janet Kretz, of Oakland avenue, testified there had been two rounds of drinks.

"The party broke up about 1 o'clock when the other two girls became ill," she testified.

The other girls—Anna Gonon, of 5412 Butler street, and Mary Garner, telephone operator, of 570 Dawson avenue, Bellevue, agreed with Miss Kretz that no ill feeling had been shown at the party.

VETS ARRANGE MEMORIAL

Preparations are under way by World War Veterans of the North Boroughs and the Bellevue Citizens Memorial Committee for dedication of bronze tablets bearing names of all Bellevue residents who saw service in the World War.

According to present plans the dedication will take place Memorial Day, May 30, with an elaborate patriotic celebration. The tablets will be placed on the Doughboy monument in Balp Park, Bellevue. Civil War veterans of the district will be invited to participate.

Dispute Delays Pay Of Teletype Force

A conference was called today of fiscal authorities of Allegheny County and Maj. Lynn Adams, of the Pennsylvania State Police, to determine whether the county or the state shall pay salaries of three operators of the telegraph-typewriter system installed in the headquarters of the county detectives.

The operators have three months' pay due at $175 a month each. The telegraph system is operated by county detectives and state police.

Hip Broken Jan. 16, Fatal to Woman, 81

Mrs. Margaret Klein, 81, of Complete street, died in St. John's Hospital today from a fractured hip suffered January 16 when she fell on the floor of her home, according to the coroner's report.

LABOR LACK NOT ACUTE IN CITY

Poll of Soho Reveals But 7 of 300 Families Without Support, Relief Adequate

Pittsburgh is not feeling the pinch resulting from the serious unemployment situation which has assumed threatening proportions in other parts of the country, according to a survey made by the Soho Community House in one of the poorest districts of the city. Only seven families out of 300 are without support, it was learned in the survey.

AIDED BY CHILDREN

These figures are considered astonishing in view of the unemployment situation, it is declared by social workers. Five per cent of the Soho families investigated are being supported by the children, the survey showed.

The Welfare Fund of Pittsburgh, which is closely informed of relief work all over the city, reports a considerable increase in relief demands this year. In one organization the number of cases requiring relief is almost double what it was last winter.

RELIEF ADEQUATE

It is reported by the Welfare Fund that while the increased demands have pressed relief agencies to the limit, it is believed that the situation has at no time grown beyond control, and as far as known relief has been given in every reported case which required it.

The Welfare Fund holds the view that relief work is only a temporary measure and that the real task is to rehabilitate families which have broken down and place them on a self-supporting basis.

$75,000 ASKED OF BUS LINE

Three suits were filed in Common Pleas Court against the Nevin Bus Lines, Inc., asking a total of $75,000 damages for personal injuries claimed by passengers of an automobile struck by a Nevin bus at a crossing in Summit street, Warren, Ohio, July 25 last. The suits were filed by Patrick Colangelo, August Manfredo and Philip Gentile, all of Pittsburgh, each asking $25,000 for serious injuries. The suits averred that Colangelo was driving an automobile in which the other two were passengers and that the negligent operation of a Cleveland to Pittsburgh bus resulted in the collision.

PLAN CURBING FAKE SALES

A better business bureau, an institution designed to guard local business men against inroads on their trades by spurious merchandising schemes, is to be formed here soon, according to plans of the retailers council of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. Plans for the bureau were discussed at a meeting yesterday.

The bureau will guard not only local merchants but the general public against misrepresentation in selling concerns. H. W. Leonard, chairman of the chamber committee, has appointed an executive committee of business men to complete plans. A meeting is to be held Monday in the chamber.

J. T. M. STONEROAD

Mr. Stoneroad, bondholders' protective committee chairman who bid $6,000,000 for the Bell lands. The sale has been continued.

BELL LAND BIDS HELD OPEN

Individuals or companies desiring to acquire all or part of the holdings of the Carnegie Coal Company, formerly controlled by John A. Bell, paroled bank wrecker, are to have another opportunity.

Offered as a whole, the property, valued at $15,000,000, brought a high bid of $6,000,000 at an auction sale held in the Washington, Pa., courthouse corridor yesterday in foreclosure proceedings brought by holders of the $7,500,000 first mortgage bonds.

That was the bid of J. T. M. Stoneroad, chairman of the bondholders' protective committee. Two other bids, one of $5,000,000 and one of $5,600,000, were made by persons whose identity was not disclosed.

The property was then offered in 17 parcels without a single bid. Don A. Rose, attorney for the bondholders, declared he knew of several persons who desired to bid for parcels of the property, and the sale was accordingly continued to April 10 to give them another chance.

The property, comprising 21,265 acres of coal in Washington and Allegheny Counties and West Virginia, 4,750 acres of surface lands, eight mines, two docks at Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis., and a retail coal yard at St. Paul, Minn., will also be offered at auction at Wellsburg, W. Va., on April 11, at Duluth on April 14 and at Superior on April 15.

DRY CASES FILL FEDERAL LIST

Penitentiary and jail terms aggregating 26 years, three months and three days, and fines totaling $12,740 were imposed on defendants in criminal cases at the March term of the Federal District Court sitting at Erie, United States Attorney Louis E. Graham and his corps of assistants returned to Pittsburgh upon completion of the criminal trial list. The court is still in session hearing civil litigations.

Since the session convened March 17, pleas of guilty were entered by defendants in 100 criminal cases, of which 70 per cent were suits brought under the prohibition law. The grand jury returned 138 true bills, most of them charging violations of the prohibition law. The court held 35 final hearings in injunction suits in which "padlocks" were ordered placed on buildings where the "dry" law was violated.

Ten jury trials of criminal cases were held. These resulted in convictions in six suits, disagreements in three others and one acquittal. Twelve old cases were nolle prossed because of lack of evidence and there were two $1,000 bond forfeitures.

One of the outstanding cases was the conviction of Robert P. Cann, of Stoneboro, Pa., for misuse of the mail in a check "kiting" scheme, by which a number of banks lost large sums of money. Cann will be sentenced next week in Pittsburgh.

Beaten, Robbed By 4 Highwaymen

William White, 30, of 301 Carson street, today was in the South Side Hospital with lacerations of the scalp inflicted by four highwaymen who robbed him of $40 at Fifth avenue and Marion street, Sunday night, he told detectives.

White, taken to the hospital from his home last night, told Homicide Detectives Frank Morgan and John Riley that he had been slugged by the men as he left the Structural Iron Workers' lodge rooms.

Officers Elected By Emsworth Aid

The Ladies' Aid Society, Emsworth Presbyterian Church, at its monthly meeting, this week, elected the following officers: President, Mrs. A. Roy Carson; vice president, Mrs. Eugene R. Gatch; secretary, Mrs. L. M. Van Blon; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Graham; treasurer, Mrs. Albert Newell.

SIX MEN HELD IN RUM RAIDS

Six men were at liberty on bonds today following their arrest by prohibition agents who seized an automobile and raided three places yesterday.

George Harvey, 33, of 1015 Bedford avenue, and Joseph Hannan, 47, of 1 Congress street, were arrested, agents said, when an automobile which contained 20 gallons of moonshine was seized at Webster avenue and Congress street.

A barrel of whisky was found in a raid on a dwelling at 1727 Arcena street, where Louis Hilliard and Joe Smith were arrested, according to the raiders.

Whisky seizures were reported in raids on two Braddock clubs, one at 214 Braddock avenue, and the other at 316 Braddock avenue. Michael Durkin was arrested in the former and Jim Harrington in the latter place, it was reported.

SAFETY TROPHY FOR BUS MEN

Drivers of the Eastern region of the Greyhound lines have been awarded a trophy for establishing a safety record. The trophy was awarded the drivers of the region at a banquet. Marcus Dow, director of safety for the bus concern, made the presentation.

In winning the contest, a record of safe bus operation was established, it being announced that 28,000 miles was the average per accident, in more than 1,000,000 miles of operation during three months. This record is considered remarkable in view of the fact that most routes of the region are operated over mountainous territory and the contest was conducted during the severe winter months.

MONARCH CLUB TO BE HOST

Monarch Club of Pittsburgh members will entertain the district governor, Dr. Irvin F. Eisenhower, of Reading, at a luncheon in the William Penn Hotel Monday.

International problems were discussed by Louis K. Manley, dean of the School of Business Administration, University of Pittsburgh, at the weekly luncheon yesterday. Citing his observations of Europe from three trips totalling seven months during the past 18 months, Dr. Manley said, while peace is the apparent hope of all persons, that the confident expressions forecast war whenever it can be afforded. As to foreign trade, modesty on our part is needed to gain favor with the various nations.

Henry George Club Told of Dry Laws

"How National Prohibition Has Made Good" was the topic to be discussed today by the Rev. Davis E. Cruea, at the regular weekly luncheon of the Henry George Club of Pittsburgh, at the Chamber of Commerce dining room. Chairman of the meeting was to be G. W. Wakefield. Dr. Cruea is superintendent of the Pittsburgh branch of the Anti-Saloon League.

Talk on Zion For Central 'Y'

POSTAL GARAGE COST QUIZZED

The government is paying $40,000 a year for use of the post-office garage, a three-story brick at Magee and Locusts streets, Postmaster George W. Gosser disclosed today, as word came from Washington of a move for a congressional investigation of government leases here and elsewhere.

"I am not prepared to say whether the price is exhorbitant," said Gosser. "The contract for the building, which was erected a year ago, according to government specifications, was made in Washington.

"More than 200 automobiles can be stored in the garage and it has an extensive repair shop. Motor vehicles are brought here from all over Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia."

Representatives Melvin J. Maas, of Minnesota, investigating alleged lease frauds in St. Paul, said he had received an anonymous letter from Pittsburgh stating that the postoffice garage lease here involved exorbitant rentals.

The building is owned by the Franklin Mortgage and Investment Company, of Philadelphia.

Clairton Swim Pool Dedication June 14

Preparations are being made for the formal dedication of Clairton's new municipal swimming pool on June 14, it was announced by City Clerk P. G. Miller. The pool is nearly completed and will be opened to the public Decoration Day.

The pool, in the city park, was built at a cost of $100,000 and is one of the largest in Western Pennsylvania. It is 240 by 130 feet, with a sand beach surrounding it.

4 YOUTHS HELD ON 30 HOLDUP CHARGES

Two Postal Thefts Also Suspected; Chain Store Victims Identify Gang

In a courtroom crowded with victims, four so-called drug store bandits chewed gum and chatted as they faced federal and state courts today on charges of 30 robberies. Because of their youth they were arraigned in Morals Court. All were held for the grand jury.

Two charges of robbing postoffices were to be made later, according to Inspector George V. Craighead. The postal branches victimized were in Brighton road and East Liberty.

Harry Logan, 18, 576 Becks Run road, Theodore Geisler, of 812 Hanger street, Fred Dunberg, 18, of 141 Overhill street were held for court on the 30 charges.

Walter Linhart, Jr., 21, of 650 Becks Run road, said to have been their lookout, was held with them on some of the charges.

Victims and police testified that the boys drove about, robbing chain and drug stores.

Police say the four are believed to have held up a Donahoe's grocery, following which a $5,000 reward was offered for their capture.

They were arrested Sunday, it was said at the hearing by Patrolman Jack Kenner, Precinct Detective John Dillon and Acting Lieut. Hugh Laveyr. Keener became suspicious when he saw Geisler shaving with brand new equipment, and called the other officers. Since then, a steady trail of victims has visited Central police station, identifying the trio.

Lieut. Lavery testified the boys had a rendevous near Wildwood. They took cash or easily convertible goods, he said.

Attorney John Frankel, representing the boys, waived all further hearings when Inspector Craighead of the postal department introduced charges of postal thefts.

Fire Chief Injured In Homestead Blaze

U. S. LACE DUTY IRKS FRENCH

PARIS, March 28.—(AP.)—Pierre-Etienne Flandine, minister of commerce, today told the French Senate that the American policy of "practically prohibiting entry into the United States of products not manufactured in the United States is exceedingly dangerous not only for France but for all European exportations to America.

He referred to proposed increase in American tariffs on laces and enbroideries.

Senator Neron declared that the duty on lace amounts to a virtual embargo. Flandine said France's representatives were endeavoring to prevent final adoption.

At about the same time lacemakers in Galais were holding a mammoth street parade in protest at the increase and were forwarding to the Government a resolution asking intervention.

Girl With $450,000 Balm Verdict Fails to Collect

DETROIT, March 28.—(AP.)—There's many a slip 'twixt the breach of promise verdict and the cash payment, and you can take Bertha B. Cleavenger's word for it.

It is now four months since the law awarded Miss Cleavenger $450,000 in her suit against John H. Castle, wealthy real estate man—the largest amount of this sort on record. And the law, which Miss Cleavenger says is a funny thing, to date has prevented her from receiving a single penny of the amount. More than that, the amount has been reduced to $150,000 through a judge's decision, but still there has been no payment to Miss Cleavenger.

The trouble, Miss Cleavenger's attorneys say, seems to be that bailiffs, deputies, process servers and investigators who have been working every day on the case have failed to find any property owned by Castle upon which to levy writs of execution. Legal actions on Castle's part, they say, have placed his property out of reach for the present.

Meanwhile, Miss Cleavenger, who told reporters after the trial that she planned "a lot of nice things" to do with the $450,000, hasn't given up her job as a housekeeper.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Miss Ewing In Bridal Party

WHEN weddings here at home are over for a few days, there are always weddings in the East, the South, or the West to interest us all.

One wedding of the coming week which will attract many of the members of the Pittsburgh colony will take place in Palm Beach. I'm referring to the marriage of Mary Downs, of Saratoga, N. Y., and Thomas Mallory, of Bradford, which will take place at The Breakers on Monday, to be followed by a reception.

Barbara Ewing, who will be a bridesmaid, and her mother, Mrs. Thomas Ewing, have already arrived at Palm Beach and are at The Breakers. Of course they are attending all the events for the bridal party.

Bridal Party

MARJORIE MALLORY, sister of the bridegroom, who will arrive the day of the wedding with her mother, Mrs. L. B. Mallory, from a South American cruise, will be a bridesmaid, too. Louis Mallory, of Bradford, will be his brother's best man, and Roger Downs, brother of the bride, will be an usher.

The Rev. Dr. George W. Downs, of New York, uncle of the bride, will be the officiant.

After the wedding Mr. Mallory and his bride will sail for Europe, and will spend two months motoring through France and Italy.

Resort Parties

ANOTHER bit of news from Palm Beach is that the Robert Carsons, of New York and Pittsburgh, gave a farewell tea in their apartment in Major Alley before departing for a fortnight at Hot Springs, Va., on their way home.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Henry R. Rea entertained with a buffet supper at her Palm Beach home, Lagomar, with a view of her new tropical gardens in the moonnight as a background for the event. Bridge followed supper.

Another prominent member of Pittsburgh society at Palm Beach, the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, is cruising among the Florida keys with a group of friends on his yacht, Viator.

Kiwanians Told of Insurance Trusts

"The modern life insurance trust is a banking function," according to Maurice B. Cohill, assistant manager, Edward A. Woods Company, in a talk last night to the Kiwanis Club of Kittanning on "Life Insurance Trusts." He said insurance trusts make certain that insurance accomplishes the purpose for which it was intended.

"Life insurance is thus carried," says Cohill, "for certain purposes, such as removing the mortgage from the home, sending children to college, providing incomes for the mother in the home."

Tuesday Musical Club's Bulletin Announces Choral Program

THE April Bulletin of the Tuesday Musical Club has more than the usual monthly quota of interesting news and announcements. It announces the choral program for Tuesday, the annual Lenten program to be given the evening of April 15 in the Shadyside Presbyterian Church and an American program the afternoon of the twenty-ninth.

The last has been arranged by Mrs. M. W. St. John and Mrs. James Stephen Martin. Virginia Brown Wilharm, pianist, and Della Herring, violinist, will appear, and a special feature will be a song cycle portraying the life of the Indian which Mrs. Martin has arranged from traditional Indian music transcribed by Charles Wakefield Cadman, Arthur Farwell, Carlos Troyer, Thurlow Lieurance and Francesco De Leone.

The production will be costumed and staged in a forest setting and presented by Esther Edmundson Mohr, Elizabeth Young, John Dickson Fulton and Richard Elzis, with Martha Meyers Murdoch at the piano.

Mrs. Alvan W. Sherrill and Mrs. Lucille Miller Werner have been appointed to the board to take the places of Mrs. Ferne Goltre Fillion and Mrs. Otto C. Gaub, who resigned.

Board Members

A meeting of the board of governors will be held April 8 at 10:30 o'clock and the final audition for candidates this season will be held at noon the same day.

The annual meeting of the State Federation of Music Clubs is set for May 7, 8 and 9 in Harrisburg.

The Choral has been engaged to appear with the Pittsburgh Male Chorus April 25 in Carnegie Music Hall.

All of which, the Bulletin announces, in addition to an offer of scholarships in voice, string or piano to talented pupils in need of financial assistance. Applications for these must be presented to Mrs. Frederick W. Edmondson, chairman, before May 1.

AT yesterday's meeting of the Woman's Club of Rosslyn Farms, for which Mrs. Charles G. Campbell was hostess, Mrs. Oliver P. Heck, guest-soloist, accompanied by Mrs. John Bingham, sang two numbers.

Rosslyn Meeting

"Switzerland," the subject for discussion, was presented by the leader, Mrs. J. G. Hamilton, and this was followed by Mrs. C. P. Gallagher's reading a paper on the history and industry of the country. Mrs. Hamilton then read the story "Echt Tiroler," and after Mrs. Forrest Alter described the sports and pastime of Switzerland. "A Trip Through Switzerland" was given by Miss Prudence Rambeau, and the customary current events discussion was added by Mrs. R. L. Cathcart. There was a delightful tea hour with Mrs. Josephine Baglin and Mrs. Monroe Lemmon pouring.

* * *

MRS. A. C. GORDON, of Shadeland avenue, entertained yesterday's meeting of the Brighton Women's Club. Scandinavian musicians, Ole Bull, Grieg and Jenny Lind were discussed by Miss Henrietta Gerwig, who illustrated her paper with two Grieg compositions. Mrs. Charles Sturm described a trip through the Gota Canal, Sweden. A change for the next meeting, on April 10, makes Mrs. A. M. Meckelnberg, of Washington avenue, Bellevue, hostess.

Carries Her Jewels, Snatcher Gets Them

CHICAGO, March 28.—(AP.)—Edward Evitz, wife of a wholesale clothier, was taking no chances on leaving valuables around for thieves. Since her home was looted a few weeks ago she had taken all her jewelry with her every time she left the house. Last night, as she was walking in a crowd, her purse was snatched and the robber escaped. The bag contained three diamond rings and a diamond stickpin, valued at $1,500.

Past Chancellors' Elect Officers

MONESSEN, Pa., March 28.—C. L. MacDonald, Connellsville, was re-elected president of the Past Chancellors' Association of Southwestern Pennsylvania at the annual banquet-meeting here. Other officers elected included: M. J. Molans, Uniontown, vice-president; Thomas Keigley, Uniontown, secretary; A. Chapman, Uniontown, treasurer, and W. Seaton, Uniontown, chaplain. Next meeting of the association will be at Star Junction, April 21.

ASKS STATE AID WEAK-MINDED

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—(AP.)—The state must provide adequate facilities for the care of the under-privileged if it is to live up to its responsibilities, Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, secretary of the Department of Welfare, said here last night at the eighth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Committee on Penal Affairs.

She pointed to exploitation of mental defectives by the unscrupulous as a glaring evil. In consequence, she said, her department has recommended establishment of the Cumberland Valley Institution for Mental Defectives, near Harrisburg.

"The 1931 session of the General Assembly will be asked to appropriate sufficient funds to avert any further delay in furnishing these facilities, the need for which is unquestioned," she said.

VERNER'S ARE INTRODUCING

FOOT-BUILDER SHOES FOR CHILDREN

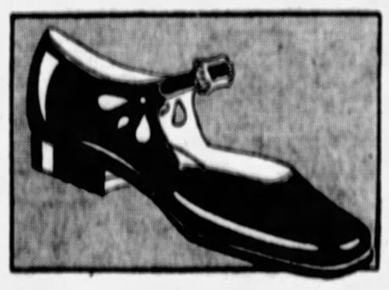
At $3.75

SPECIAL RUN of SIZES 8½ to 2

Every Pittsburgh mother will be glad to know about this brand-new line of children's shoes . . . shoes of excellent quality and scientific construction designed to fit perfectly . . . at the same time selling at an amazingly low price.

The result of long research, Foot-Builder Shoes are built on a combination last (narrow at instep and heel, but insuring plenty of freedom for the toes). The heel heights are lifted gradually according to the age of the child.

Specially selected soft, pliable leathers are used in the manufacture. All the soles are sewed, therefore there are no nails or tacks. All Foot-Builder shoes have durable, flexible Sparton Gold-Spot soles, insuring damp-proof, long wear.



Complete stock of dress or play shoes . . . camel elk, tan elk, or patent. Oxfords and pumps in ten styles. Special run of sizes . . . 8½ to 2 . . . all widths. One price only $3.75

BYRD TO SAIL HOME APRIL 9

DUNEDIN, New Zealand, March 28.—(AP.)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd announced today that he would start for New York, April 9, aboard the line Corinthic.

Leaving Wellington on that date the explorer, who a few weeks ago returned here after more than a year in the Antarctic, will arrive at Panama April 30, about 20 days ahead of his two expedition ships.

The bark, City of New York, sailed from here last Sunday on its way to Papeete, Tahiti, the first stop. The steamer Eleanor Bolling is to leave Sunday and probably will overtake the bark before it reaches Papeete. Together the two ships will go to Panama.

Admiral Byrd said he would wait at Panama for his ships and there board the bark for the remainder of the voyage to New York City.

NEW POLICY ON NAVY QUITTERS

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP.)—Inaugurating a new policy concerning resignations from the United States Naval Academy, the Navy Department announced it had accepted the resignations of 20 members of the June graduating class at Annapolis.

Explaining the new policy, the Bureau of Navigation said that heretofore midshipmen have been required to serve two years after graduation, but this year those who do not intend to remain in the Navy will be honorably discharged as soon as they have completed the Academy course.

The bureau also said that 180 graduating midshipmen would be qualified for aviation training, and that 25 would be assigned to the Marine Corps and four to the Navy Supply Corps. Nearly 14 per cent of the class of 409, it was said, probably will fail to pass physical or academic examinations.

POPULARITY PREDICTED FOR STRIPES, TWEEDS AND JERSEYS

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, March 28.—Stripes remain stars in the sartorial firmament. Tweeds and jerseys in wavy, plain and zig-zag stripes are used for the little-dress-and-straight little-coat ensemble which will be in evidence here this spring. Such ensembles are free from all superfluous detail and so striped material may supply the necessary note of trimming to the model, except for a simple belt somewhat darker in tone than the color of the frock.

DESPITE the prevalence of suits, the coat is well represented in most collections. The caped coat is first favorite as has been demonstrated by advance sketches shown earlier on these pages, but there are always women who demand a coat of simple straight line with an original note of trimming. Such coats are always sure of their place in the mode, whatever its manifestation, and however much you many be enamored of your suit, there will be moments when you will long for a frock accompanied by a good-looking coat.

FROM the spring collection of the house of Augustabernard comes an eloquent argument for the charms of the coat in the guise of a straight, simple coat of black broadcloth, an ideal choice if your wardrobe is to include but one coat. The flat yoke is cleverly bordered by a crisp, upstanding and very full flounce of broadtail cut in irregular curves and points. The coat is a generous seven-eighths showing just an edge of skirt. This is a very youthful therefore a most successful model.

* * *

THE sports ensemble is from Molyneaux and is of loosely woven beige jersey with a zig-zag stripe in dark brown. The short, straight coat is unlined. The brown leather belt marks a moderately high waistline, and the narrow, snug-fitting frock is softened by means of a box-pleated flounce. Vertically striped bands of the fabric are the sole trimming on both frock and coat.

Figs Are Delicious and Beneficial to Health

Necessary roughage as well as nutriment is found in figs. Figs are being cultivated more and more extensively in this country, indicating even greater popularity.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
Former Health Commissioner of New York City
United States Senator From New York

THERE are something like a hundred kinds of figs. They are of ancient lineage, for they come to us from the earliest times. Often does the Bible speak of them, and to sit under one's own vine and fig tree was the pride of all Ancients. Dried figs have always been among the staple foods of the Orientals.

It is interesting to note the three most common ways of drying and preparing figs. First, figs are cured in the sun. If it is properly done, any fruit is better dried in the sun than by any other method.

Another method is that of exposing figs to the fumes of burning sulphur so as to sterilize the fungi, spores and larvae on the outside of the figs. Then they are dried in the sun.

A third way is to plunge the figs into boiling lye, or baking soda. Then they are washed and dried in the sun.

FRESH FIGS DELICIOUS.

If you have never eaten a fresh fig you have missed a delicious morsel. Most fruits taste the best fresh from the tree, don't they?

One peculiarity about the fig tree is that the male and female flowers grow on separate trees. This means that some sort of fertilization is necessary. It has been found that a certain "fig wasp" carried the pollen from one tree to another. This process is known as "caprification."

Figs are valuable for us, not only because they contain some nutriment, but they serve as roughage in the diet. We need to eat the fruits that have bulk and fibrous material so as to stimulate intestinal action. Likewise, such foods serve to cleanse the intestinal walls.

"CHEWY" FOOD

The diet is not well chosen unless it contains these articles. We must get the "chewy" foods so that the teeth may be used and the muscles of the jaw and the intestinal muscles can have the necessary exercise. The seeds and fibre of figs are good for us.

It is a good thing that America is growing figs in large quantities. They are cultivated in several states. However, 15 million pounds of figs are imported into the country annually. I think, however, that the time is not far distant when the domestic fig will be used far more than it is at present.

The commercial bakers are giving new popularity to the fig. Biscuits are made containing this delicious fruit.

CHICKIE

Marriage Unlikely, Barry Suggests Parting

CHAPTER XLV.

THAT night they paddled up a small creek. Other boats passing them in the narrow channel flung out laughter and snatches of song that in the darkness echoed with a deep, mysterious sadness. He said, suddenly: "Let's walk."

They went up the sandy bank into a deep planting of apple trees—an orchard just along the water's edge. He put his arm about her, feeling for her hand. They walked like this in silence.

Chickie reached her free hand to his neck. When he kissed her, she whispered, laughingly: "Barry—anyway, it's beautiful. Life is beautiful."

He answered with a short, rough breath: "No, life is hard." "Why do you say that?"

"It is!" And he was still searching her eyes, bending down to her—he drew her to him, his heart thumping. It knocked against her. "It's hard, Chickie! I love you, Lordee! I love you."

The pallor of his drawn face so near hers, held her motionless. "As much as that, Barry? Do you really?"

"Chickie—oh, Lord!"

She put her hands—both of them—hard against that furious pulsing. She gave a little astonishing cry. He wound his arms about her, holding her rigid. She said breathlessly: "No—don't."

But he moved her lips over her face. He said, harshly: "Chickie—what are we to do! Tell me, Lordee, Chickie, what are we waiting for?"

She sank from him; sank to the sands, burying her face in her arms. A terrible weakness that throbbed and half fainted passed about her.

He let her cry. After a while he came over, kneeling beside her. He took her hand gently with a quiet: "Is this the way you feel about me, Chickie?"

Stares at Her

"Barry—you break my heart."

He stared at her, his young mouth grim and reckless. "Why? Because I love you? Is that such an awful sin? What have I done that's so terrible, Chickie? Let you see that I love you—that I want you now and not some day never to come? What's awful about that?" He laughed bitterly. "We have no right to want each other, Moore isn't ready. I haven't the money!"

From the depths of a throbbing suffocation she pleaded weakly: "Don't talk like this, Barry. Oh, you mustn't."

"But I feel like this, Chickie. This is the way I feel. I can't stand it—that's all."

A deathly chill wrapped down over the pressing heat. She took his face in her hands. "Then it isn't love, Barry?"

Little, bitter movements went about his lips. "No—by the Lord! It's hell!"

They sat in an aching quiet. It seemed to chickie that time—whole centuries of it—went dragging by with cold, sodden feet.

Then he was standing. Then he said heavily: "We might as well go."

His hand, as he helped her to her feet, was like ice. The look on his face, so gray and still, frightened her. He said nothing at all. When they reached the cottage he turned to her a moment, a look beseeching and anxious like a prayer in his eyes.

He waited till she crossed the porch. She heard his steps going down the gravel path. She listened, fearful, as to some compelling and terrible music that in its growing faintness carried her heart from her.

Sleepless Night

She lay awake that night, the look of drawn suffering on his face passing again and again before her like a pale, unhappy ghost. Suddenly she sat up, the night air blowing chill on her bare shoulders. She remembered with a stab of terror that she had turned from him hastily when his eyes caught her with that look of eager pleading. And he had gone without saying a word.

With the memory, a wildness swept through her. She saw herself stepping from the bed, running down the gravel path—calling him back, tugging at his sleeve—holding him.

Overpowering fear crept about her. What could he do? Where was he? She wanted to get up and go stealing to him. If she had only put her arms about him; if she had only whispered softly, holding his head against her heart.

She wanted to do that. She would do it! The longing and the pity of the afternoon came over her faint and hot.

Then she heard his voice low and harsh: "What are we to do, Chickie? Tell me that—"

She cowered down in the bed staring at the thousand stars glowing with quiet silver in the dark bosom of the night. Oh—he didn't mean that—he was excited—he was unnerved—

He would take it all back in the morning. The sun would be out. They would dash into the cold water—

She put her arms over her face, closed out thoughts—closed out echoes. They dropped into her heart, heavy and alive. They stormed there.

She shrank from meeting him again.

Before Jennie was stirring the next morning Chickie stole from bed. She felt a shakiness as though each nerve vibrated with its separate fear. She pinned a note on the kitchen stove.

"Jennie, darling, I forgot to tell you that your angel child is having breakfast on the beach. It's all the rage. Give Jonathan 10 kisses and my share of bacon."

She went softly down the gravel path, rushing along one moment by her tormented anxiety held back by a shrinking reluctance.

Meets Barry

When she saw him through the scrub trees, sitting in the canoe, motionless, as though he had been there all night, her heart leaped. He waited quiet, like the gray morning—a part of the chill, austere scene, the gray water and the gray mists, but half parted by the sun climbing dimly over the tree tops.

She began to run. She touched his shoulder and laughed. Then her eyes filled, seeing his face so white; his mouth set, yet trembling.

Without speaking they paddled down the cool creek, dragged the canoe to a little sandy beach. He made a fire, gathering sticks and papers, snapping the branches of a dead tree. Then he set the coffee on to simmer.

When the bacon wreathed with pungent fragrance about them and he had succeeded in frying two or three eggs without getting them black or sooty he took a wooden plate and offered them to Chickie. He made her look at him, his eyes humble and pleading. "Chickie, are you angry with me? Do you want never to see me again?"

"You hurt me so. Oh, terribly—"

"I know. I'm sorry. Don't hold it against me."

Her laugh broke forth, happy as the breeze: "I knew you didn't mean it. Why, Barry, I was sure of that."

He lapsed into moodiness, breathing heavily. She pushed a little mound of sand toward him: "Why are you looking so black?"

"I'm not so sure about things, Chickie—about anything. I don't know how you feel, but this seems ghastly to me—putting everything in the future, letting others tell us how we should feel and when. One way you look at it it's sordid. It's making a slave of yourself. It's calling emotions shameful and they are nothing of the sort! It's making our feelings mark time to our purse and they won't do it. And it's degrading to ask it. It's putting money first and love second. We shouldn't have to do that. I've always felt so!

Chickie Cries

"And if you look at it coldly, what's the sense of it? We may be dead in five or six years. Heaven knows we'll never love each other more than we do right now. Then why is it wrong? Why does it seem so terrible to you? It's not to me!"

She looked into her coffee cup. The sun, now triumphant, made a little whirling light on its dark surface. Her eyes blinked. She tried to speak, but her chin, doubling up, trickled her into silence.

He was looking up to her and waiting, a restless, strained supplication on his mouth. He said hurriedly: "Don't look so, Chickie. Don't feel so bad. I'm only talking. I keep loving you and wanting you more and more and I can't see what difference any hokus-pokus third party is going to say over us will make. It won't make our love any righter. It can't! It's as right as the sun—as the river flowing down here to meet the ocean! It is to me—"

Seeing the pretty eyes he liked so well, shutting, tears spattering into her coffee, he moved up and sat beside her; took the cup from her hands: "Chickie, listen! why so melancholic? Let me rant a little. No sin in that. Chickie, you don't know how sweet you are—how, even sitting here near you—oh, well—I can't help that. Look up—let me see your eyes—please. You're the only girl—yes, you are—I love you. I can't see why I shouldn't—can't see why Moore and his plans should stop me. You're not going to cry, Chickie? Don't—

"But we're funny things aren't we? With our little conventions stuck up like umbrellas to keep us dry against the rain of another's disapproval. Look at these minnows—how idotic now if they should suddenly organize to make life unbearable for each other; to put a taboo on freedom and happiness; to pass a law ordering minnows not to snatch insects for food! What's the difference?

"If the world said it was all right for two sweet, brave things like thee and me to live and love, you'd feel quite different, wouldn't you? And this redhead wouldn't be the black beast, huh?"

"I don't think that, Barry—I don't want to think that. I lay awake all last night."

"Thinking hard things of me, Chickie? Did you?"

"No—loving you."

He pressed her hand, turning his head swiftly from her. "Chickie, listen—I won't trouble you again. You're too sweet—that's the trouble—well—"

He became buoyant, losing the furious resentments. He poked up the fire, heated the coffee for her and, taking the cup she has held, threw out its contents with a merry: "There go the dear one's tears! Dry 'em!"

Her spirit caught the fervor of his. They ran into the water, and when they swam he pulled her down and kissed her. "Another sin for you, frail. Like It?"

And when she felt the water deepening and threw up her arms in panic, he grabbed her hair, dragged her a little, grinning and teasing. She was almost in tears because of the relief and joy.

But when it neared evening and he wanted to know what plan she had for the night, she said, not meeting the eagerness in his eyes: "Barry, we've had such fun today . . . I'm awfully tired. You know, just for a change, I think I'll go to bed early."

He said quietly: "You're thinking of last night, Chickie."

She glanced steadfastly into the water, stirring up a little whirlpool with her bare foot.

"Is that it, Chickie?"

"Well—but isn't it better this way, Barry?"

"You mean that it is safer. Is that it, Chickie? But if you begin to argue in this manner you'll end by saying we shouldn't see each other at all. It will come to that! It will, Chickie! Is that what you want? Do you want that?"

He stood at her side, holding her arm, speaking in a rapid, hoarse tone that made her wish to close her eyes, lean against his, shut her ears.

She said entreating: "Don't! Barry, don't go on like this."

He said in a low whisper: "If you want this, Chickie, you ought to say it."

"I'd rather die."

Katherine Unfolds Tale About Mystery Burglars

AT MY demand to tell me what had happened at the farm, Katherine took my hands from her shoulders, swung them lightly, and looked at me quizzically.

"Remember the contributing cause of the cat's interment," she told me, smiling? "I'm going to exercise my authority as nurse and ask you a question or two first. When did you breakfast? and how much sleep did you have?"

"I breakfasted three hours ago, and I had two hours' sleep," I answered. "but if you think you're going to get away with—"

"My child, I'm accustomed to getting away with murder," she retorted placidly, "as you very well know. As to what has happened, it's quite a long story, and I want to have the chance to tell it to you without interference. So please come out to the kitchen where I've provided you a snack. Then we'll sneak up to your room and I'll unfold the tale. I'll tell you where the family is as we go. Katie is with Junior who is still asleep, for I haven't wakened him this morning. Your father and your mother-in-law are also asleep. Jim is at the barn. Now sit ye down and get outside this breakfast. I'm not as good a cook as Katie, but perhaps 'twill serve.

"Get warm, first," she commanded. "Then you can wash up and sit down to your breakfast. I'll start your omelet now. I don't want Junior to know you're here until after I've had a chance to talk to you, and I certainly want to keep Mother Graham and your father asleep."

"Now!" she said. "We'll get the worst of it over with. There was an attempt at robbery here last night. Your father heard them in the room next to Lillian's where Marion used to sleep. Like the darling old idiot he is, he stole down the hall, revolver in hand, and went into her room with a command to surrender. But the men, whoever they were, must have been desperate and remarkable marksmen. They were masked and muffled, and one of them fired at your father's hand and knocked the pistol out of his hand.

"Then while one of them held him, the other dashed into my room—caught up Junior and holding him before him covered the retreat of the other man downstairs, and outdoors where he evidently had a confederate in a motor car. Then, still holding Junior—don't look so white—I gave you my word nobody was hurt, he parleyed with your father and me, for, of course, I was in the hall, too, as was Mother Graham — that shot would have aroused anybody but Katie. He said that he would put Junior down unharmed if we gave our solemn word not to sound any alarm for an hour. Of course there was but one thing to do. We gave our word. He set Junior down and followed the other man outside. We heard the car drive away, and your father waited, watch in hand, until the hour had passed. Then he telephoned the state police and the rest of the night we spent in going over the thing with the Law. The officers left at daylight and after that you can imagine the time I had in getting Mother Graham and Junior quieted down enough so that they could sleep. Your father was pretty well shaken too, I imagine, but, of course, he didn't show his excitement."

I looked at Katherine wondering if her mind held the same thought as mine.

"You say the man went straight to your room and caught up Junior?" I asked.

She nodded, her eyes returning my glance.

"Yes," she said, "the man must have known where Junior slept."

My lips were stiff when I put the next question. "What did the police get out of that?"

"Oh, of course they said 'inside job' at once." Katherine said with a scornful little laugh, "and insisted on routing out Katie and Jim and putting them through a course of questioning which practically accused them of being accomplices of the burglars.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Addressing Wedding Invitations

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: Whose place is it to address the wedding invitations, which are, of course, sent out by the bride's parents? I have received several invitations, on which I have recognized the bride's handwriting. This to me doesn't seem to be the correct form. I should think the bride's mother should be the one to address the envelopes.

MISS F. A. N.

IT does not make any difference who addresses the envelopes of the wedding invitations and announcements. If the bride has a good-looking handwriting, and time, it is perfectly correct for her to address the envelopes.

Ill-Placed Criticism

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: Will you please let me know if I did the right thing? I have been told that I should not have done it.

While visiting a friend, my little son tore a curtain, and, thinking it my duty to replace it, I bought a new curtain and sent it to my hostess. I was told that it was not proper to do this and that she would be insulted. Did I do right. E. K.

YES, you did do the polite and gracious and thoughtful thing. I am sure that your hostess will not be hurt, but will thoroughly understand that, insofar as you could, you replaced the article that was injured. She would be a very strange person, I think, if she did not understand that your intention was perfectly meant. Do not be at all disturbed by the ill-placed criticism of the person who said that your taste in this matter was not good.

An Informal Costume for the Groom

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: Is it permissible for a gentleman to wear anything but the "conventional black" when being married? The wedding will be informal and the gentleman does not wear black very well, as he looks so much older in dark clothes. Soft gray is his color, but he is in doubt as to the appropriateness of gray for this particular occasion. G. D. L.

I TAKE it that the bridegroom is to wear a business suit, and for this "conventional black," as a matter of fact, has never been "conventional." Dark-blue is usually worn. Since it is best to make the informality of the business suit as inconspicuous as possible, blue is to be preferred to gray.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, March 29

THE planetary forces for this day assist to propitious and progressive conditions especially in new directions, but generally routine affairs should be pushed toward fresh developments with vigor and enterprise.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of advantage and progress, with routine matters as well as all sorts of new developments flourishing.

A child born on this day may be talented, enterprising and should be generally successful.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

The 'Symptom' Age

A WOMAN has not reached middle age until "an appointment with the doctor" is almost as intriguing and exciting as "a date with the Boy Friend" used to be.

To a woman who has reached the "symptoms" age there is something positively alluring about the consulting room; and a whole year without a single operation in it seems awfully dull and flat.

There is something about a surgeon almost beguiling to a woman with the hospital habit. Given a clean white coat, a pair of powerful hands, and a tender, interested bedside manner, and the most ordinary man becomes a sort of demi-god, radiating sweetness and hope.

To the woman who sits opposite him at breakfast he may be just a prosaic, mundane, everyday husband, full of bacon and eggs and human weaknesses.

* * *

To the woman who sits opposite him in his consulting room he appears a superhuman Being, invested with some miraculous power to SAVE her.

The average woman feels that her surgeon can "save" her from ANYTHING—even ennui! Lots of women, I am sure, go to the hospital, at least once a year, just in order to have their boredom removed and their lassitude reduced.

* * *

Much of a surgeon's strange fascination, of course, is in his uniform. Watch a man doff his tweed coat and don his professional apron with its military collar—and behold, a metamorphosis! From a mere man, he is transformed suddenly into a mysteriously omnipotent being, calculated to make any woman forget where the pain is.

* * *

Then again, there is a thrill in the thought that he knows every heart-beat, corpuscle and reaction in her system—and is INTERESTED in them. He's gottabe!

* * *

The one time that a woman can be sure that a man's interest is completely centered in her is when she is "consulting" him, and he is taking a "history" of her case.

Almost any surgeon can make a woman believe that money is no object and that her happiness and well-being are the dearest things to his heart.

After that, she is willing to "give up" anything, from her tonsils to her appendix. As far as SHE is concerned, he could remove her house and lot, and she would never murmur!

There is no thrill to a woman at the symptom age like being a "serious case." She would rather be "in the hands of a surgeon" than in the arms of a lover!

And, of course, it is not until long afterward, when the bill comes in, that she wakes up to the realization that she is just a number in his card-index.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Poor Health a Cause of Eruptions

AT the close of the winter, or in the spring of the year, we are likely to have uncomfortable ailments. When a person is in a run-down condition and his resistances to disease is low, then it is that the germs of disease gain entrance to the body. In one way or another, they break through our defenses.

DR. COPELAND

If the skin is not kept scrupulously clean, germs may gain access to the body through a scratch or a tiny sore on the skin. A boil may soon appear at that spot. It may become a crop of boils, those painful and disagreeable visitors that make no end of trouble.

They may attack any part of the body. One of the most painful things in the world is the small boil which comes in the ear or to the nose.

Too many think they can bring the boil to an end by pressing out the contents. This is the wrong thing to do, because the squeezing breaks down the tissues surrounding the infected area. In this way the infection spreads.

Boils are an indication that the victim is in poor health; your doctor should be asked to give you a physical examination and advise you about building up your health.

Make sure you are not constipated. Avoid an excess of fats on the food, also rich pies and pastries. Drink plenty of water. Take fresh lemonade several times a day. It is one of the best of remedies.

When a boil first appears, it may be aborted by an application of iodine or some other antiseptic. If this is unsuccessful, hot applications or spirits of camphor will reduce the inflammation. If a boil does develop, and others follow, then the state of health should be studied.

Your doctor will see that you have no kidney trouble. Boils and carbuncles often accompany cases of diabetes or some kidney disease. Your general health should be built up, and this advice should not be neglected.

A simple diet should be followed with vigorous out-of-door exercise. Be in the sunshine as much as possible, and follow the right sort of diet.

After the boil or abscess breaks, or it is opened by the doctor, he will advise keeping it lightly covered with gauze. These pads should be destroyed, as they contain infectious matter.

To have good health is the greatest thing in life. Not much can be gained without it. You must become acquainted with the rules of health and live up to them in order to keep it. Good and simple food, fresh air and refreshing sleep, and vigorous everyday exercise keep the body in good repair. Get them "by hook or crook." Build up your body in sound health to resist disease. Boils are only a symptom. Find out the cause and correct it!

Household Hints

Canned blueberries are delicious in muffins. A little lemon juice and grated lemon rind add additional flavor.

Wooden spoons should first be dipped in boiling water before using. This will prevent discoloration and absorbing of flavors.

The taste of scorched milk can be taken away if the saucepan containing it is immediately stood in cold salted water and left for a few minutes.

The White House Gang

the orderly routine of family life, were caused by the presence of the Gang in the White House, that the advantages of conflicting interests, rivalries and hot personal feelings among boys of identical age, normally healthy and normally selfish, were such as would work out his large moral benefits for all concerned. But he knew, also, that the Gang must be left entirely alone, and to its own devices at important and critical times, to work out, independently, its own problems and salvation.

Flag Sacred to Boys

If Q's leadership of the Gang were not entirely conceded after his feat a la Mahomet, it certainly was given ratification on the roof of the White House. Here, where the roof ridge ran east and west, along the center, was the boardwalk under the flagpole. This walk we (nautically) called the "bridge." With the thick flagpole rising like a mast into the blue, the golden eagle, his wings outspread as if about to take flight, the whole place—except the grey of the roof-deck—was spotlessly white, correct, severe and shipshape as a man-of-war, the flag-halyards cleated and the ends neatly coiled. Small wonder that we fell into naval terminology. The openings between the balustrades below, Q called "hawse-holes."

Time and again we would look up to the flag—flying only when the President was in the White House or the Government offices—and speculate on the commotion down on Pennsylvania avenue or in the State-War-Navy Building, which would attend our hauling it down and running it up again. Despite such speculations, however, the flag, in our deepest consciousness, was altogether too sacred a symbol to be touched, except at appointed moments—those of raising and lowering, and even then, with the careful ritual, which we all knew, prohibited the letting of so much as a corner of it touch the ground, and provided for its slow and reverent folding with prescribed and dignified detail.

Leadership Decided

So, when, as a final, open bid for leadership, one of the Gang actually dared the rest of us to put our speculation into action, and lay profanating hands upon the halyards, Q instantly struck him, with every ounce of strength and energy in his vigorous little body. The boy sprawled off the "bridge" and rolled over and over down the slanting pitch of the roof, some forty-odd feet, to the gutter alongside the balustrade. There he sat, surprised—but entirely settled! And the question of leadership was settled, also—then and there!

The responsibility of leadership descended upon Quentin with all the weight of the importance to the Gang of success or failure. But in what particular direction achievement must be directed, we did not know. We had no general plan, other than the successful surmounting of obstacles, as we came upon them or darted away to avoid them, when they were suddenly discovered to be potentially calamitous.

It would appear to have been the same with the Grant Gang; for spread upon their old, brittle records—written in the faded ink of the minutes of 1873—is the following: "Jesse Grant moved: That the society have some motive. Passed. The following . . . were appointed as a committee on motive: W. Chew, L. Chew and A. K. Parris." Much later, Mr. Parris admitted: "I can find no record that this committee ever reported. The subject, it must have been thought, was too vast and complicated, with all life opening up before us. It was only later that we discovered what our real motive had been all along."

The Wallet Trick

The motive, of course, with them, as with us, was fellowship and growth, which we understood as little as they. Our Gang-life was life; already we were aware of some of its responsibilities. But we considered ourselves, nevertheless, far removed from the drab existence of most grown-ups . . . particularly the clerks of the State, War and Navy departments, pouring out of the great building at the end of the day's works; hurrying down the steep banks of steps and, in some mysterious way, emerging from beneath them, eagerly anxious to return to their homes, or as Q said, with a touch of really serious understanding, "Some of them, I fear, to rooms in boarding-houses and other kinds of lodgings."

This sympathy did not deter us, however, from resorting to the old wallet-and-string trick, in order to decoy a clerk as he hurried home along the curving sidewalk, skirting the south of the White House grounds.

Dick Chew, Walker White and myself lay quietly behind the hedge inside the picket-fence, while Q held the end of the string. The wallet, apparently, dropped upon the pavement, was too inviting for the clerk to resist stooping for it. Q jerked the string and the wallet flopped across the sidewalk just as the man's fingers were about to close around it.

Due to Q's over-eager jerk of the line, the wallet caught between the pickets and the clerk, surprised but agile, grabbed it, before Q could pull it through to safety.

"Well, well," he said, with a grin. "This is one time when the fooler's fooled, and the biter's bitten."

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

THAT woman who disapproves of almost everything that any other woman says or does, reveals her disposition in the severe lines of her mouth, by pulling the lips close to the teeth, drawing down her chin, holding her head rigid. She develops the kind of a face that one loves to push, though, as a matter of fact one doesn't do it; one just wants to. Ladies of a critical trend should be careful and not carry an expression of condemnation and superiority. The expression digs in, it sticks, and it is not pretty. No!

Start the baby daughter along the beauty way. It will mean a lot to her when she's a bonnie lassie. See that she brushes her teeth night and morning. Cultivate in her a fastidious regard for cleanliness and fresh garments. Select for her the style of shoe that won't cramp her little toes but will permit them to point straight ahead as Mommer Nature intended. Tell her every day that she is sweet; that will make her so. Do everything possible to give her a strong body and a steady nervous system.

Lotion before which freckles scatter; one ounce of lactic acid, one ounce of glycerine, six ounces of water. Lactic acid contains the same properties as lemon juice, but in a stronger degree. Apply the lotion every night; every morning bathe the face with cold water and then tap on cold cream.

SUNDAY MENU:
Crab Meat in Aspic.
Baked Beef Tongue
Vegetable Balls. Grilled Tomatoes.
Asparagus with Buttered Crumbs.
Banana and Nut Salad.
Chocolate Roll with Ice Cream.
Coffee.

EVERY Sunday dinner ought to be a surprise dinner, and I think it is a good idea to introduce at least one novelty dish to intrigue the family appetite. A handsomely baked beef tongue surrounded by a variety of vegetable balls and garnished with crisp, perky sprigs of parsley—there you have your surprise dish for this Sunday's dinner!

Boil a beef tongue until tender and then remove the skin. For the vegetables you will need 1 carrot, 2 or 3 potatoes, 1 onion, 1 turnip and 1 cup peas. Cut the vegetables in balls with a vegetable cutter (the left-overs can be reserved for creamed vegetables or soup). Add 2 stalks celery, cut in cubes.

PLACE the tongue in a roasting pan and put the vegetables around it. Season with salt, pepper, and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Pour over this some of the water in which the tongue was cooked. Add 2 tablespoons butter or fat. Cover the pan closely and bake for two hours.

When the tongue is ready to be served, remove it to a hot platter. Place the vegetables in around it, and pour the gravy thickened with a little flour, over the top. The sprigs of parsley add the final touch to a most appetizing dish.

More Cups to the Pound in White House Coffee!

Why Experiment with New Untried Brands?

WHITE HOUSE Coffee, even though it may cost a little more than inferior coffees, is really more economical to use—its richness yields more cups to the pound of deliciously flavored coffee.

Those who use White House Coffee have long ago realized it is costly to experiment with New and Untried Brands—they cannot be induced to change from their old favorite because there is no finer flavored coffee to be had than White House—nor any coffee more reasonable in price.

White House flavor and quality have been maintained and jealously guarded for over 40 years—nothing could make us change from this policy. We take pride in the fact that White House Coffee has always been superior in quality to other coffees and it is recognized as such by hundreds of thousands of discriminating coffee makers everywhere.

Sealed in tins to keep the flavor in.

boarding house prunes meant stewed prunes served once, twice and sometimes three times a day. Prunes were inexpensive and they were "good for you" and as such had a claim to everybody's menu!

Prunes are still inexpensive and still just as good for one. As a matter of fact, they assume quite an air of importance during the winter months when fresh fruits are not very plentiful. And there is no reason why prunes should not be served attractively enough to lift them from their lowly state.

TRY this prune tart and you'll agree it belongs in the aristocracy of the strawberry shortcake.

Line a baking dish with pastry and fill the middle with soaked dried prunes from which the stones have been removed. Sprinkle with sugar and flour and bake until the fruit is tender. Now mix the yolks of 3 eggs with 1 tablespoon cream, ½ cup sugar and ½ cup cake crumbs.

Pour it over the prunes and bake until done. Cover with a mountainous meringue made of the whites of the 3 eggs, ¼ cup powdered sugar and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Return to the oven to brown.

Even the simple stewed prune can be improved by adding a slice of lemon or a slice of orange during the cooking. And a little cinnamon adds to the flavor.

MAPLE SYRUP CAKE—One-half cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup maple syrup, ½-cup hot water, 2½ cups sifted flour, 1-3 teaspoon soda, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon ginger.

Cream the butter thoroughly and add the sugar; then the eggs, well beaten. Beat the mixture well. Add the maple syrup. Sift the flour before measuring, then add the soda, baking powder and sugar and sift again. Add the flour mixture alternately to the dough with the hot water. Turn into an oiled loaf cake pan and bake from 50 to 60 minutes in a moderate oven.

QUEEN GEORGIA'S CAKE—¾ cup shortening, 1½ cups sugar, 3 eggs, ¾ cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ cup raisin juice, ½ cup raisins, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder.

Plump raisins, drain and chop using coarse cutter; cream together shortening and sugar. Add 3 beaten egg yolks and 1 white (save remaining whites for frosting); raisins, sour milk and raisin juice. Combine with flour sifted with baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Mix thoroughly. Pour into 3 greased layer cake pans and bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Put together with boiled frosting.

FIG FRITTERS—Sift together a cup of flour, a teaspoon of baking powder, ¼ teaspoon of salt, 2½ tablespoons of granulated sugar. Mix ½ cup of milk and a beaten egg and fold in the flour mixture. Fry until a delicate brown. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with the fig syrup.

ITALIAN RICE—One large onion, 1 clove garlic, 3 tablespoonfuls butter, 1 cupful of uncooked rice, ½ pound chopped beef, 1 small can tomatoes, 1 cupful of water, 1 bayleaf, ¾ teaspoonful of salt, ⅛ teaspoonful of pepper.

Chop onion and garlic fine and fry in butter until a delicate brown. Add meat and cook until slightly browned. Add rice, tomatoes, water, bayleaf, salt and pepper. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking, add more boiling water, if necessary. Cook until rice is tender—about 25 minutes. One cupful of left-over meat, cut in cubes, may be substituted for the chopped beef.

CORNED BEEF HASH—Two and a half cupfuls of chopped cooked corned beef, salt and pepper, 2½ cupfuls of chopped cooked potatoes, ½ cupful of milk or water, 3 tablespoonfuls of butter.

Mix meat and potatoes and add salt and pepper to taste. Heat the milk in a frying pan with 2 tablespoonfuls of butter. Add the meat and potatoes and spread evenly. Dot with bits of butter. Cover and cook slowly for ½ hour—do not stir. It should have a rich brown crust on the bottom. Fold over like an omelet. The slow cooking is important as it gives the hash a better flavor. Left-over carrots, turnips, beets, parsnips or other vegetables may be added to the hash.

SWEET POTATOES AND CORN—Two tablespoonfuls of shortening, 2 tablespoonfuls of flour, 1 cupful of evaporated milk, ½ cupful of water, 4 teaspoonfuls of sugar, 1 cupful of bread crumbs, 1 teaspoonful of salt, ⅛ teaspoonful of pepper, ⅛ teaspoonful of paprika, 1 cupful of canned corn, 1½ cupfuls of cooked sweet potatoes cut in cubes.

Melt butter, add flour and mix until smooth. Add combined milk and water slowly, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Add sugar, salt, pepper and paprika. Put alternate layers of corn and potatoes in a greased baking dish and pour the hot sauce over them. Cover top with bread crumbs and dot with bits of butter. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes, or until crumbs are brown. This dish is a particularly good main dish for luncheon or supper, with a plain crisp salad.

HOT TOMATO SANDWICH—For each sandwich spread one slice bread with butter and the other with either pimento or cream cheese. Place the two slices together. Fry the sandwiches gently in melted butter. Remove them to a shallow pan and place a thick slice of tomato over each sandwich. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and add ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce for each sandwich. Bake in a hot oven or broil them under a hot flame for a few minutes. Serve while hot.

CREAMED DRIED BEEF—This is another dish warranted to make the after-theater supper a success. Heat contents of a medium-sized jar of dried beef in 6 tablespoons of butter for about 5 minutes. Add 6 tablespoons of flour and stir until smooth. Add enough milk to make the mixture creamy, stirring constantly.

* * *

SARDINE NEWBERG—Make a cream sauce of 2 tablespoons of butter, 3 tablespoons of flour, 2 cups of light cream, a tablespoon of lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste. Add a slightly beaten egg yolk. Add 2 hard-

ROUGHAGE IS ESSENTIAL IN REDUCING DIETS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Ideal Roughage

If you are following a reducing diet, it is doubly important that you take a regular amount of roughage into the system daily. Most reducing diets do not contain a sufficient amount of roughage. The result is constipation—thief of both health and beauty.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is recommended by many doctors and dietitians because it contains the bulk necessary to insure proper elimination.

Also, because it contains the iron needed to help prevent anemia—another danger in reducing diets.

ALL-BRAN is not fattening. Its bulk sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes—helping to promote glorious health and beauty.

A popular way to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is soaked in fruit juice. Try it! It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals, salads and soups. It adds flavor to cooked foods and is equally effective. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PURITAN MALT

—it's different

The "Controlled-Temperature Process" insures uniformity

Give two housewives the same material and ask them to bake bread.

One will produce a masterpiece—the other a lump of hardtack—out of the same flour.

The difference is in the skill.

Other manufacturers can buy the same barley and hops we use in Puritan.

But—we insure quality manufacture by the "CONTROLLED-TEMPERATURE PROCESS." The heat is watched during the malt making—not "just now and then" but every second—every minute—every hour of the twenty-four.

The uniformity of quality and results is one of Puritan's points of difference.

—Chances are you'll find a tenth more in the Puritan can than you've been getting.

—ask your dealer for Puritan. He has it.

cooked, chopped eggs and 2 four-ounce cans of boneless and skinless sardines broken in rather large pieces.

Heat and serve on thin pieces of toast. If you like, the hard-cooked eggs may be omitted, but they do add a tempting and a colorful touch.

PORK TENDERLOIN WITH SWEET POTATOES—Have the butcher cut 2½ pounds pork tenderloin into small pieces. Wipe and place them in a roaster in a hot oven. When the meat has been browned on both sides, season it with 1½ teaspoons salt and ½ teaspoon pepper. Pare 6 large sweet potatoes and place around the meat. Baste the meat and potatoes every 10 minutes with the drippings and add ¼ cup water for basting, if necessary. Bake about 45 minutes, or until the potatoes are done.

TINY CHEESE ECLAIRS—Bring 1 cup hot water and ½ cup butter to the boiling point. Add ½ cup pastry flour, ½ teaspoon salt and a few grains pepper. Beat until the mixture forms a mass and leaves the sides of the saucepan. Beat in ½ cup grated cheese. When lukewarm add 1 unbeaten egg and beat until smooth. Then add another egg, and again beat until smooth. Drop from the tip of a teaspoon onto an oiled baking sheet and bake about 35 minutes in a moderate oven.

RHUBARB MERINGUE PIE—Line a pan with pastry dough. Cut 6 to 8 stalks rhubarb into short pieces—enough to fill the lined pan. Sprinkle with enough flour to cover the pieces well. Place the rhubarb in the pan and add 1 cup sugar and about ¼ cup water. Bake slowly, and when done, spread with a meringue made of 2 stiffly beaten egg whites and 1 tablespoon sugar. Return to oven to brown the meringue.

* * *

BAKED SHAD ROE WITH TOMATO SAUCE—Cook a shad roe in boiling salted water to cover with ½ teaspoon vinegar for 15 minutes. Drain, then cover with cold water and let stand five minutes. Remove from the cold water and place on a buttered pan. Pour around the roe three-fourths cup of the tomato sauce made as follows: Cook ½ can tomatoes and 1 slice onion together for 15 minutes. Rub through a strainer and add to 3 tablespoons butter and 3 tablespoons flour which have been browned together. Stir until smooth.

Bake the roe and tomato sauce in a hot oven 20 minutes, basting frequently. Remove to a platter and pour around the remaining tomato sauce. Garnish with parsley.

GINGERBREAD SQUARES—Cream ⅓ cup butter with 1 cup sugar, add 1 well beaten egg. Mix and sift together 1⅓ cups of flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, combine the two mixtures and add 1½ cups milk. Beat well and spread very thinly on buttered baking sheet. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon as soon as they brown. Cut in squares before removing from the pan.

PEA ROAST—Drain and force through a puree-strainer enough canned peas to make a cupful; add ¾ cupful of well-dried bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cupful walnut meats, finely chopped; 1 egg, slightly beaten; ¼ cupful melted butter, ¾ cupful milk, ¾ teaspoon salt, and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Turn into a small bread pan lined with parafin paper, let stand for 15 minutes, then cook in a slow oven (350 degrees F.) for 40 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

* * *

PEAS WITH BACON—Cut ¼ pound of bacon into small pieces. Melt 1 heaping teaspoonful of butter in a pan; put in the bacon and 4 small peeled onions and fry for 5 minutes; then add 1 tablespoonful of flour, 1 cupful of stock or water; allow to boil for 8 minutes, then add 1 quart of canned peas. Season with salt, pepper and paprika.

PEA OYSTERS—Press 1 pint of canned peas through a sieve; add 4 tablespoonfuls of milk or soup-stock, a few drops of onion juice, ½ teaspoonful of salt, a few grains of red peper, ⅛ teaspoonful of black pepper, and the whites of 3 eggs, whipped stiff. Drop by tablespoonfuls on a hot greased griddle, cook to a golden brown, then turn and cook the other side. Serve at once with white sauce to which chopped red or green peppers have been added.

FROZEN PLUM CUSTARD—Mix ¼ cup sugar with 1 tablespoon flour well, then add 1 cup milk and cook in the double boiler for 15 minutes, stirring often. Beat 3 egg yolks and add 3 tablespoons of corn syrup. Pour this into first mixture slowly and cook for several minutes. Remove from the fire and cool and strain. Run the plums, drained from the syrup, through a food chopper or puree. Add plum puree to the custard and fold in 1 cup of cream whipped. Pour into the tray in the electrical refrigerator and allow to freeze to a mushy consistency, remove to ice cold bowl and beat with rotary egg beater. Return to the tray and allow to finish freezing.

NEW FIRST SACKER STRENGTHENS BUCS

WHETHER Gus Suhr would be able to fill the vacancy at first base satisfactorily was one of the big questions on which the possibilities of the Pirates in the 1930 pennant race appeared to hinge when the Bucs went into spring training. Happily, there is no longer any real doubt on that score, for after a test of four weeks Suhr stands out as a certain fixture on the team and an acquisition that cannot fail to add a lot of strength. The local club owners paid a huge sum in cold cash for the newcomer, in addition to turning Earl Sheely over to San Francisco, but Gus has shown enough to leave them more than satisfied, and right now his purchase shapes up as one of the best investments the Rover bosses have made in a long time.

Gus Suhr

There never was any doubt about Suhr's batting ability. He is a born hitter, hard to fool, and has tremendous power at the plate. He is likely to give National League pitchers many an unpleasant moment, and it's a pretty safe bet that he will win many more games for Pittsburgh with his buldgeon than Sheely saved last year by his clever fielding.

AND at that Suhr is not going to be a weak sister on the defensive, by any means. That has been the agreeably surprising feature of his work up to date. Reliable word from the front is that he has turned out to be a very acceptable first sacker. He has good hands, and a splendid reach and makes the most of the latter on close plays. He is a tireless worker, fast and quick, has turned in many difficult scoops, and, while not as graceful as Sheely, appears to get everything, which is all that counts in the final reckoning.

In short, Suhr is all that was hoped for, and more, one of the most pleasing surprises of the trip, in fact, and the early assurance that first base will be capably guarded by a man who will also add a terrific punch to the attack makes the Pirate outlook brighter than ever. The Pittsburgh club has been very fortunate with players bought from clubs on the coast or who reside out there, and Suhr seems destined to prove a notable addition to an impressive list that already includes Paul and Lloyd Waner, Remy Kremer, Dick Bartell, Larry French and Stewie Clarke.

THOUGH the condition of Pie Traynor's ailing eye is reported to have taken a turn for the worse, Vice President Sam Dreyfuss says in a letter to Secretary Sam Watters that the management in still hopeful Pie will be back in the lineup before opening day.

Traynor has just disclosed that the optic which has been giving him trouble this spring was injured when he was in his teens. Whether or not it is due to this old infury, however, the ailment is not at all serious or alarming, specialists assure. A complete recovery is just a question of time.

Pie Traynor

ONCE back in the lineup, Traynor may be expected to regain his best playing edge in quick order. Aside from the ailing eye, which a dilated condition causes to appear worse than it really is, Pie is in fine shape, and it won't be long until he is hitting on all cylinders, with another big year in prospect. If the great third sacker is fit and on the job for the pennant start it will mean a heap to the Bucs, as no player in the league is more valuable to his club.

BURLEIGH GRIMES, holdout Pirate pitcher, just returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he put in some independent training licks, stopped in Pittsburgh for a few hours before proceeding to his home in Minerva, O. He did not visit the offices of the Pittsburgh club.

Grimes returned from the Arkansas spa at this time for the purpose of holding a final series of conferences with his attorneys prior to the hearing in his suit for divorce, which is set for next Tuesday in Canton, O. Probably it won't be long afterward uptil Burleigh has another talk with the Buccaneer heads and agrees on contract terms for 1930.

THE Missouri boxing commission has barred George Trafton from the rings of that state indefinitely on the charge that Wednesday night's so-called fight wi h Primo Carnera in Kansas City. Trafton went down twice without being hit, and that the blow which finally "stopped" him after 54 seconds wasn't hard enough to put away a flyweigh .

A lot of protection for the fans that means. It looks like nothing more than an attempt on the part of the commission to square itself after letting Carnera get away with Queensberry murder by sanctioning a match that never should have been permitted. In this, as well as in some of Carnera's other matches, the commission is just as much to blame as the boxer who did the Brodie. It may be expected to continue until the giant is compelled to take on real fighters.

John Dreshar

CARNEGIE TECH may go in for intercollegiate boxing and add that sport to the list of pastimes in which the institution is active. A definite decision probably will be reached today. Noting the success of the glove sport at other big schools where it has been adopted recently, Buddy Overend, graduate manager of athletics at Carnegie, has called a meeting for this afternoon in the Plaid gymnasium, and invited all students interested in the organization of an intercollegiate boxing team to attend. If there is a sufficient response, and the students show that they desire such a team, it is strongly probable that Carnegie will step out into boxing next winter.

THE Schenley Park school is believed to have the material for a boxing team that would be able to give a creditable account of itself, as there are several experienced boxers in the student body who are already prominent in other branches of athletics. Three of these are members of the football team—John Dreshar, captain and guard; Alex Ducanis, center, and John Highberger, tackle. Ducanis in particular is an able mittman.

The University of Pittsburgh also is said to be considering the appointment of a glove coach, and the formation of a team for intercollegiate competition may follow. Boxing is rapidly gaining in favor among the colleges in this part of the country. West Virginia University was the latest to enter the field, presenting its first team this

George Lott Plays Jarvis Adams Today

MIAMI, Fla., March 28.—(AP.)—George Lott, Chicago, advanced to semi-finals of annual South Florida tennis championships yesterday with his 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 victory over Robert McMillan, of Oshkosh, Wis. Lott meets S. Jarvis Adams, Montauk Point, L. I., today. Adams defeated John Nixon, Miami, 6-1, 6-2.

Marcel Rainville, Canadian Davis Cup team player, won his upper bracket match with Harvey Lake, Ocean City, N. J., 6-0, 6-2. Johnny Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., was extended in his match with Carroll Turner, Miami. The Californian won the first set, 6-1. Turner led 1-0 and 2-1 in the second set, but Doeg took a 6-2 set to end the match.

LARKIN KNOCKED OUT

WATERBURY, Conn., March 28.—Al Gainor, 151, New Haven, knocked out Joe Larkin, 152, New York, in the first round of a scheduled 10-round boxing match here last night.

LATER HEARING SLATED BY CORONER

Georgie Tomosky, of Wilmerding, flyweight boxer, was released on his own recognizance until a later hearing following a preliminary hearing today in the office of Coroner W. J. McGregor on the death of Billy Hatch, 22-year-old Negro boxer of the Hill district, after a six-round bout with Tomosky in the Palisades ring, McKeesport, last night.

Tomosky, who was arrested by the McKeesport police last night and released without bond, surrendered himself to county detectives today and went to the coroner's office for the hearing.

In view of the fact that boxing is legalized in the state, and both boxers were duly examined and pronounced fit by the commission physician, Dr. John D. Farkas, before entering the ring last night, it is believed Tomosky will not be held responsible for his opponent's death.

No announcement was made by the State Athletic Commission regarding any steps it might take in the matter.

CEREBRAL HEMORRHAGE

Hatch and Tomosky fought the opening bout on the card and the show was completed before a small crowd. Hatch died at 10:10 p. m. in the McKeesport Hospital, after he had collapsed in his dressing room. Death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage.

It was only the second professional bout of Hatch's career. Two weeks ago, he lost the decision to Jimmy Thomas, another Negro boxer, of the Hill, in a hard-fought six-round bout in the Moose Temple, after having won a Negro tournament at the Boys' Club. He was knocked down four times in last night's bout, but appeared to be in good condition, as he left the ring without assistance.

The young boxer was married

WILSON BOXES SOLOMEN

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

For the second week in succession, middleweights offer the main bout milling in the Moose Temple ring tonight. Last Friday night, Buck McTiernan and Johnny Pial were the headliners there and tonight Mickey Solomen, of New Castle, conqueror of Buck last December, and Jackie Wilson, of the North Side, sensational newcomer from Jersey City, N. J., are in the top spot.

Both Wilson and Solomen are good punchers and a fine biffing bee is anticipated by the fans, judging from the advance sale of pasteboards. Wilson has had four bouts since he came around here a little more than a month ago and has won three of them by the knockout route and scored via a decision over Chuck Zelnack in the other one. All but one of his bouts have been fought in the same ring in which he will perform tonight.

Another favorite with the Moose fans is in the semi-final tonight. He is Billy (Muscle) Scholes, of the North Side, who holds two victories over Peaches Gallagher. He goes against the veteran U. S. Carpentier, of New Kensington. Jack DeNeri, of the North Side, and Johnny Haggerty, of Lawrenceville, box the second bout, and Paul Balint, of the North Side, and Don Frazier, Cuban Negro, formerly of Chicago, are in the opener.

Between Rounds

Joe Sekyra and K. O. Christner, heavyweights, meet in the Armory at Akron, O., next Wednesday night. Patsy Perrone and Harold Scarney box the semi-final.

The Allegheny Mountain Association A. A. U. championship tournament at Motor Square Garden last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings having failed to produce the revenue to pay the expenses of sending Pittsburgh's team to the National senior tournament in Boston next month, a benefit amateur show will be held in Duquesne Garden Friday night of next week to help out. Eight bouts will be carded.

Jimmy McLarnin meets Young Jack Thompson, Negro welterweight of California in the main bout in Madison Square

Boxing Bouts Carded For Tonight

Jackie Wilson vs. Mickey Solomen, 10 rounds, and Billy Scholes vs. U. S. Carpenter, Johnny Haggerty vs. Jack DeNeri and Don Frazier vs. Paul Balint, 8 rounds each, Moose Temple.

Sammy Harris vs. Al Rowe, 10 rounds; Jerry Cuffman vs. Johnny Keats and Johnny Saxon vs. Jackie Schipsark, 8 rounds each, and Frank Johnson vs. Jimmy Dean, 6 rounds, Ritz, Inc.

Al Friedman vs. Joe Monte, 10 rounds, Boston.

Jimmy McLarnin vs. Young Jack Thompson, Harry Ebbetts vs. Allie Hain and Jack McCarthy vs. Joey Harrison, 10 rounds each; Patsy Perrone vs. Jimmy Clearwell, 8 rounds, and Joey Marks vs. Lou Paiton, 4 rounds, Madison Square Garden, New York.

Eddie Roberts vs. Alf Ros, 10 rounds, San Francisco.

Benny Bass vs. Eddie Shea (for junior lightweight title); Davy Abad vs. Marty Platas, Midget Mike Morgan (of Pittsburgh) vs. Fee Wee Reiser and Angelo Pisano vs. Billy Wallace, 10 rounds each, at Laredo, Tex.

Mickey Walker vs. K. O. White (semi-colt), 10 rounds, Davenport, Ia.

Primo Carnera vs. Jack McAuliffe, 10 rounds, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Lew Massey vs. Vic Barrone and Joe Ryder vs. Benny Bass, 10 rounds each, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Gardea, New York, tonight, and appears to have something easy at Thompson has not been at his best for some time. Danny Read defeats his wife, Peggy, in a divorce suit in N. Y. Tommy Loughran is a guest at a party to which Midget Mike Morgan, local bantam, brings Fee Wee Reiser, while Primo Carnera goes against another ground, and lofty opponent in Jack McAuliffe, 11, of Detroit, at Denver.

Johnny Mellody, of Detroit, wields his hard fighting tomorrow at Flynn's gym for his 10-round window battle with Joey Goodman, of Cleveland, whom he meets in Motor Square Garden Monday night.

The card has been completed for Monday night's show in Motor Square Garden with the signing of George Branch, of the North Side, and Johnny Morgan, of Beaver Falls, to box the opening bout. Mickey Duffy and Johnny Buckley are in the semi-final and Young Jim Walcott and Ted Yarosz in the second bout.

RUFFING NAMED FOR OPENER

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 28.—(AP.)—Charley Ruffing, Red Sox hard luck pitcher, probably will hurl the opening game at Washington and attempt to start the season right. Veteran of the mound staff, he is in excellent condition. After dropping his first 12 contests in 1929, he won nine and lost 10 of the others with a last place club.

the odds on Melleray's Belle were 20 to 1 against and 100 to 7 against on Sir Lindsay.

Sandy Hook and Ruddyman, owned by Stephen Sanford and Gordon Selfridge, of the United States, respectively, did not finish the gruelling test over the 30 difficult fences, but Victory Emmanuel's Royal Arch II came in with the tail end of the remaining field.

Glangesia, the Mellon entry, made all the running from Valentine's Brook, Melleray's Belle led until the three leaders reached the last fence. The three took the barrier closely bunched, but Shaun Goilin came up with a long drive to deprive W. Wilson's mare of a victory by a neck. Sir Lindsay remained in the running to the final strides to furnish one of the most thrilling finishes in recent years.

Six of the field of 41 starters completed the course with Royal Arch II last of the group. M. D. Blair's Bally Hanwood was fifth.

GREGALACH FALLS

Gregalach, winner of last year's race, fell at the open beach jump after successfully clearing the hazardous Valentine's Brock on the first lap. He became involved in a tangle with another horse, losing all chance of duplicating his last year's victory for Mrs. M. A. Gemmell.

Sir Lindsay, the best liked of the American entries, put up a game battle under 146 pounds, but finished a length back of the two leaders. Whitney's horse and Melleray's Belle took the last jump together with Shaun Goilin a length behind. The latter, how-

BUCS WALLOP CUBS, 15-10, IN OPENER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—The Pirates and Cubs, a bit tired from their exertions of yesterday, were eager to be at each other again this afternoon, and the populace seemed just as anxious for battle.

The baseball followers of this great center say they want everything in a big league way and they are optimists enough to contend that yesterday's scrap between the Buccos and Bears was a perfect exhibition of major league batting. The only things missing were Babe Ruth and his big bat.

The opening clash of the appealing set brought the Pirates a crashing victory. Base hits of many colors fell in profusions, most of them crashing against the fences of falling outside the park, so furious was the hitting mood of the contesting players. The final score was 15 to 10.

8,000 SEE GAME

Approximately 8,000 fans sat in the perfect weather, the setting being one to be remembered. Wrigley Field here is much nicer than many of the major league layouts and the big stands are in keeping with the playing field. The customers appeared to be almost equally divided in their loyalties.

RAMAGE ELECTED TIN WHISTLES PRESIDENT

F. BRENNAN BOB-O-LINK PROFESSIONAL

By VERN SWARTSFAGER.

Another Western Pennsylvania linksman has been elected to direct the destiny of one of the greatest international golfing societies in the world—the Tin Whistles. S. Y. Ramage, of Oil City, yesterday was elevated to the presidency of that body at its annual meeting in Pinehurst, N. C., marking the twenty-sixth anniversary of the organization. The Tin Whistles include many prominent golfing Pittsburghers, including H. C. Fownes, president of the Oakmont Country Club, who was greatly responsible for its founding. Many of the local women golfers are members of the Silver Foils, another international golfing society second only to the Tin Whistles.

BRENNAN NAMED

Francis Brennan, former professional at the Greensburg Country Club, and at this time selling golf goods at a local sportings goods house, has been signed to act as chief professional supervisor of the Bob-O-Link driving ranges in Aspinwall and the South Hills, according to C. H. McDonald, manager. The driving ranges open Tuesday, and Brennan will be assisted at Aspinwall by the affable Francis McNamara, making his debut as a pro.

Tee to Green

Johnny Farrell, former National open champion, will not compete in the British open championship this year, he says.

And J. Lang Hunt, who does a lot of golfing at the Shannopin Country Club in the summer won the annual March tournament for guests at The Manor in Asheville, N. C.

NO. 6—SWINGING AT THE BALL.

The secret of hitting a ball hard is not half so much in taking a long swing as it is in getting the body and wrists into the swing at the time of impact with the ball. That sounds easy, but it isn't.

In learning to swing, the first thing is to step into the ball. That means shifting the weight as the swing starts so that as the bat goes through the weight gradually is shifted from the right foot (at the start of the swing) to the left foot at the finish of he swing. (Reverse for left-hand hitter.) At the same time, the upper part of the body pivots from the waist to throw the shoulders into the swing with the wrist snap coming last and at the very moment of hitting the ball. If you can do those things you don't have to worry about the ball traveling when you hit it. And you don't have to take a long swing, either.

In the two pictures, I have tried to show Mac two steps in the swing. The first picture shows the swing half completed and when bat should connect with the ball. Here the weight is just being shifted and the shoulders have just started to come around. In the second picture, the swing is complete, showing a complete follow-through as in golf. Notice that Mac's shoulders have come squarely around and the wrists have straightened out. The weight has been shifted, too, but his feet still are firmly in position. Just notice, too, that he hasn't stepped into the bucket. That's because his body pivot was entirely from the waist. If you're inclined to step into the bucket, here's a good exercise:

Take a bat and keep swinging it, imagining all the time that your body is in two separate sections. Don't move your feet at all. Just swing from the waist and shoulders awhile until it comes easy. Once you get that one down then you can try your stride as if you were swinging at an imaginary ball, and you'll be surprised how easy it is.

One more word. There are two kinds of hitters—swing hitters and wait hitters. The swing hitters swing from the heels. The wait hitters choke their bats, shorten their swing and stand flatfooted waiting till the pitch is on them and then poke rather than slash the ball. Personally, I'm a swing hitter, but I think the other type are the most dangerous and the hardest to fool. The average boy will be wise to practice "wait hitting," rather than free swinging.

year, and Harry Stansbury, athletic director, reports that the sport has gone over big.

TO CHANGE the subject from college boxing to college wrestling, five of the 1929 titleholders will begin the defense of their laurels in the national intercollegiate mat tournament, which gets under way at State College today.

Earl McCready

Three of the defenders hail from one school, Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, which annually produces some of the best grapplers in the collegiate ranks.

MORE than 100 wrestlers will take part in this year's meet at Penn State. The defending champions are Joe Sapora, Illinois, 115 pounds; Larry Mantooth, University of Oklahoma, 125 pounds, and Jack Van Bebber, 155 pounds; Conrad Caldwell, 165 pounds, and Earl McCready, heavyweight, all of Oklahoma A. and M.. Van Bebber and Caldwell may move up to the 167-pound and 175-pound divisions, thus defaulting their 1929 titles. The following schools are represented: Brown, Case, Chicago, Cornell College, Franklin and Marshall, Harvard, Illinois, Iowa State, Indiana, Kansas Aggies, University of Kansas, Kent Normal, Lafayette, M. I. T., Michigan State, Michigan, Missouri, Morton Junior College, North Carolina, Northwestern, Oklahoma A. and M., Oklahoma Central Teachers, University of Oklahoma, Penn State, Syracuse, Tufts, V. M. I., V. P. I., West Virginia and Waynesburg.

THE deplorable outcome of one of the preliminary bouts of the boxing show held in McKeesport last night, when Billy Hatch, Pittsburgh Negro flyweight, collapsed after going the six-round limit and died later in the McKeesport Hospital from a cerebral hemorrhage, marks the first time in six years that a fatality has marred fistic competition in this district. While it is to be deeply regretted that there has been even a single instance of the kind, it is one of the possibilities of any vigorous sport in which a participant is subjected to the risk of injury or over-exertion.

The fact that there have been so few such occurrences in this section does not, of course, make last night's happening any the less regrettable, and the entire boxing community will extend its sincere sympathy to the relatives of the dead boxer. But the local record, as compared with that of any other part of the country, shows that fatalities have not been due to any lack of precaution on the part of the commission or the promoters.

THERE is no more careful matchmaker than Jim McGirr, and nothing conducive to the safety of boxers is ever overlooked at his club, yet this is the second time that death has stalked in the Palisades ring. Billy Light, previously of Akron, O., and then making his home in Wilmerding, died following a knockout in a bout with Sammy Ciminelli, of Youngstown, O., at McKeesport about eight years ago, also from a cerebral hemorrhage.

The last death in this district from boxing injuries, prior to that of Hatch, occurred six years ago, when Lyle Mahan, an amateur, died after a contest with Al Iovino at the Westinghouse Club.

PICARD LEADS NORTH-SOUTH OPEN PLAY

PINEHURST, N. C., March 28.—(AP.)—The stubborn, subtle Number Two Pinehurst golf course joined forces with the elements yesterday to hold its par barrier of 71 unbroken through the first two rounds of the Twenty-eighth annual $5,650 North and South open tournament. More than 100 links experts, led by young Henry Picard, of Charleston, S. C., matched prowess with the treacherous layout.

With a cold, driving wind sweeping across the tricky course, the youthful South Carolina pro started out to match perfect figures and clung near standard marks throughout the two rounds to post a 146 for the 36 holes and gain a one-stroke lead over the field.

Horton Smith, defending champion, was thrust far back to the rear, eight strokes behind the leader. The blond shotmaker, who placed second in the La Gorce Open at Miami last week, shot a poor 79 yesterday morning and came back in the second round for a 75.

SCORES SIX BIRDIES

Picard opened his bag of tricks in the afternoon for 72, which included six birdies.

Tied for second place with the tournament half over were Frank Walsh, of Chicago, and the veteran Tommy Armour, of Detroit. They had 147's.

Runyan, whose 72 gave him leadership for the first round, faltered in his afternoon play and reached the turn tied with Whiffy Cox, of Brooklyn, with 149 strokes.

Bracketed at 150 were Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del., Herman Barron, Port Chester, N. Y., and Mike Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., while another quartet recorded 151's. This company included Joe Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., George Martin and Tony Manero, both unattached, and the canny Scotch moneymaker, Bobby Cruickshank, of Purchase, N. Y.

FARRELL SHOOTS 153

The former open champion, debonair Johnny Farrell, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Dugan Aycock, Charlotte, N. C., held close to the front with 153's while Horton Smith, Cyril Walker of Paramus, N. J., and Fairley Clark of Savannah, Ga., had 154's.

No qualifying score is necessary in the tournament and all players who turned in scores are eligible to compete today for the victor's $1,500 share of the plunder.

Checker Ace to Play At Central Y.M.C.A.

Newell Banks, world champion checker player, is to appear at the Central Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. He is to oppose 30 or more Central Y checker enthusiasts simultaneously, and among his opponents will be L. Freeman, M. Eppstein, T. Vaughan, R. Deary and R. C. Culhane.

A demonstration of how to play checkers while blindfolded is a feature of Banks' program.

BILL AMOS SPEAKS

WAYNESBURG, Pa., March 28.—Members of the Waynesburg High School basketball team, winners in Section XV of the W. P. I. A. L., were honored at a banquet here last night given by the Waynesburg Kiwanis Club. Bill Amos, director of athletics at Washington and Jefferson College, addressed the gathering, which was largely attended.

NO CHANGES IN A. B. C. LEADERS

CLEVELAND, March 28.—No leaders in the doubles and singles of the American Bowling Congress tournament, now in progress here, had any cause to tremble on account of the efforts of aspirants for their positions yesterday.

The best that could be produced in the two-man event was a 1211 by Sim Pixley and Henry Pulschari, of Port Clinton, O. P. Jeffries and R. Dunbar, of Pittsburg, Kan., hit 1207. A 1201 was knocked off by the Aston brothers, of Lynhurst, O., who concluded the big league performances of the day.

As far as the singles were concerned, there was only one real figure, this being a 653 series hit by Marty Storm, of Dunkirk, N. Y. Charley Reuter, of Schenectady, and a fellow townsman, N. Bloodgood, knocked off a series of 647 and 634 for the best prize figures of the day.

Locals to Play At East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 28.—Fifty-one Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia independent teams awaited the opening of the fifth annual tri-state basketball tournament tonight.

Probably a dozen colleges and universities, including Carnegie Tech and Pitt, of Pittsburgh; Ohio Wesleyan, Cincinnati; Wooster, Mt. Union and others, will be represented among the cagers who will seek the title won last year by an Oxford, O., quint, composed mainly of Miami University players.

Play will continue with the semi-finals and finals scheduled for tomorrow night.

COAST HEAVY BANNED

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(INS.)—Because he failed to put in an appearance for his fight with Ray Spiker last Tuesday, Frankie Campbell, San Francisco heavyweight, today was under suspension. Campbell claims injuries prevented him from going through with the bout.

By KNUTE ROCKNE

Member All-America Board of Football.

NEW RESTRICTIONS

The football rules committee at its recent meeting has made a new ruling restricting the shift.

Knute Rockne

The old ruling read that a shifting team must pause for "approximately" one second. The new ruling states that the pause must be for "at least" one second. The new ruling also gives the referee the suggestion of counting six instead of four to denote a second.

I want to go on record as being heartily in favor of this new change. This new ruling should not only eliminate momentum from the shift but also should eliminate the shift from any further "momentous" discussions.

No member of the rules committee, at the two previous meetings which I attended, brought up the subject of the shift in any way. I presume that we are indebted to the three new coaches on the advisory committee for this most constructive measure. I believe that in football a coach is entitled to his likes and dislikes.

Jock Sutherland, of Pittsburgh, being a Warner product never has liked the shift and there is no reason to think that he has felt any differently since he took his team out to Los Angeles last New Year's Day and saw them run over in the traffic.

While Bob Zuppke, the second member, always has spoken very highly of Notre Dame and myself, yet he does not like the shift. In fact, the reason why he never has played Phelan, Spears or Rockne teams is because of his aversion to the shifting type of attack. We all have varying likes and dislikes and "Zupp" certainly is entitled to his. Pop Warner, of Stanford, was against the shift even before he began losing games to Notre Dame, Santa Clara, St. Mary's and other shifting teams, so his objection to the shift cannot be said to be due to his lack of success in meeting it. The coaches who use the shift owe these three coaches a debt of gratitude for clearing up once and for all this vexing shift question.

MISS ORCUTT MID-SOUTH VICTOR

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C., March 28.—(AP.)—Maureen Orcutt, Jr., Haworth, N. J., Metropolitan champion, won the second annual Mid-South golf championship for women here yesterday over a field of golfers which included the National champion, Glenna Collett, and several members of the American team which will sail for Europe soon.

Miss Orcutt made the title safe by her sterling play on the first two rounds of the 54-hole tourney when she scored a 78 the first day and a brilliant 76 the second day. She had an 87 yesterday.

MRS. HILL THIRD

The Metropolitan champion's total of 241 led Miss Collett, by three strokes after the National champion turned the course in her final round in 80 strokes to close the gap of 10 which separated her and the leader. Miss Collett showed a total of 244 for the 54 holes.

Mrs. O. S. Hill, veteran Kansas City golfer, who was runner-up to Miss Orcutt at the end of 54 holes, made a game struggle to head the Metropolitan champion, but two disastrous holes put her out of the running. She turned in a 85 for a total of 245 and third place.

In fourth place came Louise Fordyce, of Youngstown, many times champion of her home state with an aggregate of 248, made possible by a final round of 82.

EDITH QUIER IN TIE

Next came Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa., a member of the all-America team, and Helen Hicks Hewlett, L. I., each bracketed at 251. Miss Quier turned in an 82 and Miss Hicks finished with a brilliant 81.

Handball Final Carded Tomorrow

Frank Smith and Theos E. Manos, K. A. C. team, defending champions, will play Nat Winkelman and Sam Goldsteid, Y. M. H. A., in the championship match for the A. M. A. A. A. U. doubles handball title at the Keystone A. C. tomorrow.

DUKES' LEADER UNNAMED

VOTE FOR CAGE CAPTAIN ENDS IN 3-3 TIE

By JESS CARVER.

Believe it or not, the Dukes did NOT elect a captain for 1930-31 at the annual basketball dinner at the Keystone Athletic Club last night. No sir, not a bit of it. The vote resulted in a 3-3 tie, with one letterman missing from the gathering around the festive board, and it is now up to Chick Davies to get the squad together again and take another ballot. But no more meals.

Ganzy Benedict and Brud Stephens, both seniors and the former captain during the past season, were the only candidates for the post. Those lettermen present at the dinner were Abele, Benedict, Parry and McGeever. There were proxies on hand from Ben Luhic and Stephens, Joe Vernon wasn't there and sent no proxy, so it looks like Joe's missing vote put the deadlock fix "on."

HOLOHAN PRESIDES

John Holohan, graduate manager of athletics, presided. He called upon Father Dodwell, chairman of the athletic council; Chick Davies, head coach, and Captain Benedict for talks. He also gave the boys a break by getting off a few choice remarks himself. That is always a break—one way or t'other.

Graduate Manager Holohan announced that the Dukes are to play 20 college games next season, meeting among others Villa Nova, Georgetown, American University, Catholic U., Navy, Drake, C. C. of N. Y., and West Virginia. Geneva, Westminster, Waynesburg and Thiel will be the tri-state district teams on the card.

AND NOW ANOTHER!

Now having come safely through the rigors of one banquet, this palate will rest up today in preparation for another booked for this evening. Tonight, in the William Penn Hotel, the Five Famous Miller Brothers (Jiller & Co.) will be the yeast in the brew at the annual banquet of the Western Pennsylvania Alumni Association of Wash-Jeff.

W. & J. luminaries of as far back at '92 will be in attendance at tonight's affair. The varsity and freshman gridiron squads will be guests of honor. Hon. W. H. S. Thomson, former Federal judge, will deliver the principal address. H. Heber Dithrich, solicitor of Allegheny County, is to be toastmaster.

WORTH READING

Basketball coaches who wish to attend the meeting of the national cage coaches' association in Chicago next week are hereby informed that if they attend the national scholastic cage tournament at the University of Chicago while at the convention, they can get a half-fare rate over any of the various railroads running into Chi.

For further particulars, give Dr. H. C. Carlson, Pitt's varsity coach, a call.

LAWTHER RESIGNS

John Lawther, head basketball coach at Westminster College, yesterday tendered his resignation to the school's athletic board. It is said Lawther may go to Brown. Glenn (Babe) O'Donovan has been mentioned as a possible successor.

TOMOSKY HELD BY CORONER

four months ago and made his home at 2313 Gazzam street. He formerly attended Ralston Industrial School, where he starred as a high jumper and sprinter while studying the printing trade. Recently he has been employed as a porter in the Magee Hospital.

THIRD DISTRICT FATALITY

Dr. Rankin, of the McKeesport Hospital, performed an autopsy on the ill-fated youth shortly after his death, and the body then was sent to the county morgue, where it was held for disposition by Coroner McGregor.

Hatch weighed 114¾ pounds and his opponent 114½ for their bout last night.

Hatch is the third boxer to die as a result of ring injuries in Western Pennsylvania in the last eight years. Billy Light, of Wilmerding, died following a knockout by Sammy Ciminelli, of Youngstown, in the same ring at McKeesport eight years ago. He did not recover consciousness, being carried from the ring. A few years later, Lyle Mahan, of Ambridge, an amateur, died following a knockout at the fists of Al Iovino, a southpaw, of Swissvale, in the Westinghouse cafeteria in East Pittsburgh. Iovino now is boxing as a professional.

Hatch was managed by Bill Heckman, veteran pilot of boxers, who seconded him in last night's fatal bout.

Al Grayber, referee of the bout, said that at no time did Hatch show any signs of distress and at the finish he put his arms about his opponent and complimented him on putting up a good fight.

"Hatch won the fifth round," Grayber said, "and at the end of the final round appeared to be in much better condition than Tomosky. I was surprised when I learned later that it had been necessary to send Hatch to the hospital."

RUDY, TAGGERT WIN

In the feature half of the double windup last night, Young Rudy, of Charlerol, knocked out Johnny Demko, of Weirton, W. Va., in the first round of a scheduled 10-round contest. Demko was subbing for Jimmy Herman, of Detroit. In the other half, Chuck Taggert, Butler heavyweight, easily outpointed Ray Fay, of Charlerol, in 10 rounds.

After one minute and five seconds of fighting in the first round, Rudy landed a right to the body and followed it up with a left to the jaw that sent Demko to the canvas for the count. Rudy tipped the scales at 145 pounds and Demko at 152.

In the second preliminary bout, Frank Novak, North Side heavyweight, after being floored in the first round for a count of nine by Albert Bey, came back and stopped his Negro foe after two minutes and five seconds of the second round had elapsed. Bey was subbing for Harry Whitfield, of Butler. Novak scaled 193½, Bey 182.

SOMEWHERE IN AN UPPER BERTH, March 28.—Say it looks like we will have to cancel our Memorial Day game with the White Sox on account of snow if that Chicago blizzard doesn't start melting right away. I'm surprised a snowstorm could make such headway in Chi with Art Shires there to blow it back into the Northwest. The Great One must be wearing a gag.

PENN FIVE OUT TO END WEST PENN SERIES

By JULIUS LEVIN

The Penn five, of Sharpsburg, will be out to clinch the championship of the West Penn League tonight when it meets the Ray E. Schneiders in the second battle of the West Penn playoffs series in the Sharpsburg High School gymnasium. The Penn five, winner of the second half championship of the league, captured the decision in the first battle, played last Tuesday in Forresters Hall, Lawrenceville, and another victory tonight will end the classic.

The Ray E. Schneiders, however, feel certain they will even the series' count tonight. The Schneiders feel they did not show their real form in last Tuesday's contest and will be out tonight to show their followers they are capable of stopping the Sharpsburgers.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

Interest in the game is high throughout Pittsburgh amateur circles and a capacity crowd is expected by the Sharpsburg management. A packed house witnessed the first struggle, which was a fight from the start to finish.

Art Scher, director of athletics at the Young Men's Hebrew Association, entrained with his team for Newark, N. J., this morning, where the locals will compete in the National Y. M. H. A. tournament slated to start tomorrow. The tournament, which winds up Sunday, includes teams from Philadelphia, Louisville, Paterson, Syracuse, Washington, Borough Park, N. Y., Boston and Pittsburgh. Louisville and Philadelphia, the latter the defending champion, are regarded as favorites.

The Hill Top Y. M. C. A. will stage one of its biggest attractions of the season tonight when it clashes with the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. quintet on the Hill Top floor. L. C. Teineman, former secretary of the Hill Top branch, will accompany the Bellefonte team here. He is serving the Center County institution in a similar capacity.

ANOTHER FOR HYATTS

Another attractive game has been added to the schedule of Charley Hyatt's Collegians, the Pitt star having agreed to take his team to Johnstown, Tuesday, April 8, for a benefit game with an all-star club. The proceeds will be given to the Johnstown Boosters' Association, which is supporting the Johnstown Middle Atlantic League baseball club. Dr. Charles Colbert, coach at Pitt Junior College at Johnstown, is assembling the all-stars.

Hyatt and his stars play in Scottdale tonight. Tomorrow finds them in Connellsville, while a game with Cumberland is pending Sunday. Monday the all-stars play in Beaver Falls. John J. Freund, Jr., Lafayette 4297, is handling the booking arrangements for Hyatt's team.

NORTH SIDERS WIN

The North Side Buicks bumped the Sharpsburg Y, 52 to 34, in the Greater Pittsburgh League playoff series, while I. K. S. tripped St. Paul's, 39 to 22, in the Metropolitan, last night.

Philadelphia Company won from Byllesby, 32 to 22, in the Philadelphia Company League.

Robins May Sign Babe Herman Today

WINTERHAVEN, Fla., March 28.—(AP.)—Babe Herman, Brooklyn rightfielder, who has been a persistent holdout, has sent word from New Orleans that he expected to report to Manager Wilbert Robinson, at the training camp in Clearwater today. Herman has not yet settled his contract dispute, but it is believed he will accept the club's terms.

BRUINS BEAT MAROONS IN ICE SERIES

BOSTON, March 28.—(AP.)—The Boston Bruins won the National Hockey League championship playoff series here last night by overwhelming the Montreal Maroons, 5 to 1. It was the Bruins' third victory in four starts and entitled them to enter the challenge round of the Stanley cup, against either Les Canadiens or New York Rangers, for the second consecutive time.

The Boston team, though minus the services of (Dutch) Gainor played a much better brand of hockey than on Tuesday night when the Maroons shut them out by a 1-to-0 score in sudden death game that went 27 minutes overtime. Gainor was removed to a hospital last night suffering from an injury received when he collided with George Boucher, a few minutes before the latter's leg was fractured. The lineup:

"YOU KNOW ME, PAL!"

Art (the Great) Bowers Becomes a Hero!

"Pal Jack:

"Well, I certanly am clicking out hear on the coast! Just the other day, wen Petty blue up in the sixth, Ens gave me the high sign to reskue the game. The bases was as full as a sailor on leave, nobody gone, and the bad part of the batting order coming up. But am I fazed? You should think so! I made the next fellow hit a liner over second right into Bartell's mitt. Dick said he was going over to ask Grantham for a chew, but I saw wear he was playing from the corner of my eye . . . and pitched so the batter would sock it there. It was an easy double play . . . and I fanned the next bird. The next two innings I had them eating out of my hands, they only scoared 4 runs and we came back with 6 in the ninth to win. Now what do you think these Coast league fans hollers when one of our pitchers blows up? 'Put Art Bowers in!!!' And it sounds as good to me as when that Annex salesman says, 'only 21.50, sir, for this suit!'

"I'll make Pgh. fans forget Yellow Horse, you bet!

PIE TRAYNOR'S EYE TROUBLE WORSE

Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—The Pie Traynor situation today took a turn for the worse. The latest information concerning Pie's eye trouble indicates that the captain of the club will be missing when his team takes the field in championship competition two weeks from Tuesday.

Traynor's ailing optic was in bad shape when he reached Los Angeles. Acting under orders from the Oakland specialist, Pie consulted with a local doctor, whose report was more too favorable. The specialist did not sound any alarm, but he did elaborate on the quality of iritis, which is the name of Pie's ailment.

The medical man says that Traynor's trouble has reached a point close to that which will permit of a definite analysis, but he disclosed that the duration of iritis is variable. In other words, it might clear up entirely in another week or it might go along in an annoying manner for months.

L. WANER UNIMPROVED

Traynor was ordered to stay away from the ball orchard yesterday after he had taken treatment. In Oakland he took treatments in the morning and was allowed to sit in the stands at the park during the afternoon contests. But he was among the missing entirely yesterday.

The loss of Traynor on opening day would be a severe blow to Manager Ens. And that is not the only bridge which looms ahead of the skipper. Lloyd Waner spent another day in civilian clothes and the sick ball hawk now talks of going home for a short rest.

Lloyd said today that in the event of his condition being unchanged by the time the club reaches Dallas, he will ask permission to go to his father's home in Oklahoma. Thus it will be seen that Ens' worries are piling up as the club nears the barrier.

Chillysauce

The first game of the interesting series was given a dash of real spice in the third when Umpire John (Beanie) Reardon called a balk on Heine Meine, the decision being reversed a moment later by Umpire Ted McGrew.

Wilson was on first with Cuyler up when Heine made a peculiar move. The strange motion, however, came after the pitcher had stepped back from the rubber. Reardon called the move a balk, but the Pirates staged such a stormy protest that Beanie asked for McGrew's opinion of it. Ted promptly reversed the plate official.

A certain young athlete once traversed S. Uniform Klein one for afternoon at Forbes Field. When the lad reached his dressing room after the game, he is said to have received a lecture, the like of which he never experienced in his classroom outside of the school of hard knocks. In yesterday's case, Reardon asked his assistant to make the ruling and McGrew, who was in a better position, gave the decision aright.

Visit all the training camps of baseball and you will not find a happier boy than Leo Charles Hartnett, the Cub's brilliant catcher, who once again has found the power of his great arm.

BUCS HIT HEAVILY

Leo was out all of last season after a foul bat strange affliction had seized his arm. There is good news also on Glenn Wright who, with Hartnett, possessed one of the best arms in the game.

Hartnett had an unusual experience with his tonsils. Early last year he thought he had them taken out, at least he was under the ether for this stated purpose, but he underwent a total abstinence for the removal of what was left on the trouble-makers. This year he is able to throw again, but he is much more careful of the gift of which he so often had on display.

In the first big scramble with the Bears, the Pirates injected eight doubles, four of which fell in the noisy fourth inning.

Bartell had a field day at bat and on defense. Several of his shots came after he had spotted McCarthy's sluggers at bits. Daredevil Dick might have been injured on any of those scorching drives.

FRENCH SET FOR BRUINS

something of a startling nature, one could easily believe he was in Forbes Field, while the Chicago players had a somewhat similar feeling after their backers had cheered a Cub feature. All in all, a good time was on tap for everybody, although Marse Joe and his athletes did not relish the trimming they received.

Two years ago, in a like series, the Pirates were walloped four contests in a row, so that there was much satisfaction for the Buccos in their springtime achievement.

Larry French and Swede Carlson will fight it out this afternoon in the second clash. Both managers, however, will have a flock of sharpshooters ready as the present run of games looms up like an overpowering match.

MANY HOMERS

Heine Meine and Jess Petty were the Pittsburgh pitchers called upon to face the smashing Bruins in the first game. Boss McCarthy started with Sheriff Fred Blake, but the West Virginia boy found the athletes from his home district in a magnificent batting mood and thus was forced to retire. Blake, nevertheless, had all kinds of stuff, but our boys would have plastered anybody, including Ol' Dazmarine on this particular occasion. Al Shealy and Mal Moss were on the mound after the Sheriff departed.

Dick Bartell, Fred Brickell and Hack Wilson were the four-hit boys of the inaugural. Bartell connected for a homer with three on the sacks. Others making four-baggers during the afternoon were Taylor, Grimm and Stephenson.

LEHIGH ADDS GOLF

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 28.—(AP.)—Golf was added yesterday to the sports program of Lehigh University. The board of control gave permission to a group of students to organize a golf team in the name of the school. The board also gave its sanction to five members of the wrestling squad to enter the National A. A. U. championships in New York, April 5.

it's Yours in Fintex Clothes for 1930

Admit it or not, we all are a bit "touchy" on the subject of appearance. And we're all a bit susceptible to admiring glances and assuring nods— ¶ Which thought was deep in our minds when we created Fintex Clothes for spring.

¶ It made us "hard-to-please" about woolens, it made us fussy about each detail, it made us demand a lot more than might have been reasonable from designers and tailors. But it helped us build beautiful clothes.

¶ Frankly, these Fintex Clothes for spring are the most brilliant success of our career— ¶ They have manner, nicety, taste! ¶ They tell you that no matter where you go or how smart the place, your appearance will win the admiration of those around you. ¶ Fintex Clothes are "Made to Be Smart".

WHAT is on your mind, sir?

You seem restless! You're tired of the commonplace and the ordinary? Then let us show you the new FINTEX CLOTHES for spring. Let us take you on a trip to where you will see nothing but the smart and new! There are SUITS—TOPCOATS—TUXEDOS—they were "Made to be Smart" and they are! Please don't let our low price confuse you as to Fintex quality.

A great institution that has made a great product possible at $23.50 by the power of its mighty organization, its own great factory, its many stores selling Fintex Clothes direct to you!

NEW LEADERS IN PENN-OHIO PIN PLAY

YOUNGSTOWN, March 28.—Leaders in every division except the all events were toppled from their thrones in the third night's rolling in the Penn-Ohio duckpin tournament at the Grand Alleys last night. The only leader to hold his place was Richards, whose all-events total of 1657 was threatened, but remained intact.

Seven new faces made the first 10 in the team event, eight new pairs advanced to the select class in the doubles, while six new ones among the 10 leaders gained distinction in the singles. Last year's doubles record was broken twice and tied once last night, but the other division records were not molested.

A further overthrowing of leaders is expected tonight and the closing schedule tomorrow when duck stars from the Pittsburgh district take the alleys. The 10 leaders in each event are:

Five-men event—Murray Glenn, Donora, 2536; Capital Alleys, McKeesport, 2412; Ritz Alleys, Butler, 2385; Donora, 2361; Recreation Alleys, Butler, 2359; Arcade Alleys, Pittsburgh, 2329; Arlington No. 1, Pittsburgh, 2320; Arcade Alleys, McKeesport, 2292; Liberty Nationals, Pittsburgh, 2270; Moran's Colts, Pittsburgh, 2245.

Doubles—Vierheller and C. Moran, Pittsburgh, 1129; Culler and Fowler, Donora, 1127; Burns and Rogers, Pittsburgh, 1113; Tobolski and Rutts, Pittsburgh, 1097; Grantz and Bartlett, McKeesport, 1038; Mier and Riley, Donora, 1014; Farkas and Lang, Pittsburgh, 1014; Furman and Byers, Pittsburgh, 1003; Eberthner and Hinch, Pittsburgh, 988; Rands and Stout, McKeesport, 983.

Singles—Comer, Donora, 612; Burns, Pittsburgh, 608; C. Novak, Pittsburgh, 603; Fabio, Pittsburgh, 570; Berthold, Butler, 562; Richards, Pittsburgh, 560; McKain, Butler, 546; A. Moran, Pittsburgh, 545; Juliano, McKeesport, 522; Marsh, West Newton, 520.

Sport Vignettes

The sales cry of the peanut vendor at the Duquesne Garden boxing bouts is refreshing, to say the least. . . . "Don't bite your lips—buy peanuts!" is his chant. . . . Ever hear the one about the referee who gave a knocked-out fighter a count of 11 and had the victorious fighter remonstrate with him over the extra second? . . . "That eleventh count was for the Elks," was his explanation. . . . 'Tis said that Coach A. A. Stagg, of Chicago, rated Wally Steffen, the Carnegie Tech coach, a better quarterback than Walter Eckersall, who died a few days ago. . . . The followers of the sport as a whole always have leaned the other way, although conceding the ability of Steffen, who carried on in all-America fashion after Eckie was through. . . . Eckersall was fast, a tricky runner, a good defensive man and a fine kicker. . . . Steffen also was a fine, elusive runner and defensive star, but didn't gain fame as a kicker. . . . He may have been a better field general than Eckersall, but that's shooting high. . . . Johnny Dunn's manager, Jimmy Conrad, yesterday turned down a "proposition" from Motor Square Garden whereby he could get a fight for Dunn with Jackie Rodgers for April 28. . . . The plan was to virtually have Conrad underwrite the affair for the Garden by accepting a percentage of the receipts, out of which he was to guarantee Rodgers $2,000 for his end, more money than Rodgers ever received for any half-dozen fights, . . . Just another indication that Rodgers, having twice lost to Dunn, doesn't want any part of him now. . . . Rodgers, by the way, is suspended indefinitely for having run out of a match with Heine Hart at Motor Square Garden last Monday night, after having previously chased Archie Bell out of a battle on the same date by juggling the weight. . . . The Garden is going ahead with its plans to use him against Bell one week from next Monday, but hardly will be able to go through with this match in view of the fact that the old stall about having a suspension held in abeyance until after a certain match is out of the way is out of order. . . . Jackie ran out on Hart, the "crime" for which he was set down, before the new match with Bell was made, and the suspension therefore should be in effect now, if ever. . . . Georgie Trafton, who was "knocked out" by Primo Carnera in the first round in Kansas City the other night in such effective fashion that he since has been suspended for not trying, learned the art of going down on the football field, which probably explains his finesse. . . . Primo, who now is working on his second million as a curiosity in this country, used to work as a carpenter in Italy for about 60 cents a day, and, considering his size, probably was worth it.—HARRY KECK.

Truck Hits Woman, Driver Arrested

Mrs. Millie Karaeick, 42, of Harwick, suffered body bruises today when struck by a truck at Grant street and Seventh avenue. Sylvia Gigliotti, 28, of 3 Covington street, was arrested and charged with reckless driving. The woman was moved to the Mercy Hospital.

BECKMAN CLUB LEAGUE TITLE CONTENDER

By TOM BIRKS.

Another real contender for the Pittsburgh Central League, the Roosevelt club, representing the South Hills section in the loop, will be known as the Beckman Motors this season, Charley Beckman, popular South Hills sportsman, will back the club in the diamond, and Howard Lutton, who again will pilot the club, expects to have one of the finest of aggregations playing from either Warrington or Arlington Parks.

The Beckman club will be built around last season's team, and being a serious contender to W. O. W. last season. Lutton feels that under the coaching of Sam Ward, his club will cop the Central title.

Of last season's team, Joe Kapfer and Eddie Balsarit are retained; three new twirlers have been obtained, Andy Schuur, formerly of the W. L. Reineckers; Boots Stewart, who was with the McKinley club, and Abbey Hetzline, who did his stuff for City View.

This five should carry the pitching burden for Lutton in his league battles for the South Hills, man also intends booking a large independent schedule.

Johnny Smith and Dave Smith will bear the brunt of the catching duties, while Tom McCoy, will be on hand to go behind the bat if he is needed. McCoy, who is a heavy hitter will play the outfield regularly.

Bumper Thomas, Les Yeager, Emmett Neiderberger, Chuch Kehrens and Eli Seddon will fight it out for the infield positions, while the outfield will be patrolled by Ham Nilles, Leo Schaffer and Lou Hetzline.

The club shapes as a formidable contender for the Central title.

Presidents' Track Captain, Resigns

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 28.—Washington and Jefferson College student ranks were not overly surprised yesterday when it became officially known that Jimmy Walker had resigned as captain of the 1930 Wash-Jeff field and track team. For the past year Walker has been in active charge of the "Wash-Jeff Nine," popular campus dance orchestra, using the music as a means of paying many of his college expenses. Jimmy is hugely popular on the campus and has become so tied up with his musical obligation that he has found it necessary to give up his track aspirations.

Trinity Choir Boys Carded at Playoffs

Trinity Cathedral's midget choir teams, which made such a big hit at the recent Cleveland Rosenblum-Paterson Crescent American League game here, will play main preliminary games to the Commercial and Industrial League playoffs in the South Side Market House Tuesday and Thursday nights. Their coaches, Mel Scherr of the Trimmers, and Lee Eisles, of the Tritans, are working up new plays for the games, according to Vern Swartsfager, who will present the exhibition.

Big Ed Walsh Fights for Life After Operation

MERIDAN, Conn., March 28.—(AP.)—Big Ed Walsh, Chicago White Sox pitching star of more than two decades ago, was fighting for his life in a hospital today after an operation yesterday for appendicitis and peritonitis. He spent a fairly comfortable night.

His physician, Dr. I. S. Otis, said that Walsh was a "very sick man," but he held out strong hopes for his recovery. It will be several days, he said, before a crisis is reached.

Walsh, now a scout for the White Sox, whom he served so brilliantly on the mound in the past, was stricken Tuesday while returning from the South, where he had been visiting major league training camps. He arrived home Wednesday afternoon and yesterday morning Dr. John E. Stoddard, his physican, advised an immediate operation.

Next to War, What Is Man's Worst Waste?

Commercial Litigation, Says Commerce Department; Here Is Way Out

By B. C. FORBES

NEXT to war, what is "the largest single item of preventable waste in civilization?"

You probably wouldn't guess even if given a hundred chances. The right answer, according to the Department of Commerce, is "commercial litigation."

Is anything being done to fight this scourge, this crushing toll imposed on business and, therefore, upon all of us? Yes.

SUCH important trade organizations as the National Retail Dry Goods Association, the National Association of Purchasing Agents, the Steel Founders' Society of America, the Wool Institute, the American Fur Merchants' Association, the Actors' Equity Association, the New York Building Congress, the Photo-Engravers Board of Trade of New York, the American Zing Institute and many others have adopted a plan to avoid the terrific cost of litigation.

They have either established arbitration facilities within their own body or have recommended their members to use the clauses and facilities of the American Arbitration Association.

Recently the Retail Research Association, comprising 18 leading department stores of the country, indorsed arbitration and recommended the adoption of arbitration clauses in all the purchasing and order forms of its members, thus protecting from litigation $400,000,000 annual business.

ATTRACTED by what was recently said in this column, Judge Moses H. Grossman, pioneer and ceaseless promulgator of this sensible, money-saving, temper-saving, time-saving and trouble-saving movement, sends these encouraging observations:

"In this age of specialization in business, there is one subject upon which all business is uniting—the arbitration of commercial disputes.

"We know this, because the accountant is recommending it to his clients, when he checks over their statements and tries to eliminate waste; the lawyer, who does not want to waste the time of his client in running to court for three or four years, takes the client to the arbitration court; the banker sends out warnings to his customers, telling them they will save money if they have valid clauses; the credit man enters upon his report blanks arbitration as a credit asset where the firm in question uses a clause; the professional man, with his distaste for publicity, finds this friendly, private method admirably adapted to his needs; the merchant is using an arbitration clause in his purchase and order forms, protecting a tremendous volume of business from the waste and losses of litigation; and hundreds of important trade associations have adopted arbitration clauses which they recommend for insertion in the contracts of their members.

"AN ARBITRATION clause in a contract is a business man's safeguard against expensive and involved litigation but, to be fully effective, such clause must be so phrased as to meet all legal requirements. In order to meet this condition, the American Arbitration Association has prepared standard arbitration clauses, one for domestic contracts and one for foreign trade, which are legally correct.

"WHEN a business man includes in his contracts an arbitration clause, he is not only assured that any future controversies arising out of his contracts will be settled by arbitration, but at the same time there becomes available to him a system of arbitration that is nation-wide in its scope. During the past two years the American Arbitration Association has been quietly but steadily building up this system.

"Today a business man in any part of the country can dispose of his business disputes by arbitration instead of by litigation.

"Part of this system of arbitration is a national panel of arbitrators, containing the names of approximately 7,000 of the leading business men in more than 1,700 commercial centers. These men serve because of their interest and belief in commercial arbitration, and receive no remuneration for their services."

HERE is one means of avoiding further congestion of our already lamentably congested courts. Court cases nearly always breed bitterness. Arbitration doesn't.

Now that the great majority of business men and concerns mean to do the right thing, friendly arbitration surely is more appropriate and desirable than long drawn-out, costly legal battles.

National Steel to Finish Plant Soon

John C. Williams, president of Weirton Steel Company, and C. A. Collins, president of Hanna Furnace Company, have been added to the executive committee of National Steel Corporation.

Earnings of National Steel are reliably reported as being as good as they were in 1929. It was also declared that progress in erection of the Great Lakes steel plant at Detroit has been so rapid that steel may be produced in July.

Outlines Part Played By Science

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

WHAT is behind the rise or fall of a stock? Quite often it's a chemist. Dr. Edward R. Weidlein, director of the Mellon Institute and one of the men who has done much to change the trends of industrial development, yesterday told the bond club of the part being played by research engineers in business and finance.

Dr. Weidlein stated that there are 1,000 fully equipped research laboratories in the country at present and that last year about $240,000,000 was spent on research to answer the questions, "why" and "how."

He told of factories which were rendered obsolete almost over night by new discoveries and of other organizations which had made full use of science to aid their growth or to retain their hold in the business world by developing new products and new methods.

Revived by Research

IN SHOWING the bearing that science has on the every day work of the investment banker, Dr. Weidlein mentioned several of the leading corporations which were able to make outstanding use of the engineer and the chemist.

Atwater Kent, now known as one of the leaders in the radio industry, was an organization which replaced other markets by expanding in new fields of endeavor.

A. O. Smith Corporation, which has revolutionized the production of certain types of pipe, is another organization which has applied research to all of its problems. It is said of this company that it has 700 engineers and seven salesmen.

Building With Sugar

DR. WEIDLEIN stated that years ago Mark Twain, in piloting on the Mississippi, was amazed at the enormous waste of materials by the makers of sugar. After grinding, so much of the cane was left that it was difficult even to find a place to burn it.

Now this residue is used to make a building material—Celotex. So great has been the expansion of this industry that sugar has become the by-product and it has become necessary to institute research to find new ways of using the enormous amount of sugar made in meeting the demand for the building material.

New Refrigeration

WITHIN a short time the perfection of a new material for domestic refrigeration will be announced, Dr. Weidlein predicted that a far reaching change in this industry will take place. The new substance has none of the harmful qualities of other materials used in domestic refrigeration plants and it will not corrode metals to as great an extent.

Cellulose is another substance which has been used to work modern miracles. New products of this material range from textiles to artificial casings for hot dogs. All of these products have been created in spite of the fact that the exact chemical structure of cellulose is still unknown.

Dr. Weidlein made the charge that the two great backward industries of the present time, textiles and coal, are suffering from their own lack of foresight.

LOANS DECLINE $21,000,000

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Loans on stocks and bonds to brokers and dealers by reporting Federal Reserve member banks in New York City decreased $21,000,000 during the week ended March 26 to $3,820,000,000. This compares with $3,841,000,000 in the preceding week and with the high record of $6,804,000,000 established October 2, 1929.

The decrease was quite surprising to the financial district. Forecasts for a large increase were made in many quarters.

A letter from Mr. William Randolph Hearst, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Illinois Publishing and Printing Company is summarized as follows:

Company: The Illinois Publishing and Printing Company is the owner and publisher of the Chicago Herald and Examiner, one of the two leading morning newspapers and the leading Sunday newspaper in the City of Chicago.

The Company owns the Hearst Building and Annex located at the northeast corner of West Madison Street and Wacker Drive, opposite the new Chicago Civic Opera building. The Chicago Evening American under lease and the Chicago Herald and Examiner under concurrent sub-lease occupy the entire Annex and approximately 69 per cent of the office building, the balance being available for occupancy by other tenants. A recent independent appraisal of the real estate, buildings and leaseholds indicates a valuation in excess of the principal amount of this issue of Debentures.

Lease-Earnings: The Hearst Building and Annex, exclusive of equipment, have been leased by Illinois Publishing and Printing Company to the Evening American Publishing Company for a period extending beyond the maturity of these Debentures. The payment by the latter Company of $725,000 annually in equal monthly installments directly to Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., as agent under the lease, will be guaranteed by William Randolph Hearst. After deducting amounts sufficient to pay accrued semi-annual interest and proportionate payments of principal to become currently due either through serial maturities or operation of the Sinking Fund, the paying agent will periodically remit the balance of such payments to Illinois Publishing and Printing Company, as will be more particularly set forth in the Indenture.

The Lessee, Evening American Publishing Company, owns and publishes the Chicago Evening American, the largest evening newspaper in Chicago and one of the most profitable newspapers in the extensive Hearst chain.

Independently certified net income of the Illinois Publishing and Printing Company for the calendar year 1929 was $1,011,237 available for interest on these Debentures, depreciation, amortization of leaseholds and Federal Income Tax after giving effect to existing leases, to the inter-company operating agreement of June 30, 1927, modified as of March 1, 1930, and before deduction of net extraordinary and non-recurring items of $502,114.56.

Security: These Debentures will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a closed first mortgage subject to tenants in possession and existing leases, upon all buildings, equipment, physical property, land and leaseholds of the Illinois Publishing and Printing Company upon the satisfaction and discharge of mortgages to be called for payment May 1, and July 1, 1930, funds for which will be deposited with the paying agent from proceeds of this financing. As additional security, the aforesaid lease to the Evening American Publishing Company will be pledged under the Indenture. These Debentures will be unconditionally guaranteed as to the prompt payment of principal, interest and sinking fund by William Randolph Hearst.

Sinking Fund: The Company will provide a sinking fund of $250,000 per annum, beginning March 1, 1933 and operating in equal semi-annual instalments thereafter through Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., thereby retiring all but $375,000 principal amount of these Debentures prior to maturity.

Ownership and Management: The Hearst chain of publications is the largest and most valuable in the world.

HALSEY, STUART & CO.
INCORPORATED

Dated March 1, 1930 and redeemable. Interest payable March 1 and September 1 at the office of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., in New York City or Chicago without deduction for normal Federal Income Tax not in excess of 2% per annum. Coupon Bonds in interchangeable denominations of $1,000 and $500. The Company will agree to reimburse individual holders of these Debentures, upon proper request for certain taxes in Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Maryland, California, Michigan, Massachusetts and the District of Columbia. These Debentures are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to the approval of counsel. It is expected

979,000 NEW HOMES NEED OF 1930

Estimate Conservative, Standard Sanitary Chairman Declares

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, March 28.—A revival in building activity would impart to general trade the motive force required for a restoration of prosperity.

Declining interest rates indicate that the financial barriers to building activity are fast being removed. The next question is whether America is overbuilt, or whether there is economic justification for putting up additional homes. President Hoover, it will be recalled, is of the opinion that America needs additional individual homes.

Clarence M. Woolley, chairman of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corporation, who participated actively in the White House industrial conference last November, is especially qualified to answer this pivotal question concerning housing needs.

"At this time," he points out, "it is important to make the necessary statistical survey to determine whether there is a shortage or a surplus of housing to accommodate the growing population of the country. The census tells us approximately the average annual increase in th number of homes since 1820. Fairly accurate records back to 1880 tell us how many buildings on the average have been destroyed by fire each year. Investigations by statistical agencies indicate the average life of buildings is about 40 years. Combining all of this information we find that in 1930 there should be need for housing for about 979,000 families. Of these 35,000 will be to replace fire losses; 534,000 to replace obsolete homes for that number of families; and 410,000 to take care of the growth in population.

ESTIMATE CONSERVATIVE

"With the population increasing at its present rate and with marriages running at the rate of 1,200,000 per annum, in combination with the obsolescence of old homes, it would seem that the above estimate of new homes required is conservative. And it may be emphatically stated that if this rate of new construction for any reason—high interest rates or other economic causes—be interfered with or delayed, there will develop in due course of time a demand for new building construction to make up an accumulated deficiency. In other words, curtailment in the building industry represents for the most part a postponement of demand and not an extinction thereof."

Current unemployment is in substantial measure an effect of the marked temporary slump in residential construction.

When fully active, the construction industry employs 2,500,000 workers directly, and an additional 2,000,000 are engaged in producing and transporting the raw materials used for construction purposes.

The decline in the income return on high grade bonds is tending to make real estate mortgages look more attractive to the great lending institutions—the life insurance companies and the savings banks.

EMPLOYES AIDED

Eugene G. Grace, dynamic president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, in commenting on the recent suggestion made in this column to the effect that a consortium of corporations supplying building materials should create the means for junior financing for the construction of individual homes, said:

"I know of no better way to give my opinion on your suggestion than to say that in all the districts where we have important interests, we have had for some time past a plan which makes available for our employes the capital for the construction of homes on easy payment terms."

The executive of another large industrial corporation points out:

"I note that you have mentioned the name of our company, together with other companies, in connection with an association to advance funds to the home owner for building purposes. We would not care to express an opinion offhand, but we question very much if the directors of these corporations would be justified in risking money of their stockholders in such a venture. If such a plan were carried out, even on a moderate scale, it would, of course, greatly increase the business activities of the country."

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—Firmness of money rates with the approach of the month-end kept bond trading in narrow bounds today. Some improvement appeared during the earlier dealings, but, with few exceptions, such gains held to less than half a point.

Call funds renewed at 4 per cent. Time loans were unchanged in a dull market.

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

STOCKS MOVE INTO HIGHER GROUND

Utilities Lead General List Up—Merchandising Shares Show Weakness

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—The stock market moved irregularly higher today under the influence of an unexpected decrease in Federal Reserve brokers' loans, and signs of improving business conditions. Weakness cropped out in the baking and merchandising shares, several of which sagged to new 1930 lows, but the general list moved forward under the leadership of the public utilities, amusements and high grade industrials.

Early trading exceeded a million-shares-an-hour rate, with the ticker again unable to keep up with the day's transactions.

Call money renewed at 4 per cent, as against 3½ yesterday, with indications that the official rate would be maintained at that figure over the week-end. A few loans in the outside market were arranged as low as 3½ despite a rather substantial calling of loans. Time money, commercial paper and bankers' acceptance rates held firm.

DROP SURPRISE

Wall street was surprised at the drop of $21,000,000 in brokers' loans as preliminary estimates generally predicted increases of $100,000,000 to $200,000,000.

Indications of an increase in building activity, as reflected in engineering contracts and building permits, were stressed as a bullish factor on the theory that the buying of steel, copper and building materials would be accelerated. February railroad earnings reports, now being published, continue to make unfavorable comparisons with last year.

Coca Cola was the spectacular feature in today's market, soaring more than 10 points to a new high record.

Auburn Auto jumped 6½ points. A. M. Byers, Worthington Pump, Union Carbide, Electric Auto Lite, Dupont, Holland Furnace, National Cash Register and Vanadium Steel sold 3 to nearly 5 points higher.

Warner Bros. Pictures and Paramount Famous Lasky moved into new high ground. Fox Film ran up 3 points.

UTILITIES IN LEAD

Public Utilities continued in the forefront of the advance. American Telephone, Pacific Lighting and Public Service of New Jersey moved into new high ground.

J. C. Penney and R. H. Macy each broke 5 points. Montgomery-Ward sold down more than 3 points and Sears-Roebuck broke to 1930 lows.

Heavy buying was resumed in the utilities and railroads in the final hour, after the delayed ticker had caught up with the market. New York Central, Chesapeke and Ohio, Erie, New Haven, Union Pacific, and transportation shares spurted 1 to 4 points. Electric Power and Light was pushed across 91 into new high territory, and some of the motor accessories were also heavily bought, particularly Electric Auto Lite and Timken Roller Bearing. The closing tone was firm. Total sales approximated 4,700,000 shares.

'Mop' Seeks Higher Valuation by I. C. C.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP.)—The Missouri Pacific Railroad today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix its valuation at $361,054,359 instead of the $238,048,297 as of June 30, 1928, tentatively set by the commission.

For the purpose of producing new evidence to show that its valuation should be higher, the Missouri Pacific and its 10 subsidiary roads asked a complete reopening and reconsideration of the case.

Prince and Whitely Reports Earnings

NEW YORK, March 28.—The Prince-Whitely Trading Corporation reports for the period from September 17, 1929, to February 28, 1930, net income of $1,942,506 after expenses, but before federal taxes, equal, after preferred dividend requirements and deducting estimated federal taxes, to $1.61 a share on 856,000 common shares.

Minnesota Power Plans Expansion

DULUTH, May 28.—The Minnesota Power and Light Company, subsidiary of American Power and Light Company, will construct a steam-electric generating plant on the St. Louis River in Western Duluth, involving eventual expenditure of $18,000,000. The first unit, to cost $3,200,000, will be built this year.

Donahoe's Declares Preferred Dividend

The board of directors of Donahoe's, Inc., declared the forty-ninth consecutive quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share on the first preferred stock and 25 cents per share on the class "A" stock, payable March 31 to record of March 20.

Copperweld Steel Gets Big Contract

The Pure Van Pipe Line Company, subsidiary of the Pure Oil Company, has contracted with the Copperweld Steel Company of Glassport, Pa., for 375 miles of copperweld telephone wire for installation in the New Van, Tex., field, where Pure Oil has large interests.

Stock Exchange Topics

Decline in Brokers' Loans Surprises Wall Street.

INSTEAD of the expected increase of $100,000,000 to $250,000,000 in brokers' loans, the reserve board's statement, issued at the close of yesterday's market, showed a surprising decrease of $21,000,000. Accusations of "money market juggling" were heard in Wall street, but it is conceivable that millions of dollars of loans might have been shifted to non-member banks, while payments of loans against newly issued bonds could have been made by the big institutional buyers. Another explanation is that "the public" has not been coming into the market as freely and as jubilantly as many had been led to believe. If this is the case, the professional bulls and bears have had a merry time chasing each other around the stock exchange floor. Crowdings of the short might easily explain the spirited rise in many stocks to 20-to-40 times net earnings, while new short selling could account for the weakness in many of the mercantiles.

The action of brokers' loans over the past two weeks may be explained to a large extent by non-market factors in view of authorities at Washington.

It has been the experience that around tax payment dates brokers' loans are likely to show an increase, which is likely to run counter to or far ahead of the movement in stocks. This increase is quickly washed out in succeeding weeks.

This seems to have been the case recently for on March 19 loans showed an increase of $121,000,000, which was considerably larger than might ordinarily have been expected. For the week ending March 26 loans showed an unexpected drop, although the market had been active and higher for the period.

LAST year was one of internal reorganization for United States Rubber under the guidance of the Duponts and a reflection of the operating economies then instituted will doubtless be shown to some extent in the annual report of the company for 1930. It is said that old plants have been closed and that the entire organization was revamped to make for more efficient operation. In years gone by Rubber common was one of the most popular trading mediums on the "Big Board" and some of the more far-seeing market students are freely predicting that long pull commitments will prove profitable in time to come.

Recent buying of American sugar is credited to interests identified with the industry who were highly satisfied with the showing made by the company last year and who believe that 1930 will be equally productive of good earnings on operations. In two trying years for the sugar industry American sugar earned its common dividend requirement by a comfortable margin, aided by the low prices which have prevailed for the raw commodity. It is pointed out that with raw sugar prices at a low level the possibility of inventory losses is considerably lessened.

THE death of Nicholas F. Brady, with his interest in a vast number of utility organizations had little effect on the stocks in this section of the list. Although utility issues are selling on a high relation of earnings to quoted prices the best sort of buying is still going on in the seasoned members of this group, especially in stocks of companies whose earnings show consistent monthly advances. The development of the natural gas industry and the possibility of mergers also keeps interest focused on the utility shares.

It is said now that the current strength of General Motors is due to the belief that the corporation will soon release for publication a quarterly report considerably better than the average for the industry. While much is heard about the safety of dividends of some other motor stocks, reports are to the effect that, due mainly to the high rate of sales of General Motor's Chevrolet division, this company will earn its dividend requirement for the period in the initial three months. In other instances, should the regular payments be made, it is belived a large part of the necessary funds will be drawn from surplus accounts.

Reliance Life Sets New Weekly Record

More life insurance was written by salesmen in the Western Pennsylvania department of the Reliance Life Insurance Company of Pittsburgh during the week ending yesterday than in any other week in the history of the agency, according to Manager H. T. Burnett. The leading salesmen for the week were James F. Malone, former president of City Council, and Saul Alexandre. Manager Burnett reports that general business conditions have improved greatly.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP.)—The curb market worked moderately higher in quieter trading today. Considerable week end profit taking appeared in a few of the favorites of earlier in the week, but the market on the whole showed a firmer tone, after the violent backing and filling yesterday.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

Make This At Home

A Delightful New Model

Pattern 1750

Sun-Telegraph 15¢ Practical Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

This charming frock has bodice and hip yoke that point their way to smartness. The skirt is gracefully flared. The frock is sleeveless and the bodice yoke just covers the shoulders in a most becoming line. Small buttons daintily finish the bodice point. The narrow belt is made from the fabric.

Design 1750 is equally lovely if made of cotton or silk—piqué, lawn, dimity, poplee, crepe de chine, etc. A plain color or a print might be chosen with charming results.

Designed only for sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3⅛ yards of 40-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

Our PATTERN BOOK of NEW SPRING and SUMMER STYLES is FIFTEEN CENTS, but only TEN CENTS when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Sun-Telegraph Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth Street, New York City.

1.—Enclose 15 cents in coins.
2.—Write clearly NUMBERS of patterns and SIZE wanted.
3.—Write or print your NAME and ADDRESS plainly.
4.—If you want SUN-TELEGRAPH Style Book send 10c extra.
5—Address your request to

DAILY TRUE STORY

BECAUSE Bertha Benson had charge of the sales accounts for the book publishing house of Ashton & Vance, and Leander Parker had charge of the company's advertising, they worked in the same quiet little office.

Parker's advertising copy brought results.

Miss Benson never failed to let him know of increased sales.

Not all of their books could turn out best sellers. There were many that very nearly became "flops."

Quite often Leander would ask Miss Benson to read the proofs of an outcoming book and let him know what she thought about it.

It often happens—and book publishers will tell you this if they care to confess the truth—that stories the publishers feel will make a big hit really do nothing of the sort, while other stories that get a reader's rating scarcely high enough to make it acceptable, suddenly blossom forth into best sellers.

Take the case of "Modern Savages."

It was the author's first novel. Leander read it and groaned.

"Bertha," he said, "I'm going to give you a headache; please read this drivel. 'Modern Savages' and tell me how I can find anything worth while to blurb about in my advertising copy."

Bertha took the big stack of proofs home with her.

A couple days later she flipped the proofs on Leander's desk.

"Piffle," she said.

"I knew that," Leander told her, reproachfully, "but can't you think of some nice sensational little white lie I can say about it in my copy?"

Bertha giggled. "You can say it's a sure cure for insomnia," she suggested.

"Oh, well, it won't sell anyway," Leander declared, and Bertha agreed.

Good Seller

But "Modern Savages" did sell. The proverbial hot cakes were like a drug on the market compared to the way this story sold. Those clubs that tell you what you must read selected it. Drug store windows flaunted it, a big picture concern paid fabulous money for picture rights and this unknown Mary Peaslee, who had written it, found a fortune pouring into her lap.

"It makes me sick," Bertha told Leander, "this Peaslee person has cleaned up, we'll look—"

She showed Leander a sheet of figures.

He whistled in surprise.

"And I'll bet that Cerise, my maid, could write a better story," Bertha said.

"I wish we had written it," said Leander, "nor that we'd like to have our names on it—" paused to figure profits.

"We could write a better one, I hope," Bertha declared, "and we could use both our names—like, like your first name and my last name, 'Leander Benson.'"

"What could we write about?"

"About seventy thousand words—anything; it would be better than this piffle."

Leander showed her part of an interview with the author he had secured for more advertising copy. She had said, "I draw all my characters from life, changing merely names and settings. My story was merely a bit of life set down on paper."

"It's—it's—"

Young Mr. John Vance, junior partner, was responsible for giving Leander an increase in salary, because he believed the advertising copy had helped the new hit to get over.

Leander went in to thank him and found Olive Ashton there, sitting on the edge of his desk, chatting with him.

"Looks like a romance in the publishing house of Ashton & Vance," Leander said to Bertha as he told her about it.

"Daughter of senior partner marries junior partner—too romantic to be used in a story," was Bertha's comment.

Marriage Suggested

"That's the way the Peaslee freak won her fortune, taking people from real life and writing a story round them."

"Here's our chance to write the story, Leander, be co-authors and make a fortune," Bertha was joking.

"But there's no romance in that—they meet, they marry and keep the fortune all in the family. There must be opposition," Leander argued.

"Let's study them. I'll size up Mr. Vance—he takes me out to luncheon now and then," said Bertha, "and you size up Miss Ashton."

"All right for you, my fair child, but Miss Olive Ashton isn't going places with just the advertising copy writer employed by her august dad."

"There are other ways—take some advertising copy out to the Ashton home some holiday or Sunday and pretend you want it given the official O. K. to get it out next day—old Ashton will ask you to stay for luncheon or something—you meet Miss Ashton and study her."

"What then?" Leander asked.

"Then we'll compare notes and start the story—I'm serious about it, Leander. I could put up with a summer in France and clothes from Paris and things, and you could use a nice sport car and a shore bungalow."

"If the story makes a hit," said Leander, "the natural course of events would be for us to get married, travel, have a villa in Italy and write stories together."

"You're a nice boy, Leander—we might even make a go of that," Bertha agreed.

Bertha took weekly sales accounts in to Mr. Vance, as usual, but she chatted with him more than usual, because she wanted to study him. He took her out for luncheon now and then.

Finally there came a chance for Leander, not a faked chance, but a real one. Leander went out to the Ashton place Saturday morning. Mr. Ashton wouldn't be in, and any advertising campaign that cost above the normal figure the old man had to O. K. himself.

Playing Tennis

Olive Ashton was in the yard, playing with Duke, a Great Dane. She chatted with Leander a few moments and called a servant. The servant came back soon to take Leander into the library.

Mr. Ashton wanted to get away for his golf. He scanned the pages, told Leander to outline the proposition and said, "Go to it, Parker. It's a good idea and your head never seems to come loose from your shoulders."

Someone laughed. It was Olive, who had come into the library.

"There won't be a train back until 4," she said, "so won't you play tennis with me and have luncheon? You can wear a pair of father's old tennis shoes."

"A little play won't kill you," the old man said.

Sunday Leander and Bertha met at Bertha's home and compared notes.

"I've got an idea," said Leander. "You see there is no romance between Mr. Vance and Miss Ashton. They are both intelligent nice young people, and it would be splendid for them to marry and keep the publishing millions all in the family—sort of cut-and-dried—"

"Oh, Leander—wonderful—we'll call our novel 'Cut and Dried' and we'll make it a story of how the seemingly perfect matches aren't so perfect after all—there has got to be real love and romance."

"Bertha, you're clever. We'll show that there's no more thrill in that sort of mating than in going out and buying a pair of shoes."

Thereupon Leander Parker and Bertha Benson became co-authors.

"Cut and Dried" was the title of their book. They planned to outline the first six chapters, then go over them together and so on, through the 20 chapters that were to make "Cut and Dried" a best seller.

"If this makes a lot of money there's the world tour," said Bertha.

"And the villa in Italy," suggested Leander.

"It sounds reasonable," she agreed.

But there was considerable trouble in deciding on their opening chapter.

Then Mr. Ashton had a certain old-time celebrity out at his place and decided that a biography of this once national figure in hard-fisted politics, would make a splendid addition to the company's list of books.

Scheme Works

Mr. Ashton was an astute man. He knew that the old boy, we'll call him Mack Carrigan, which wasn't his name, would protest at first. Mr. Ashton had Bertha and Leander come out to his place. Leander and Mr. Vance and some others would make up a jolly party. They'd get old Carrigan talking. Bertha would be making notes. Leander would whip them into shape and then they'd get Carrigan to agree to tell enough to make the entire volume.

It worked beautifully.

At the end of the first week Bertha complained to Leander that this was slowing up their own best seller, but it couldn't be helped.

At the end of the second week Leander was called into service as tennis player or motor boat expert or dancing partner for Olive Ashton. And Mr. Vance was taking most of Bertha's spare time in discussing the Carrigan biography, when he wasn't dancing or canoeing with her.

Mack Carrigan was wheedled finally into approving of what Leander had roughly outlined, so a trained stenographer was engaged while the others made old Carrigan talk.

Bertha and Leander were back at the office again, but Saturdays and Sundays they always seemed to have dates.

One rainy Sunday, Leander called on Bertha.

"Look here, we aren't getting far with our novel," he said.

"I don't think 'Cut and Dried' is the right title or theme—if we could give it a startling twist, like a couple being tentatively engaged and then suddenly deciding, each one, to marry someone else—er—if—" Bertha hesitated.

"That's exactly my idea, how did you think of it, Bertha?"

"Oh, Leander, I'm sorry—I guess we won't have a villa in Italy, not you and I, you see—well, I'm going to marry Mr. Vance!"

"You angel child!! shouted Leander, "here is a brotherly kiss," and it was just that.

"You see, my dear, we'll forget the darned novel, I'm going to marry Olive in October!"

Either Build Town Hall Or Definitely Reject It

Public Is Tired of Having Commissioners Ignore Voice of People.

Why don't we build the Town Hall?

The public told the County Commissioners to build it nearly two years ago.

As far as the public knows, the project has not advanced in the least toward the point of construction.

Long ago the public began to show signs of impatience at the uncalled for and unreasonable delay. This has been manifested in the action of numerous organizations calling upon the County Commissioners to settle the matter by selecting a site and proceeding to the actual erection of the building.

Thus far the Commissioners have been deaf to the voice of the public. They should open their ears. Either build or declare their intention not to do so. Anything is better than inaction. The public will submit to rejection of its demands with much better grace than it suffers being ignored altogether. The indifference of the Commissioners to the request that they DO SOMETHING is most galling.

The people want the Town Hall. They voiced their desire in the imperative way—at the polls. Hence the plain duty of the Commissioners is to respond to their will. But if they are determined not to do so, let them have the courage to say that and have the matter done with definitely.

Controversy over a site has been revived through the statement of Dr. Bert W. Caldwell, executive secretary of the American Hospital Association, that the convention of that organization could be brought to Pittsburgh if it had a suitable town hall.

The Sun-Telegraph is not interested in controversial points the boosters for this or that site bring up. Furthermore, it feels that prolonging the controversy has not helped, and will not help, the Commissioners in deciding upon a site. It will not relieve them of the criticism of the disappointed no matter what site they select. They may just as well realize that and go ahead and make their own selection—it is a case of damned if they do and damned if they don't.

Build the Town Hall!

Build it as soon as possible as a means of helping labor and industry!

Let us have an end of indecision and inaction!

Change Needed in Our Tariff Making System

If the American people are to be protected in the future n the mess which their senators and representatives in Cons ss have just made of tariff revision, there must be a change he method of tariff making.

First, the Tariff Commission should be reorganized. Its nbership should be enlarged, and its members paid salaries that will command the ablest tariff experts the country can provide.

Then the President should be given ample authority to make such tariff adjustments from time to time as are recommended by the Tariff Commission.

These adjustments would be based upon technical investigation. They would be in the interest of the whole people and not of only one section of the country or of one group of special interests.

These adjustments would follow the general tariff policy established by Congress. THEY WOULD BE FINALLY SUBJECT TO THE CONTROL OF CONGRESS.

Only by adopting some such flexible system of tariff making as a permanent policy can the American people be protected from another such disgraceful and costly mess as the present Congress has made of tariff revision.

A flexible system of tariff making has already met with wide approval. It has been indorsed by representatives of agriculture and industry, by Chambers of Commerce and by eminent economists.

Such a system does not delegate legislative power. It only delegates what Senator Vandenburg, of Michigan, rightly called "MECHANICAL ADMINISTRATION."

For the President would only raise or lower the duties on the recommendation of the Tariff Commission and within the limits prescribed by Congress. The taxing power would remain in Congress.

Now is the time to follow the advice long ago given by Abraham Lincoln and place tariff making "upon a more firm and more durable basis."

And that basis is a flexible tariff system which has been recommended by the President, approved by public sentiment, and should be enacted into law by the present Congress.

Savages?

You Wonder.

Civilization is probably a fine thing, but sometimes you wonder if savagery is not a superior state, after all.

For example, a bulletin from the aborigines of Northern Australia tells how they solve some of life's most vexing problems.

There is no divorce there, and no girl need grow up to be an old maid. Every woman can have a husband if she wants one. A man has got to marry.

To be sure, they have polygamy. But so do we. The only difference is that here it's on the installment plan.

The tribal law of the Australian bushmen also prohibits conversation between a man and his mother-in-law. If that is not humanitarian legislation, what is?

"Bugs" Baer Says:

Recapitulation

MR. HOOVER became a year-old President this month.

His first year in the White House was about average. He had Senators to breakfast, gave interviews to reporters and laid down his unswerving policies to visiting school teachers and Boy Scouts.

"Bugs" Baer

We have had personal contact by complaint blank with many chief executives. All of them seemed to have acted alike when we were around.

We have shaken hands with six Presidents and never lost a finger.

Probably the most invigorating event of the first Hooverized year was the healthy reaction in Wall street last October.

It was a lovely affair while it lasted. And it lasted.

It didn't bother the Democrats. No voodoo doctor ever concocted a fiercer fetish than a judicious blend of Gypsy curses and Democratic hopes in equal quantities.

We have read Mr. Hoover's prosperity bulletins and we hope Mr. Coolidge does better on the side of that mountain.

The next most interesting event was the senatorial investigation of Mr. Grundy of Pennsylvania. The Senate decided that Mr. Grundy has won his spurs and his waste basket. They made him a Senator the next week, which may be construed as either a verdict of guilty or innocent.

The naval parley in London was indorsed by the administration. For the first time in history a king broadcast to an American public. He was good but he wasn't Paul Whiteman.

An amazing episode of the first year was the members of the Republican Club voting for a repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Of course, Mr. Hoover can prove he wasn't there when it happened but he had better cross-question his cabinet. Those children might have got hold of the life of Andrew Jackson.

The Communist riots are not a question of administrations. The cops chased the Reds around the White House fences proving you don't have to be an Australian to take part in an Australian pursuit race.

Money is not quite so loose and Andrew Mellon shows no inclination to have his fingernails cut. Andy did reduce the income tax one per cent, which is almost as happy a thought as putting bright colored bulbs on an electric chair.

Taking it all in all, which we will have to, we consider Mr. Hoover's first year in the White House a full calendar. Mr. Curtis, the visiting vice president, who became famous as Mrs. Gann's brother, kept well in the background and thereby kept well.

THE RETURN FROM MADNESS

By Herbert Kaufman

MR. WICKERSHAM does his Boy Scout bit to assure us that Democracy hasn't ENTIRELY lost common sense. The verdict of the law observance commission on the Jones Act indicates a fast turning of the tide against fanatic and intolerant legislation.

The ex-attorney general of the United States, ardent prohibitionist that he is, cannot reconcile his personal or legal conscience to justify a law "contrary to sound legislative policy," or uphold a measure that "subjects at the discretion, OR LACK OF DISCRETION," of the judge, a man who has committed a comparatively trivial offense, to a very severe penalty, unlike any other crime, that he knows of.

EXCESS always spits in the wind. Bigotry, when drunken with triumph, has never YET failed to revolt majority sentiment by some such tyrannical folly. Bishop Cannon and Dr. Wilson should have known better than to press for the enactment of a statute which, over night, degraded a general social habit into a long-term felony.

The LITERARY DIGEST poll, like Daniel of old, points to the handwriting on the wall and warns the Eighteenth Amendment of wraths to come, if Volsteadism does not soon mend its oppressive ways.

MR. LEGGE, of the Farm Board, LIKEWISE feels called upon to speak up in meeting. Here's a man who knows his European beans as well as every foot of arable land between the coasts.

Twenty years' industrial contact with Europe's political and economic methods, essentially qualify him to conclude that the debenture scheme to drop our excess crop yonder, will inspire boycotts and retaliatory embargoes against American farm products.

HE isn't waving any flags for the power-site GRABBERS inciting further Federal reclamation or irrigation projects, EITHER.

Curing the surplus evil by adding STILL more land to our already cultivated areas, strikes him as a heluva way to REMEDY the situation.

HE MIGHT have added, that the cost of bringing some of these barrens into bearing will reach $230 per acre, at which figure, PLUS ANNUAL WATER CHARGES, the inexperienced boobs who sink their life savings in the properties, like the proverbial cat in the well, will slip back twice as fast as they make headway.

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS.

SOME people have big words all ready to use all the time, and if they don't use one of them they'll use another, and I reckon it comes from being so educated.

Anyhow, one of these educated ladies was leading a big collie dog around on a leash one day in New York, and an old fellow that was a watchman picked up her pocket book for her and handed it to her. She said a word or two to him, and he says, "I love your big dog, Mam. The other one that you had out yesterday I like the best, I think."

"Oh, you're mistaken. They're identical."

"Yes, Mam, I reckon they are, but I always thought the other one was the identicaler of the two."

∴ LISTEN, WORLD ∴

By Elsie Robinson

TAXATION without representation. Thirteen colonies went to war over that phrase. Dumped the tea in Boston Harbor and raised Cain generally. Enter—America.

BUT DON'T TRY TO PULL IT IN A DIVORCE COURT! Sam Howland did. Now Sam's in jail, wondering what price liberty?

It's this way. Sam was divorced year and a half ago. After seven years of marriage, he and the Missis found they couldn't get along. No particular reason. Just one of those kid marriages that didn't take. So Sam said—

"Sorry, old girl, but there's no use going on with this wrangle. Might as well be sensible and friendly. You go your way—I'll go mine. Maybe we both can make fresh starts. I'll give you any of the stuff you want and a decent allowance. You keep Junior and Sister for a while, until I can get a place for them to come to—and I'll come around and see them often. We can't let this hurt the kids."

So, after a lot of tears, it was decided. The Missis was given the divorce on the usual trumped up charge. And Sam thought everything was jake. What a lot Sam had to learn!

Sam's ex-Missis was sore. Sore because Sam had stopped loving her. Sam explained he couldn't help it—honest. But she wouldn't believe it. Like nine out of ten divorced women she was sure there was Another Woman somewhere. Couldn't face the fact that she, herself, could possibly be insufficient for any man. So she felt she was entitled to revenge. How to get it? Easy enough. Hit Sam through the youngsters. Make them hate him because he'd made Poor Mama Cry. Make them refuse to see him—

For even if there wasn't any Other Woman, what right did he have to the children for half time? Whose children were they? HERS! Hadn't she borne them? But Sam was their father—he had supported them! That didn't make any difference. They were HER children. If Sam had stayed with her, she'd have let him enjoy them. But since he hadn't—she'd SHOW HIM.

So she showed him. For a year Sam sent the money regularly—called regularly to see the youngsters. But, somehow, they were usually mysteriously absent. Or, if present, gave him the Dog Eye. Pulled away from him. Wouldn't kiss him. Told him mamma had said he was a Bad, Bad Man.

Twelve months of TAXATION for Sam, but no REPRESENTATION. No chance to get in right with his youngsters, against her secret barrage of hate. No voice in raising his own family. And for why? Simply because he'd committed the unpardonable sin of falling out of love with the Missis.

So Sam got Mad. Said he'd cut off the income if she would not act square. "Ha, ha!" said she, "try and do it and see where you land."

Sam tried it. It landed him in jail. Would the judge listen to Sam's side of the question? He would not. He was a wise judge. Perhaps he wanted to listen. But ladies are voting these days, and it's a smart judge who knows which side his vote is buttered on. So Sam's in jail. Meditating on justice. Wondering why it's such a swell idea for a nation to rebel at TAXATION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION, but such a bum hunch when a husband tries the same racket.

Spring Queries

BLACKBIRD, bluebird, linnet, jay,
Whither are you bound,
Brave wings whirring miles away
With a merry sound?

Snowdrop, bluebell, violet,
Tell me whence you come,
Bearing March a coronet
Through the tawny loam?

Soft breeze, south breeze singing breeze,
Crooning all the day
To the budding willow trees,
What is this you say?

Lambs that frolic, leap and bleat,
Colts that frisk and prance,
Is it true your legs repeat
Springtime's joyous dance?

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

FIRST, though the main trend is always on toward the modern horse, many of the fossil types represent side twins which have died out sooner or later, leaving only the central branch to grow on to culmination.

Second, the horses being a very mobile species which can travel great distances rapidly, have a wide arena for their development.

H. G. Wells

The earliest forms so far found are from the Western United States; but from North America they soon invaded the Old World across a land connection where are now Bering Straits; and the living tide flowed back and forth between the Old World and the New, or was damned back, according as this bridge emerged or was sunk under the waters; it invaded Africa, and flowed down into South America, when the Central American connection came into existence in the late Miocene (V C3) period.

Thus, as climate changed and barriers were bridged, the various types of horse would move from place to place of this wide scene, so that sometimes quite new types suddenly appear in the local record—invaders which were evolved in some other locality where perhaps fossils have not yet been discovered. But in spite of these obscuring factors the story has been clearly worked out; the fossils are so numerous that it can be construed without any doubt at all.

It will repay our trouble if we try to penetrate a little deeper into this representative chapter of life's history. First we may ask what could have been the reasons for this steady evolution in one direction. The answer appears to lie largely in a climatic change.

The evidence of fossil plants makes it clear that during the Cenozoic, from Eocene (V A) to Pliocene (V D), the climate of the north temperate and sub-tropical regions became progressively dried, and that, over much of North America and Eurasia, forest gradually gave place to glades and these to open plains on which the newly-evolved grasses flourished and spread.

It was but natural that a few of the animals from the already crowded forests ventured out to try their luck in the new world that thus presented itself. It was a new, exacting life; the new plants of the plains were wiry and hard to chew, and in a plain, since effective concealment is difficult, one has to run fast.

Some of the adventurers chewed well enough and fled fast enough to survive: the pursuing carnivores had yet to achieve the speed of the wolf.

The earliest four-toed horses were forest-dwellers; they must have lived as their closest surviving relations, the tapirs, live today, moving slowly and warily over soft ground and eating comparatively soft vegetation; but the three-toed forms had for the most part taken to the grazing life of the plains.

The progressive spread of the plains during the rest of the Cenozoic up to the Glacial Epoch (V E) put a premium upon continued improvement in the same direction. Thus the early horses increased and flourished.

Their more conservative forest-dwelling cousins dwindled in numbers as their range was restricted, and in most cases became altogether extinct, while the primitive wolf and the primitive horse were teaching each other speed.

The various stages of this line of evolution have been classified into 11 genera, of which we append the following thumbnail sketches:

Number one is Eohippus from the American Lower Eocene (V A1), the earliest known four-toed horse: of this genus 13 species are now known, ranging in size from a cat to a medium-sized terrier.

It represents the more primitive type of the earliest of our four main stages, still with rudiments of the first and fifth toes on the hind foot. There are also three or four European species of the same age and general character, but with even more primitive teeth, which have been given the name of Hyracotherium.

Orohippus comes second, from the Middle Eocene (V A2), with 10 known species. This lacks the rudimentary hind toes, and its premolar teeth gradually become more molar-like as we pass up in the rock layers from species to species.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 28.—Thoughts while strolling: Intellectuals at the Town Hall noonday lectures. Heywood Broun ambling along like a good natured bear. New York views woven into smocks. The Joe Cannon tilt to Irvin Cobb's cigar. Irving Brokaw, the society skater.

Drake's resturant, where ladies cannot smoke. And always crowded. The Village poet—Lew Ney. Detective Fiaschetti of the Italian squad and his black soft hat. Whatever became of the Black Hand? The scenic artist who somehow suggests an unhappy hippopotamus in grief.

Boys with buttoned shoes who carry chamois gloves and hippity-hop along. H. M. Aylesworth, a Cedar Rapids, Iowa, boy who made good in the city. The interesting window displays in the five and tens. Another old bozo with a dragging garter—goody, goody. Drug stores with balcony restaurants.

A colorful block in midtown—Forty-seventh street between Broadway and Sixth avenue. Flip talking show girls with warm, throaty voices. Comedians "at liberty." Easy money boys who say "K. O." to everything. Touts and panderers, freshly barbered, who breakfast at dusk.

Hand book stationery stores. Robert Littell, dramatic critic of the World. Cellar "take" joints. All night milk stores. Moe Ducore, the theatrical druggist. And his drug store—where stage folk drop in after the play. Just like they do on Main street after supper. Quinn Martin.

Major Bowes and one of my sweethearts—Margaret Illington—out window shopping. And holding hands like schoolday lovers. Always a convention at the Hotel Astor. The Spanish restaurant done in red with a costumed matador as a carriage starter.

Nat Lewis, the haberdasher. And his clerk, Dave Levy, who knows everybody on Broadway. Curb comics. Whatever became of horizontal bar performers—thank goodness. Those flaming red taxis with Jap chauffeurs. Katherine Brush, the novelist. The adagio dancer who teaches Sunday school.

Overheard in a little eavesdropping on a couple in an adjoining room. The lady: "I wouldn't cross on the same ocean with you, let alone the same ship."

The most aggravating people I know are those who drop in on busy days and after a few minutes pick up something and begin to read. I drew three today.

A liner pool story concerning a recent voyage goes the rounds. A low pool crowd saw they had little chance of winning and rigged up a dummy, tossed it into the sea and cried "Man overboard!" The liner circled around and lowered boats. By the time the hoax was discovered the low pool crowd had so slowed up mileage that they won.

Among the social arbiters these days are the roughneck photographers who stand about Park avenue cafes to snapshot debutantes who come swishing along for luncheon. They know instantly who is and who is not eligible for the Sunday rotogravures. The leader of the photographic pack waits for arriving limousines. If, after peeking in, he cries "O. K." all rush out from doorways. If he shakes his head, all remain where they are.

* * *

If the exponent of anthropoid life who rang me up at 3 a. m. and upon inquiring, "Are you there?" and receiving my affirmation should, "All right stay there, clabber-head," thinks that is funny he might be interested to know I do not. And I didn't get back to sleep either.

They are telling of a policeman who was selected for a "type" in a play and clicked. He began to be invited about. At a recent dinner party he turned to a gentleman near him in the reception room and inquired: "Who is that homely woman who looks like an ant-eater?" A deadly calm and then the reply: "That is my wife. She is the hostess and I am the host. Is there anything else I can do for you?"

"Yes," was the eager reply. "Loan me a pistol and show me the way to the bathroom."

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

SOMETIMES you have wondered why it is that you had more friends, apparently, before you reached the commanding position you have attained.

More persons appeared to accept you in the spirit of good fellowship.

And that is just what they did.

Then you were one of them, on the same plane and with no more responsibilities than they had.

Now it is different, for you have stepped a notch above your past.

They cannot meet you on the same basis—you have assumed obligations, in the carrying out of which you must make rules to be followed closely.

The degree to which you will be criticized will depend very much upon the manner you assume in giving orders, or the way you carry yourself.

If you are arrogant and demanding you will create ill-will and will not get the best of results.

Trying your best to be just will not save you from censure.

You must pay the price for being above the ordinary.

The fellow following along with the majority does not do anything to attract unfavorable attention to himself as a target.
